Board Votes Funds Shift For Welfare

$4 Million To Be Made Available To Counties Quickly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The controlling board acted today to relieve Ohio's welfare crisis.

All five members voted for transfer of $4 million for immediate use in state payments to aid the blind, dependent children, the disabled, old age pensioners and those on poor relief.

But the board tied a string to its approval. Members said transfers should be made only after certification by Finance Director James H. Maloon that the money is available in the state treasury.

Clinton V. Oster, assistant to Maloon who presided at the meeting, said the treasury balance had only $850,000 in cash as of Thursday. He said about $14 million in revenue payments was expected before mid-December.

Members said there would be some delay in early December welfare payments but that the situation should soon right itself.

Sen. William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, senate finance committee chairman, said the transfer of funds appropriated for future use, to meet current emergencies, was like playing Russian roulette.

"I refuse to subscribe to a policy of fund juggling," he told the board. "If the governor refuses to cut back I intend to call him before this board and have him explain how he expects to make the future payments."

Deddens suggested Thursday that the governor make an across the board cut in state department operating funds to meet the relief problem.

Deddens also demanded that Welfare Director Mary Gorman Clarify a letter she sent to city and county officials saying that welfare payments would be slashed unless the controlling board approved fund transfers. The senator asserted that the letter created an erroneous impression about state poor relief subsidies to counties.

On the motion of Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, house finance committee chairman, the board insisted that transfers from the April quarter allocation be tapped for aid to the blind, the aged and the disabled. Transfer of funds for poor relief and to aid dependent children should be transfered from January quarter funds.

"The granting of these transfers ought not to be construed as an action supporting higher levels of spending than are authorized by legislative appropriations," Fisher said. "It is solely an attempt to assist the welfare department to meet a situation for which the controlling board is in no wise responsible . . .

"It would seem advisable for the welfare department and local welfare agencies to review their present programs in aid for dependent children and poor relief in order that they may stay within existing appropriations."

County Welfare Cuts Might Be Restored

LISBON — A Columbiana County Welfare Department spokesman said today that if additional welfare funds will be made available by the state, the cutbacks in payments for 403 county families will be restored for December.

Reduced payments were ordered earlier this week for checks to be mailed Thursday because the county had not received matching funds from the state. The spokesman said if the funds are received, another check will be mailed.

Stores Add Half Hour To Saturday Schedule

In a unique innovation in extended Christmas season hours, East Liverpool stores will add a half-hour to their schedules Saturday, remaining open until 5:30.

The 5:30 closing also will be observed on two other Saturdays in the gift-shopping season — Dec. 9 and Dec. 23. On Saturday, Dec. 16, the stores will be open from 9:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m., another phase of the extended schedule of hours worked out by the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

An Editorial

Life Or Death!

The American pottery industry, already reeling from the effects of a devastating avalanche of foreign imports, is bracing for another blow that could sound the death knell for between 5,500 to 6,000 handcraft artisans.

The industry, buffeted against the rocks of economic disaster by the mountainous waves of Japanese imports, already has lost much of the U.S. market for home tableware and now faces the prospect of being inundated on an island of manufacture that has been exclusively its own — the production of "hotel china."

And who is doing anything to forestall it?

Not the United States government, whose reciprocal trade policies have offered no shred of relief for that segment of the industry which over the last 12 or 13 years has gone down the financial drain.

The only hope of averting a new crisis apparently rests, strangely enough, with the Japanese themselves.

DURING ALL THE YEARS when American potteries were falling victims to the ravages of imports of home tableware, the Japanese pottery industry never has attempted to produce vitrified hotel china, because it meant converting and altering the physical equipment in its factories.

There was and still is in effect a ban on this type of production by the Japan Pottery Exports Association, which refuses license for the export from Japan of such a commodity.

It is proposed presently that this ban be lifted and that licenses be granted for the Japanese potteries to export to the United States 500,000 dozen pieces of this product each year. Nobody is deluding himself that this would be anything more than a start-a-foot-in-the-door maneuver.

There is only one scant source of comfort. From past experience, it is known that the Japanese are conscious of the possibility of upsetting the trade they already are enjoying in pottery products in this country.

In fact, they may be in a mood to let well enough alone — for the time being at least.

But what of the future?

No American industry can survive if its very existence depends on the whim of a foreign competitor.

VITRIFIED HOTEL CHINAWARE is used in the service of food by hotels and restaurants, the Army, the Navy, the Marines and the Veterans Administration throughout the country.

It is made only in the United States. It is a heavier-weight china, developed in this country for the specific needs of American hotels and restaurants. It is made to federal specifications.

This product is manufactured by a unique firing process developed in this country and not now used in any other country in the world.

In other words, it is purely American.

THE AWESOME IMPACT of import competition is not unique with the pottery industry. Other industries, large and small, have walked and are walking the economic tight rope. Some have fallen to destruction. Others continue to survive with sharply curtailed production schedules and fewer and fewer employes.

The importance of foreign trade, economically and politically, is well established.

The principle of buy and sell on the one hand and of sell and buy on the other is unassailable.

The pottery industry in the United States already has borne more than its fair share of the burden incident to a philosophy of free competition in the world market.

Thus it cannot be accused of undue interference with our national trade policy if it expects protection of that portion of the total pottery market that is not only the product of its own genius but its last hope for survival.

Peter Amato Appointed To State Education Group

Peter N. Amato, Wellsville realtor, was named by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle Thursday to the newly-created Ohio Higher Education Assistance Commission.

Operator of the Pete Amato Real Estate Agency, Amato, 41, was one of nine Ohioans named to the commission established by the last legislature.

A lifetime resident of Wellsville, he has operated the real estate agency since 1958 and is president of the Greater Wellsville Improvement Association.

He was graduated from Wellsville High School, and attended the College of Commerce of Ohio State University, later studying real estate at Youngstown University.

A son of the late Nick and Angela Amato, he is a member of the East Liverpool Board of Realtors, and the state and national organizations, Hammond Park Commission, and Immaculate Conception Catholic Church.

Notified of his selection, Amato commented, "I feel greatly honored by the appointment to serve on the commission. I will serve to the best of my ability."

Amato, Philip F. Searle, an Ashtabula banker, and Arch Anderson, Toledo banker, were named in terms to expire in 1963.

Named to terms to expire in 1962 were Frank G. Anger, Dayton banker; Dan DeHayes of Columbus, official of Ohio Independent Telephone Association, and Jack S. Marks, of the Chillicothe Gazette.

Yanks Defy Soviets On Super-Road

Reds Permit Unit To Go On Despite Strict Inspection

BERLIN (AP)—More American military units rolled over Berlin's autobahn lifeline to the West today in defiance of a Soviet warning that such troop movements could lead to "dangerous consequences."

The Soviets, who control the 110-line superhighway through Communist East Germany, tightened their inspection of U.S. convoys but made no attempt to stop them.

Six vehicles forming the last section of a U.S. convoy which set out for West Germany this morning were halted at the Soviet checkpoint outside West Berlin when the Soviets found an error in their travel documents.

The U.S. autobahn operations officer, Capt. Harry Daniels, was called to straighten out their papers and the three jeeps and three trucks were allowed to go on after an hour and 14 minutes.

The documentation error was believed to be technical and apparently it was cleared up without a dispute.

The first two sections of the 150-man convoy passed through the checkpoint without incident.

Normally the Soviet guards make only a routine count of the men and vehicles described in the travel papers handed them, taking only 20 to 25 minutes.

The U.S. Army has been shuttling 150-man units from West Germany to West Berlin, and from West Berlin to West Germany, for brief training periods since soon after the crisis created by the Communist wall dividing Berlin.

The U.S. Army says the rotation is necessary because West Berlin is too cramped for extensive training maneuvers and troops in West Germany need experience under Berlin conditions. But the traffic is generally considered a demonstration of U.S. determination to maintain its rights on the autobahn.

In the first Soviet protest against the traffic, the Soviet news agency Tass spoke of the "provocative character of this action." It charged that since U.S. troops in West Germany serve the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, their maneuvering in West Berlin "means the inclusion of West Berlin in the aggressive military bloc of NATO."

Meanwhile, U.S. Army headquarters for Europe announced more movements will be made. It said the 1,500-man 1st Battle Group, 19th Infantry, 24th Division will soon move into Berlin from West Germany to replace the 1st Battle Group, 18th Infantry 8th Division.

Taft Says He'll Run For Congress In '62

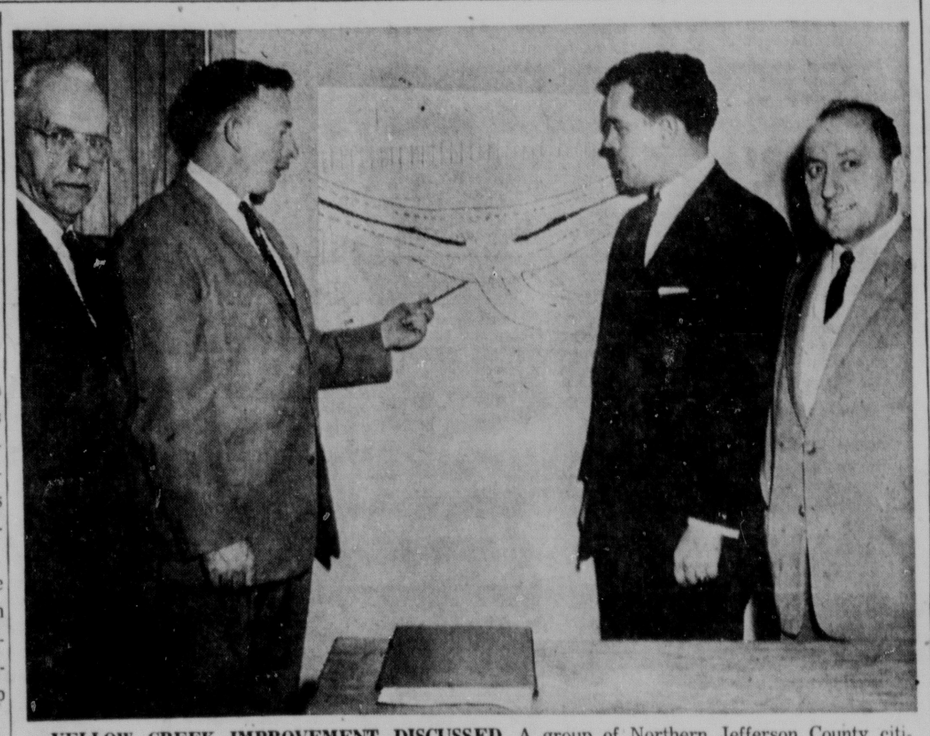

CINCINNATI (AP)—Robert Taft Jr., son of the late U.S. senator, announced today he would be a 1962 candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman at large from Ohio.

Taft, who announced several weeks ago he would not run for re-election to the Ohio House of Representatives, thus took himself out of consideration for the nominations for either senator or governor.

He had been mentioned in connection with both jobs.

Ohio will elect a congressman at large in statewide voting next year since the legislature did not redistrict the state under the 1960 census in which Ohio picked up an extra representative in Congress.

Taft made his announcement at a televised news conference.

YELLOW CREEK IMPROVEMENT DISCUSSED. A group of Northern Jefferson County citizens made plans to ask Highway Director Everett Preston for a grade separation at Yellow Creek at a meeting Thursday night. Huddled around a map of the junction, from the left, are Supt. C. P. Henderson of Stanton Local Schools; William McKenna, division 11 deputy director, and State Reps. Douglas Applegate and Michael Blischak of Jefferson County. Supt. Henderson presided at the meeting near Hammondsville.

Preston Will Get Intersection Plea

By CHARLES CRONIN

Ohio director of highways Everett S. Preston can expect a knock on the door of his Columbus office soon by a committee seeking construction of a grade separation at Yellow Creek.

A group of citizens and officials from Northern Jefferson County has decided to carry the fight for improvements of the junction south of Wellsville directly to the highway director.

THE PLAN to confer with Preston was the procedure agreed to at a meeting Thursday night with William McKenna, Division 11 deputy director of the highway office at New Philadelphia, and other aides.

The group emphasized in an orderly, two- hour discussion with the Division 11 director the dangers existing at the junction of Routes 7 and 213.

Lying in an area subject to dense periodic fog, the intersection has been the site of numerous traffic mishaps since Route 7 was widened into four lanes two years ago. Four have perished in crashes at the Yellow Creek site since 1959.

The group also stressed the dangers existing for Stanton Local School District buses crowded with children that use the junction daily in the early morning hours when a pocket of fog shrouds the site, limiting visibility.

THE GROUP made it clear to McKenna and aides that it doesn't believe overhead lighting along the two roads is the answer.

The department started work several weeks ago on illuminating the intersection with 10 mercury luminaires of 400-watt power at locations along the two roads.

Work ceased shortly after it started, however, when an unidentified union obtained an injunction against the highway department, contending private contractors had not been permitted to file bids for the project.

McKenna said work on the $5,000 lighting project is expected to be resumed within 30 days, while the Ohio Power Co. negotiates with the Pennsylvania Railroad for a right-of-way to string a circuit over the railroad property to the site.

Governor Raps Legislature

Money Bills To Be Law Without DiSalle Signing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—While sharply critical of the Republican-led legislature, Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced today he is allowing two big money bills to become law without his signature.

He called the failure of the GOP lawmakers to meet the financial needs of the state as he sees them "a reckless attitude." DiSalle accused the legislators of "a rather calloused disregard for the inevitable" because they refused to adopt a higher appropriation for 1962-63 in the face of his veto of the original money measure for that year.

In order to make his position clear, the governor said he went through the big bill appropriating $1,022,732,811 to run the state for the year starting July 1 and specifically approved items totaling $496.3 million.

He refused to approve a total of $526.3 million on grounds the appropriations for education, welfare, mental health and industrial and economic development are entirely inadequate.

He didn't lay a pen on the $33.4 million bill to authorize state construction in the two-year budget period which started last July 1.

But, with reference to that measure, he said in a prepared statement:

"I certainly cannot in good conscience approve the action of the majority (the GOP) in being so totally blind to the needs that are clear to the most uninitiated-let alone elected representatives who should be knowledgable."

The governor's method of allowing the appropriation bills to become law by approving some items and withholding approval on others was as unusual as his un-

Miners Reject New Plan To Settle Strike

Porter Withdraws Revised Offer After Union's Turndown

In action which the H. K. Porter Co. termed "surprising," striking workers of the Pleasant Valley Clay Mine at Wellsville Thursday rejected by a substantial vote a revised company offer of a contract.

Porter officials in Pittsburgh today announced that the offer, which had been presented originally Thursday, has been withdrawn.

Twenty-five of the 27 miners rejected the offer by vote at a meeting Thursday afternoon in Wellsville American Legion Post 70.

There was no official announcement of the results, but Edward Bauer of Irish Ridge Rd., international representative, said it was rejected by the majority.

The miners have been on strike since Oct. 16. They are members of Local 427.

The Porter company made the revised offer Thursday and put it in writing for the local to consider at its meeting.

Lloyd C. Jenkins, industrial relations director of the Porter company, said the rejection of the revised offer was "surprising" and that "the company felt that the offer of Nov. 28 was more than fair and reasonable."

He added that the Porter company has withdrawn the offer.

There was no announcement today for further negotiations and none is believed anticipated by G. W. Woomer, federal conciliator from the Pittsburgh office of the Federal Mediation Board.

However, both the company and the union are authorized legally to call a negotiation session any time.

Woman Loses Leg In Freak Gun Mishap

IMPERIAL — A 50-year-old woman is in serious condition today at Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh following a freak shooting mishap Thursday night at her home.

Pennsylvania State Police at Carnegie said Peg Marshall underwent amputation of a leg early today after a loaded shotgun fell over and discharged as it struck the floor.

State Police said first reports were the woman had the loaded gun because of a report of prowlers outside. Still unsure how the accident happened, police said the investigation is continuing.

Soviet Plea Seeks Okay For Peiping

U.S. Believes It Still Can Keep It Out Of World Body

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The question of seating Communist China in the United Nations comes up for decisive debate in the General Assembly today. The United States has scrapped a plan to delay a showdown vote for another year but believes it can still keep the Peiping regime out of the world body.

The explosive debate, which the United States managed to postpone for 10 years, opens with an appeal by the Soviet Union to seat Peiping in place of Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalists and a call by the United States to keep the Communists out.

The United States and other supporters of the Nationalists decided to meet the Soviet demand headon after getting a cool reception from most other members for their proposal to dump the question back to the next assembly.

A U.S. spokesman said instead a resolution was being placed before the 103-nation assembly to declare the China question an issue of "substance" which will have to be settled by a two-thirds majority.

U.S. delegates believe the Communists will be unable to muster such a vote behind the Red Chinese, even with heavy support from the 49-nation Asian-African group.

The U.S. spokesman said he had a "fairly reasonable expectation" that the Nationalist Chinese would still have their seats at the end of the assembly debate.

Elsewhere in the U.N.:

The Soviet Union used the veto in the Security Council to kill a United Arab Republic resolution recommending admission of the oil-rich sheikdom of Kuwait as the U.N.'s 104th member.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin cast the sole negative vote in the 11-nation council.

Zorin used the veto after he failed to win council approval for a proposal to postpone consideration of Kuwait's application until after settlement of Iraq's claim that the little sheikdom is Iraqi territory.

2 Canton Men Held To Court

Grand Jury Due Counterfeiting Case

Two Canton men accused of possession of counterfeit bills were bound over to U. S. District Court at Cleveland for Grand Jury action after waiving preliminary hearings before the federal commissioner at Youngstown Wednesday.

Norbert E. Stevens, 40, and Sam Mesarris, 46, were arrested Wednesday by East Liverpool police.

The arrest came within a few minutes after the Columbiana County sheriff's office broadcast an alert that two men had passed six bogus $1 bills for gasoline at a Lisbon service station. Police said the men were en route to the racetrack at Waterford Park.

Police found $92 in a money belt and $42 under the front seat of the car.

The service station attendant, Roger McGaffick, 21, said he became suspicious when the driver opened his wallet and he saw many new $1 bills inside. The passenger, Stevens, also was holding several new bills.

U. S. Commissioner Henry Robinson set bond for each man at $5,000.

Governor Raps Legislature

Money Bills To Be Law Without DiSalle Signing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—While sharply critical of the Republican-led legislature, Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced today he is allowing two big money bills to become law without his signature.

He called the failure of the GOP lawmakers to meet the financial needs of the state as he sees them "a reckless attitude." DiSalle accused the legislators of "a rather calloused disregard for the inevitable" because they refused to adopt a higher appropriation for 1962-63 in the face of his veto of the original money measure for that year.

In order to make his position clear, the governor said he went through the big bill appropriating $1,022,732,811 to run the state for the year starting July 1 and specifically approved items totaling $496.3 million.

He refused to approve a total of $526.3 million on grounds the appropriations for education, welfare, mental health and industrial and economic development are entirely inadequate.

He didn't lay a pen on the $33.4 million bill to authorize state construction in the two-year budget period which started last July 1.

But, with reference to that measure, he said in a prepared statement:

"I certainly cannot in good conscience approve the action of the majority (the GOP) in being so totally blind to the needs that are clear to the most uninitiated-let alone elected representatives who should be knowledgable."

The governor's method of allowing the appropriation bills to become law by approving some items and withholding approval on others was as unusual as his un-

Miners Reject New Plan To Settle Strike

Porter Withdraws Revised Offer After Union's Turndown

In action which the H. K. Porter Co. termed "surprising," striking workers of the Pleasant Valley Clay Mine at Wellsville Thursday rejected by a substantial vote a revised company offer of a contract.

Porter officials in Pittsburgh today announced that the offer, which had been presented originally Thursday, has been withdrawn.

Twenty-five of the 27 miners rejected the offer by vote at a meeting Thursday afternoon in Wellsville American Legion Post 70.

There was no official announcement of the results, but Edward Bauer of Irish Ridge Rd., international representative, said it was rejected by the majority.

The miners have been on strike since Oct. 16. They are members of Local 427.

The Porter company made the revised offer Thursday and put it in writing for the local to consider at its meeting.

Lloyd C. Jenkins, industrial relations director of the Porter company, said the rejection of the revised offer was "surprising" and that "the company felt that the offer of Nov. 28 was more than fair and reasonable."

He added that the Porter company has withdrawn the offer.

There was no announcement today for further negotiations and none is believed anticipated by G. W. Woomer, federal conciliator from the Pittsburgh office of the Federal Mediation Board.

However, both the company and the union are authorized legally to call a negotiation session any time.

The main issue hinges on wages

Woman Loses Leg In Freak Gun Mishap

IMPERIAL — A 50-year-old woman is in serious condition today at Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh following a freak shooting mishap Thursday night at her home.

Pennsylvania State Police at Carnegie said Peg Marshall underwent amputation of a leg early today after a loaded shotgun fell over and discharged as it struck the floor.

State Police said first reports were the woman had the loaded gun because of a report of prowlers outside. Still unsure how the accident happened, police said the investigation is continuing.

Soviet Plea Seeks Okay For Peiping

U.S. Believes It Still Can Keep It Out Of World Body

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The question of seating Communist China in the United Nations comes up for decisive debate in the General Assembly today. The United States has scrapped a plan to delay a showdown vote for another year but believes it can still keep the Peiping regime out of the world body.

The explosive debate, which the United States managed to postpone for 10 years, opens with an appeal by the Soviet Union to seat Peiping in place of Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalists and a call by the United States to keep the Communists out.

The United States and other supporters of the Nationalists decided to meet the Soviet demand headon after getting a cool reception from most other members for their proposal to dump the question back to the next assembly.

A U.S. spokesman said instead a resolution was being placed before the 103-nation assembly to declare the China question an issue of "substance" which will have to be settled by a two-thirds majority.

U.S. delegates believe the Communists will be unable to muster such a vote behind the Red Chinese, even with heavy support from the 49-nation Asian-African group.

The U.S. spokesman said he had a "fairly reasonable expectation" that the Nationalist Chinese would still have their seats at the end of the assembly debate.

Elsewhere in the U.N.:

The Soviet Union used the veto in the Security Council to kill a United Arab Republic resolution recommending admission of the oil-rich sheikdom of Kuwait as the U.N.'s 104th member.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin cast the sole negative vote in the 11-nation council.

Zorin used the veto after he failed to win council approval for a proposal to postpone consideration of Kuwait's application until after settlement of Iraq's claim that the little sheikdom is Iraqi territory.

2 Canton Men Held To Court

Grand Jury Due Counterfeiting Case

Two Canton men accused of possession of counterfeit bills were bound over to U. S. District Court at Cleveland for Grand Jury action after waiving preliminary hearings before the federal commissioner at Youngstown Wednesday.

Norbert E. Stevens, 40, and Sam Mesarris, 46, were arrested Wednesday by East Liverpool police.

The arrest came within a few minutes after the Columbiana County sheriff's office broadcast an alert that two men had passed six bogus $1 bills for gasoline at a Lisbon service station. Police said the men were en route to the racetrack at Waterford Park.

Police found $92 in a money belt and $42 under the front seat of the car.

The service station attendant, Roger McGaffick, 21, said he became suspicious when the driver opened his wallet and he saw many new $1 bilis inside. The passenger, Stevens, also was holding several new bills.

U. S. Commissioner Henry Robinson set bond for each man at $5,000.

Yellow Creek Plea Planned With Preston

either an overpass or underpass at the junction, possible solutions for traffic safety, and how to proceed with a plan of boosting the priority of the proposal within the highway department's programs.

McKenna said he was not opposed to the improvement plan, and had already sent a prepared estimate and program form to Preston's office for assignment of a priority number.

A grade separation would cost approximately $250,000, McKenna said.

"I can't say we can start on the plans tomorrow, I just don't know where the money would come from," McKenna told the group of 32.

HE ADDED that funds contributed by the federal government to match the state's share in such improvements have already been earmarked for other projects seven months in advance.

McKenna was also asked if the contractor selected to construct a new 2½-mile section of Route 7 south of the intersection would not agree to dump excavated dirt at Yellow Creek as a fill for an overpass, with work continuing later by the state highway department whenever funds are available.

McKenna replied the proposal is impossible, because it would be in violation of contract terms as bids already have been opened.

"Other contractors would not agree to this, they would claim that we gave the successful bidder a place to dump his waste dirt without charge," McKenna pointed out.

He added another problem would arise in that the trucks dumping the waste would be limited to legal-weight loads over Route 7 from the construction site to Yellow Creek.

S. J. GROVES & Sons Co., Inc., of Minneapolis is the apparent low bidder for the new 2½-mile stretch of Route 7 from a point north of Stratton to Flagpole Hill south of the junction. Groves bid $2,623,975.

School Supt. C. P. Henderson of Irondale acted as spokesman for the group, and the majority in the audience in a small hall near Hammondsville offered comments on the necessity of a grade separation.

Thomas Lysle of Hammondsville, employe of the Sterling China Co., used a self-prepared map of the junction to clarify the traffic dangers confronting motorists.

Lysle said the particular hazard involved is emerging from Route 213 and crossing in fog over the two south-bound lanes of Route 7 in order to turn north towards Wellsville.

THERE IS similar danger when attempting a turn from the inner north-bound lane of Route 7 and proceeding across the two south-bound lanes in order to reach Route 213, he added.

Lysle also declared that a school bus waiting to swing from the north-bound lane of Route 7 across the road to Route 213 is "a sitting target for a runaway steel truck."

The noise made by passing freight trains accentuates the danger as motorists cannot hear sounds of approaching vehicles, he said.

"I believe the only possible solution is either the construction of an overpass or underpass," Lysle said.

Lysle also questioned the merits of flashing blinker lights installed by the highway department on Route 213, about 100 yards from the junction. "We don't have trouble stopping, we have trouble starting again," he added.

SEVERAL voiced opinions that the overhead lights being erected along the roads will not penetrate dense fog enough to provide substantial illumination.

Dr. William S. Banfield of Irondale questioned why the highway department could afford to spend $4 million on construction of the "super - highway" segment of Route 7, purchase the McCullough Children's Home property, and not build a grade separation for only a small percentage of the cost of the entire project.

McKenna then cited the lack of funds allocated by the Bureau of Planning in Columbus, and added if Preston approved the project, it would have high priority.

McKenna said there is no yardstick to judge the necessity of a grade separation, as the department considers other things in addition to the actual number of vehicles using the junction.

"IF THE count of cars depends on the importance of an improvement, than fog should certainly double its value," declared Gary Frampton of Hammondsville, employe of Sterling. He added that "if one school bus gets hit by a steel truck, it will be too late then."

Mayor Quenton Henderson of Irondale commented: "We feel there has been a mistake made at this intersection, and I feel we have grounds to stand on."

"We're happy to have the lights installed, but we're not satisfied. I don't know engineering, but I know mistakes can happen. We're glad for what we're getting, but we are still going to complain."

Another's proposal that stop lights be placed at the junction was discounted quickly by both the group and McKenna.

"TRAFFIC MOVES near 60 miles an hour on Route 7, and stop lights would only be begging rear-end collisions even in good weather," McKenna replied.

Frank Gruszecki, postmaster in Hammondsville, was told by McKenna "it's too late" when he asked if the waste dirt could not be trucked to the junction from the new Route 7 link by the contractor as fill for an overpass.

Keith Cline, clerk at the Dando Brick Co. in Hammondsville, said drivers of trucks hauling bricks try to leave the plant near the noon hour to "miss the fog." They set out flares along the road before crossing the junction, he said.

Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville cited the potential of the area with a new dam at Stratton, new Ohio Edison Co. power plant, and new $1½ million high school in Hammondsville. "It will behoove us all to weigh these suggestions," he said.

NEW OFFICER. Paul C. Blevins, 22, of 1618 Cleveland Ave., is the newest member of the East Liverpool police force. He was named Thursday by Safety-Service Director Robert Owen to fill the vacancy created by the recent promotion of W. E. McDaniel to a lieutenant's post.

McKENNA promised the group he will act quickly in setting up an appointment with the yet unnamed committee to meet with Preston.

Several volunteered, including Mayor Henderson, and State Rep. Michael Blischak. In closing remarks, the spokesman told the highway officials, "We seem to be all in accord here that we are not satisfied with less than a grade separation. I warn that we will not stop until we get results, we will keep plugging away."

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, representing Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, promised his full support to the committee's bid for improvements. Rep. Hays wired the group that he would be represented by Gosney.

OTHERS present included State Rep. Douglas Applegate, Quay Bair, Bob Jenkins and Don Longshore of the state highway department.

McKinley Crook, Stanley Baker, Arch Wardeska and Kenneth Burgett of the Stanton Board of Education; John Boyle, Wesley Glenn and Frank Scarabino, Saline Township trustees; James Paisley and Robert Paisley, Irondale merchants.

Some diplomats considered the Soviet veto evidence of a widening rift between the Soviets and U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser, once the Arab darling of the Soviet Union. Kuwait's application had the backing of all Arab states except Iraq.

The assembly's main political committee adopted by acclamation an Irish resolution calling on the nuclear powers to work out an agreement to stop the spread of atomic or hydrogen bombs to nations that don't have them. The committee action assured adoption of the resolution by the General Assembly.

Earlier Thursday the committee, by a 57-12 vote, approved a resolution calling on all nations not having nuclear weapons to join in a pledge not to manufacture them, accept them from other nations or allow them to be stockpiled on their territory. The United States and most of its allies in the North Atlantic Treaty organization voted against the resolution because they believe stockpiling of U.S. nuclear weapons in Europe is necessary for defense against Soviet attack.

9 Penalized In Road Cases

Nine area motorists were penalized for traffic violations Thursday in County Judge Herbert Arfman's Court at East Palestine.

Joseph J. Reece of R. D. 2 forfeited $15 bond on a charge of failure to display license plates, and William J. Poynter of Wellsville R. D. 1 was fined $10 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Charged with speeding, Donald Woolf, 435 Broadway, Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs, and Kenneth Stump of East Palestine R. D. 1 and Duane Clunk, 232 N. Beaver St., Lisbon, forfeited $15 bonds.

Lilly Buchanan of Lisbon R. D. 4 was fined $10 and costs for crossing the yellow line; Katherine Dyke of Negley, $10 and costs for failure to yield the right-of-way; Donald Curran of Rogers R. D. 1, $10 for passing at an intersection, and Fred Carlisle of Lisbon R. D. 2, $10 for failure to stop at an intersection.

precedented veto of an entire years budget allowance for all state programs.

He said he had hoped that in the separate consideration of the appropriation for the second year of the biennium the legislature would make provision for the growth of key state programs.

"However," he observed, "the majority party in the 104th General Assembly, with rather calloused disregard for the inevitable, refused to reconsider any of these appropriations with the exception of minor adjustments for higher education and a questionable appropriation by 'trick' for mental hygiene. I say questionable because real doubt must exist on the legality of a General Assembly borrowing from the future without constitutional authority."

The governor referred to a stipulation in the budget bill that the department of mental hygiene and correction payroll for the last two weeks of the 1962-63 fiscal year be paid out of funds which will be appropriated for the following year.

"I cannot overlook the possibility that some one will test that device in the courts," he told newsmen.

"To continue to duck, defer, demure and decry may deceive, but it does not solve our needs," the governor said in his formal statement.

"The inevitable result will be to necessitate increased student fees for those seeking higher education at our state universities; reduce the subsidies for the aged, the dependent child, the blind and the disabled; further dilute an already inadequate program for juveniles; injure the quality of an already inadequate correction program and turn the mental hygiene program into one in which warehousing and custody of patients will take precedence over treatment.

"It may not be the intention of the majority party to penalize the sick or the needy, but its actions will produce this result."

Sales Tax Biggest Revenue In 30 States

CHICAGO (AP) — Sales tax collections furnished the greatest single source of revenue in 30 states during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961.

Commerce Clearing House says a total of $4½ billion was collected from the source.

State income taxes were a major source in 14 states during the year.

Fred Payne, president of Local 427, presided at yesterday's meeting. Bauer and James Gatehouse, also an international representative and clayworkers vice president, were present.

Meanwhile, a meeting is scheduled Tuesday at which a contract will be presented by Porter company for consideration of ratification by Local 428, a newly-formed local for the clerks and laboratory and draftsmen employes at Wellsville.

The company is presently typing the contract which will be the first to be presented to the membership for consideration.

Palestine Residents Advised Of Mail Plan

EAST PALESTINE — With Christmas season deliveries to be made only once a day — instead of twice daily in previous years —under a postal department regulation, residents have been asked by Postmaster Harry Andrus to provide additional cartons or containers to receive the larger amount of mail in the one delivery.

Because of the reduced deliveries, only three extra postal workers will be hired for the season instead of the customary seven.

At least one of the extra posts will be filled from Civil Service lists, while 50 applications have already been received for the others, Andrus said.

Pennsylvanian Has Election Foresight

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Hamilton Tanney of suburban Mount Lebanon felt sure back in August he would be elected justice of the peace in the November election.

So, when the telephone company revised its phone directories in August, Tanney had himself listed as a justice of the peace in both the main directory and the yellow pages.

Vandals Damage Business Places

Property at three East End business places was damaged by vandals Thursday night and early today, police reported.

Stones were hurled through five windows, each 14-x-20 inches, in the east side of the Pennsylvania Ave. building occupied by S. & G. Distributors, officers said. Formerly Duquesne Distributors, the wholesale beer agency is in the former traction company carbarn, officers said. The damage was reported at 8:30 this morning.

A large plate glass window was broken sometime overnight in the new building of Parsons Studebaker Sales & Service, a few blocks further east on Pennsylvania Ave.

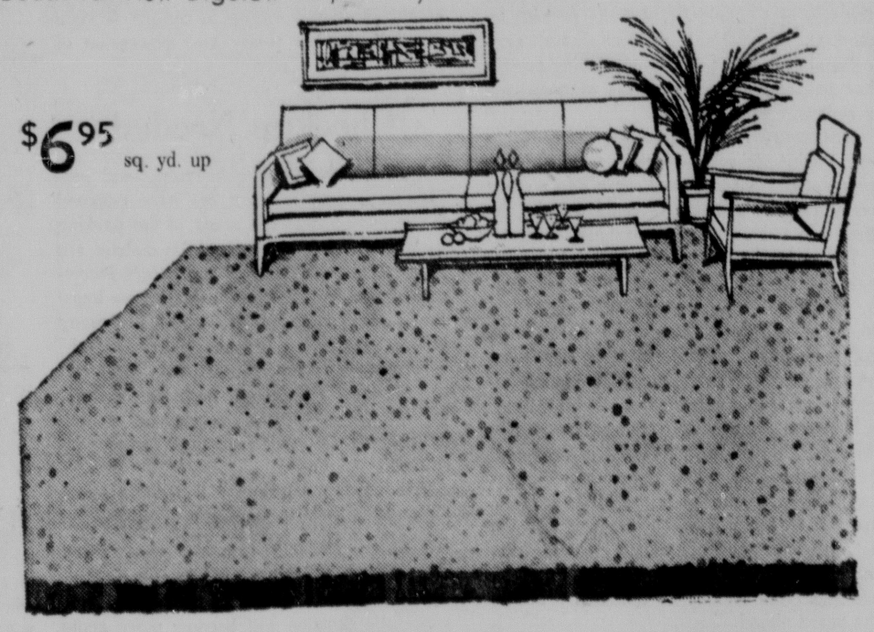

In another in a long series of entries at the Econ-O-Wash Laundry at Elizabeth St. and Pennsylvania Ave., a hinge was pried off the door of a storage room, but apparently nothing was taken.

Some diplomats considered the Soviet veto evidence of a widening rift between the Soviets and U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser, once the Arab darling of the Soviet Union. Kuwait's application had the backing of all Arab states except Iraq.

The assembly's main political committee adopted by acclamation an Irish resolution calling on the nuclear powers to work out an agreement to stop the spread of atomic or hydrogen bombs to nations that don't have them. The committee action assured adoption of the resolution by the General Assembly.

Earlier Thursday the committee, by a 57-12 vote, approved a resolution calling on all nations not having nuclear weapons to join in a pledge not to manufacture them, accept them from other nations or allow them to be stockpiled on their territory. The United States and most of its allies in the North Atlantic Treaty organization voted against the resolution because they believe stockpiling of U.S. nuclear weapons in Europe is necessary for defense against Soviet attack.

9 Penalized In Road Cases

Nine area motorists were penalized for traffic violations Thursday in County Judge Herbert Arfman's Court at East Palestine.

Joseph J. Reece of R. D. 2 forfeited $15 bond on a charge of failure to display license plates, and William J. Poynter of Wellsville R. D. 1 was fined $10 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Charged with speeding, Donald Woolf, 435 Broadway, Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs, and Kenneth Stump of East Palestine R. D. 1 and Duane Clunk, 232 N Beaver St., Lisbon, forfeited $15 bonds.

Lilly Buchanan of Lisbon R. D. 4 was fined $10 and costs for crossing the yellow line; Katherine Dyke of Negley, $10 and costs for failure to yield the right-of-way; Donald Curran of Rogers R. D. 1, $10 for passing at an intersection, and Fred Carlisle of Lisbon R. D. 2, $10 for failure to stop at an intersection.

precedented veto of an entire years budget allowance for all state programs.

He said he had hoped that in the separate consideration of the appropriation for the second year of the biennium the legislature would make provision for the growth of key state programs.

"However," he observed, "the majority party in the 104th General Assembly, with rather calloused disregard for the inevitable, refused to reconsider any of these appropriations with the exception of minor adjustments for higher education and a questionable appropriation by 'trick' for mental hygiene. I say questionable because real doubt must exist on the legality of a General Assembly borrowing from the future without constitutional authority."

The governor referred to a stipulation in the budget bill that the department of mental hygiene and correction payroll for the last two weeks of the 1962-63 fiscal year be paid out of funds which will be appropriated for the following year.

"I cannot overlook the possibility that some one will test that device in the courts," he told newsmen.

"To continue to duck, defer, demure and decry may deceive, but it does not solve our needs," the governor said in his formal statement.

"The inevitable result will be to necessitate increased student fees for those seeking higher education at our state universities; reduce the subsidies for the aged, the dependent child, the blind and the disabled; further dilute an already inadequate program for juveniles; injure the quality of an already inadequate correction program and turn the mental hygiene program into one in which warehousing and custody of patients will take precedence over treatment.

"It may not be the intention of the majority party to penalize the sick or the needy, but its actions will produce this result."

Sales Tax Biggest Revenue In 30 States

CHICAGO (AP) — Sales tax collections furnished the greatest single source of revenue in 30 states during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961.

Commerce Clearing House says a total of $4½ billion was collected from the source.

State income taxes were a major source in 14 states during the year.

Fred Payne, president of Local 427, presided at yesterday's meeting. Bauer and James Gatehouse, also an international representative and clayworkers vice president, were present.

Meanwhile, a meeting is scheduled Tuesday at which a contract will be presented by Porter company for consideration of ratification by Local 428, a newly-formed local for the clerks and laboratory and draftsmen employes at Wellsville.

The company is presently typing the contract which will be the first to be presented to the membership for consideration.

Palestine Residents Advised Of Mail Plan

EAST PALESTINE — With Christmas season deliveries to be made only once a day — instead of twice daily in previous years —under a postal department regulation, residents have been asked by Postmaster Harry Andrus to provide additional cartons or containers to receive the larger amount of mail in the one delivery.

Because of the reduced deliveries, only three extra postal workers will be hired for the season instead of the customary seven.

At least one of the extra posts will be filled from Civil Service lists, while 50 applications have already been received for the others, Andrus said.

Pennsylvanian Has Election Foresight

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Hamilton Tanney of suburban Mount Lebanon felt sure back in August he would be elected justice of the peace in the November election.

So, when the telephone company revised its phone directories in August, Tanney had himself listed as a justice of the peace in both the main directory and the yellow pages.

Vandals Damage Business Places

Property at three East End business places was damaged by vandals Thursday night and early today, police reported.

Stones were hurled through five windows, each 14-x-20 inches, in the east side of the Pennsylvania Ave. building occupied by S. & G. Distributors, officers said. Formerly Duquesne Distributors, the wholesale beer agency is in the former traction company carbarn, officers said. The damage was reported at 8:30 this morning.

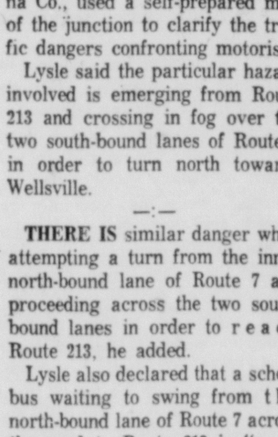

A large plate glass window was broken sometime overnight in the new building of Parsons Studebaker Sales & Service, a few blocks further east on Pennsylvania Ave.

In another in a long series of entries at the Econ-O-Wash Laundry at Elizabeth St. and Pennsylvania Ave., a hinge was pried off the door of a storage room, but apparently nothing was taken.

May Grow On Steel

NEW YORK (AP) — Cow pastures of the future may grow on steel instead of soil, according to "Steel Facts," publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute. The soilless agriculture is achieved by using hydroponics, a method of using water, nutrient chemicals, proper light, temperature and humidity.

Another Fling At The Future

Thousands of words have flowed over the rostrum about planning and its benefits in this area in past years, but few tangible results have been forthcoming.

East Liverpool's planning commission, which has prepared building codes, received bids on preparation of a master plan and initiated work on zoning, has been able to do little of late because of sagging interest and lack of city funds to implement its plans.

But planning still holds a great deal of interest for many community leaders who have been planning commissions push forward with success in Jefferson County and Mahoning County.

It is difficult to understand why a county the size of Columbiana, with its present industrial, commercial, residential and agricultural complexes and its continuing growth has not adopted some means of preparing a program for its future.

Wednesday night's meeting at Beaver Local Public School — where a countywide group of citizens approved organizing a study committee on planning — could well be the first step toward positive planning, however.

There should be no need to point out the value of preparation for the future to suburban residents whose wells have gone dry, to merchants with idle stores on narrow, traffic-clogged streets or to those city home owners who find business establishments directly next to their homes.

Men and women who take great care in the education of their children, in providing for life insurance and retirement benefits and who invest in the future of their home are out of touch with the times if they do not also help their community plan for recreation, civic facilities, transportation, land use and other phases of community life in the years ahead.

General countywide support should be given the proposed study group and in turn it is hoped that the study group will endorse a planning program.

Also to be hoped is that the words spoken and written will not sink into that strange limbo of apathy and indecision which seems to threaten planning proposals.

Some concrete action should be taken by public officials — to adopt and implement the planning recommendations. If such action is not taken, a clear explanation is in order.

The public in general is entitled to a definite understanding on the matter relative to actual expectations, costs and operations on a practical basis. And the public must understand that planning will get nowhere at all unless it is willing to support it right down to the last penny and expression of opinion.

Checkup Needed

After futilely jamming in nickels and pennies from time to time, we have reached the conclusion that too many of the parking meters in the downtown business district are mechanically imperfect. From letters received here and from frequent remarks, we know the same conclusion is shared by many others.

This is not to be interpreted as a protest against parking meters as such. The meters, we feel, are an essential part of the municipal program to provide adequate parking facilities.

It is, however, an appeal that every effort be made to keep the meters in proper working order. Nothing is more exasperating than to drop a coin and get no action. And with winter and freezing weather not too far away, the situation will become more acute if past experience holds true.

Everybody Learned Something

In midsummer of 1959 when Richard Nixon, then vice president of the United States, spoke on a nationwide radio hookup in Russia and later was accorded the privilege of full publication in Izvestia, no one thought it of great importance.

More attention was paid at the time to a spontaneous exchange between Mr. Nixon and Premier Khrushchev at a model kitchen exhibit. But Mr. Nixon said in his 1959 speech some of the same things that President Kennedy has said in a 1961 interview with Izvestia's editor.

It all depends on the way a thing is presented. Obviously, one of the flaws in the Nixon presentation in 1959 was the fact he made it in the form of a speech delivered in Moscow. Since speechmaking is part of the routine performance of a vice president what Mr. Nixon had to say was just another speech.

President Kennedy's interview was not routine.

HE HAD SOUGHT the chance to make a direct presentation to the Russian people through their government's official newspaper. The arrangements that caused him to be interviewed in this country by Aleksei I. Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia and son-in-law of Premier Khrushchev, were unusual, to say the least.

Even more unusual was the publication of the interview in its entirety, after it had been read and approved by Mr. Kennedy. And most unusual of all is the fact the interview is having more effect in the United States than it is likely to have in the Soviet Union.

We have learned here for the first time that the United States is mistrustful of a West German military buildup, the possibility most feared by the Soviet Union and with most cause. Russians cannot be expected to forget what the last German military buildup did to them. They cannot understand the forgetfulness of the United States and its other allies, which also may have reason to fear German militarism.

WE HAVE LEARNED here for the first time that the White House has abandoned the last pretense of belief in a united Germany. President Kennedy admits there will be two Germanys as long as the Soviet Union wants two Germanys; that East Germany is not going to belong to the Western Allies, or to West Germany.

We have learned for the first time that Mr. Kennedy had a firm proposal for a Berlin settlement — international control of access routes to West Berlin.

And we have learned, in regard to Cuba, that the United States would have no official objection to a Communist regime there if satisfied it had been chosen by the Cuban people. It is not Communism as such being resisted in Cuba but denial of the right to vote.

Whether these matters could have been revealed with as much impact in customary exchanges between the President and the press is doubtful. Premier Khrushchev had been able on many occasions to reach the U.S. public with special effect by granting question-and-answer interviews, with full publication of both questions and answers and pre-publication editing. It appears that President Kennedy has taken advantage of the same technique to reach not only Izvestia's readers in the Soviet Union but many of his countrymen at home.

Doing Something

It seems improbable that 1961 has been thinned down to the last page of the calendar — but here it is. Thirty-one days hath December . . .

Aside from chronology, there's December weather to think about. It probably won't be good. Sooner or later there will be a blizzard. Sometime or other the temperature will fall below the 25-26 level. Eventually some of us are going to be snowbound.

But so far the weather has been better than anyone expected for the season. There haven't been enough of those ghastly sunless days in a row to depress the spirit. The sun has been reappearing often enough to brighten the outlook.

At last someone seems to have been doing something about the weather. The rest of us have been doing something about it too. We've been appreciating the improvement.

The Once Over

Soviet-U.S.-British talks on bomb ban are resuming in atmosphere of mutual distrust, with bookies making our side the favorite to lose again by a screened pass and other orthodox Red deceptions. Uncle Sam has been doublecrossed but now wants confirmation.

We resume Geneva talks groggy from reading Khrushchev's acceptance of huddle specifying that he is a frustrated angel of peace, world's leading foe of nuclear bombs and a man dedicated to the success of a nuclear ban if it takes his last 30 or 40 super-megaton blasts during Geneva coffee breaks.

At last reports Uncle Sam was still reading Soviet statement that it "is ready to renew ban talks, but it goes without saying that if any other power does any testing during talks, appropriate conclusions will be drawn." Khrush reserves exclusive rights to test whenever in the mood. His position after 50 of biggest nuclear bomb tests in history is that of a contortionist demonstrating the "Twist" in a barrel of eels.

Soviet rules at Geneva seem to be:

1. The free world must submit daily certificates of gullibility.

2. U.S. shall be required to concentrate on Soviet rules and obey them or be penalized half distance to goal post.

3. Free world must proceed at all times in the understanding that in case Soviet Union plans nuclear tests during meeting it is merely continuing its efforts to achieve a ban on such weapons.

4. Ten bomb tests shall be accepted as indicating Russia is going all out to save world from nuclear horror.

5. Twenty tests shall be taken as indicating Soviet desire for peace is increasing.

6. Thirty bomb tests, including one or more of 50 megatons, shall be regarded as proving Soviet Union's heart is breaking over such behavior and that Moscow favors "Hearts and Flowers" as song of the year, especially when sung to accompaniment of Swiss yodelers.

Oh, But This Is Different!

He's Hardly A Dying Giant

By Victor Riesel

Suddenly it has become the fashion in ivy-walled intellectual circles to report that U.S. labor is a bumbling, stumbling giant who is losing weight as swiftly as he lost his idealism. But I'm a loner in this business. As I see it, on the eve of the great national labor convention in Bal Harbour, Fla., the giant never was as influential as he is now—and never before has he been so ready to beef himself up.

Victor Riesel

It has been overlooked that just a few days ago Walter Reuther's Spartans, known as the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department, told its people that "with changes in the National Labor Relations Board and a new administration the opportunity for organizing has become greater than at any time in the past decade. It would be criminal indeed if the American labor movement did not take advantage of the opportunities now before us."

Reuther then called for a central organizing unit financed by a "central organizing fund," which seemed to me to total some $10 million to $12 million.

And the organizing goal —which I learned from a confidential document prepared for national labor leadership alone and distributed at a closed meeting in New York on Oct. 9 — will be some 28.2 million.

THIS DOESN'T sound as though the giant is weak or myopic. Certainly you hear reports that Walter Reuther laid off 85 organizers some time ago. Or that George Meany's national office now has some 160 organizers and regional men for the merged organization compared with over 300 for the AFL alone back in 1952.

True. But if Reuther, chairman of the national organizing committee, really means what he has told his colleagues in private hotel room talks in Washington recently, the sidewalks of the nation will sag under the tread of new and younger organizing squads.

Reuther has said he will hit the floor of the biennial labor convention this week and demand that all inner feuding and central organizing units be set up across country. Many a union is waiting to cut loose.

You hear chants of "organize the unorganized" at all union gatherings. The other day the union which has a name almost longer than its roster of members picked up the chant.

This is the Journeymen Horseshoers of the United States and Canada — membership 300, headquarters naturally in Hot Springs, Ark. They want to hit the barns and stables of both nations.

-:-

AN THE OTHER END of the organizing spectrum, according to the confidential report of "Employment Data for Organizing Policy" prepared by John Livingston's Department of Organization in October, new unionization drives will be aimed at blocs of millions.

In this unpublicized document, Livingston's researchers point out, for example, that there are nine million people in non-manufacturing government employ.

This is roughly one out of every six employes in the country. Included, of course, are state, county and municipal workers. Fewer than 15 per cent, or just about one million are unionized.

The labor people believe that with an assist from the U. S. Department of Labor and friendly local governments elsewhere, they can pick up hundreds of thousands in this field. Perhaps millions.

In the service field, there are eight million workers, if you include eating and drinking places. The vast number are unorganized.

OF THE 1.5 MILLION restaurant workers, for example, some 10 per cent are unionized. This leaves a field of well over a million for the new central food, beverage and service AFL-CIO department to go after. They plan to move in right after the convention.

There are nearly two million hospital workers, the report says. It adds that "only a small portion of hospital workers are organized in unions, probably less than 10 per cent." So it goes — stretching from futuristic electronic plants in California to century old banking houses in New York.

It has all been charted by the brain section of the giant. And if he moves, he can draw sustenance from some 17.2 million dues payers in 65,000 locals headed by over 485,000 officials, high and low, in and out of the AFL-CIO.

They have a national yearly income of some $650 million and they influence pension and welfare funds which some put at $35 billion and others at $55 billion.

Those are billions. It does hardly seem to be a dying giant.

'A Plague On Both—'

By Raymond Moley

Is there any such thing as the "happy" medium? Not if history teaches anything. For those who have been chosen a middle ground in politics or religion have always been made most unhappy by their lunatic fringes.

Radicalism begets radicalism at the other end of the spectrum. And ultimately the unhappiness and sometimes the blood that is shed is that of people who would have chosen to live with their neighbors in peace.

THE PRESENT eruption of controversy over what is called the extreme right will not end in blood-letting. But it certainly does embarrass those who seek to draw a distinction between the policies supported, say, by President Kennedy on the one hand and by former President Eisenhower and Richard Nixon on the other.

What I regard as true conservatism is a belief that this country is rich enough to provide many social services and also to maintain an adequate defense. But it holds that when benefits are bestowed without discrimination and government spends without responsibility, the integrity of our economy and the liberty of our citizens are unduly constricted.

It does not favor the abolition of the income tax, or of social security. Nor in international affairs does it favor complete isolation.

The true conservative opposes the extreme enlargement of the federal government.

Moreover, the true conservative regards the clamor of the extreme right as a peril to his cause, just as the true liberal is annoyed by those who would imperil our institutions by excessive government intervention and the appeasement of communism.

THE MISCHIEF arises when politicians seize upon these extremes to create the impression that all dissent is extreme.

In his recent speech in Los Angeles President Kennedy, whether he realized it or not, was following in the footsteps of his distinguished predecessor, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

At the time when the early New Deal reforms were enacted—reforms which were remedial and not at all dangerous—there was created what was known as the Liberty League.

In 1936 when the Republican party was so weak that it was hardly regarded as opposition by Roosevelt, the President concentrated his attack upon the Liberty League and its members.

It was unfortunate because it created a great hue and cry against all business. The words "economic royalists" and "princes of privilege" filled the political air.

On several occasions over the past three or four years I have, as a conservative, written warnings to the extreme right. As late as last spring I wrote three pieces sharply critical of the John Birch Society and its founder and head, Robert Welch.

For my pains I was showered by abusive letters from Birchites, demanding that I accept either Birchism or Communism.

EVEN MORE recently, I commented upon the wholesome development of conservatism among college students. Among the responses was a letter from a student in an Eastern university who denied that there is any growth of conservatism where he is registered. But he adds that it might be rampant among the "America-loving" students in Midwestern institutions where they "have not the brains" to dismiss the teachings of "mother and the Church."

In his "liberal stronghold," the students were planning to boycott classes as a protest against the institution's banning of Communist lecturers.

So that represents the lunatic left. May the vast majority of us be saved from the excesses of both extremes.

Better Left Unsaid

Kennedy Interview Seen Having Bad Effect

There are gains and there are losses for the United States in the forum of world opinion as a result of the published interview between President Kennedy and Khrushchev's son-in-law, who is the editor of one of Moscow's newspapers. In one way, it was a grave error for the President to have granted the interview, and, in the long run, it can do no more harm than good to the cause of freedom in the world.

David Lawrence

Aside from the fact that the Soviet editor inserted a significant sentence that wasn't in the original interview as it actually took place, And Thus Deprived President Kennedy of the chance to rebut the insult to the United States and his predecessor in the White house — the exchange of views revealed a retreat in diplomacy and in the negotiating position of the American government as it struggles for the support of world opinion.

This goes to the heart of a vital issue — the right of peoples to determine their own destiny. Unfortunately, Mr. Kennedy conceded that, as long as the Soviet government wants to prevent the reunification of Germany, the United States will accept that situation.

This unnecessary concession will dash the hopes of the German people and indicate to the world that the United States accepts indefinitely Communist domination not only of East Germany but of Hungary, Romania, Poland, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, and of the other captive nations of Europe and Asia.

Mr. Kennedy's view on this all-important issue was expressed in these words:

"Now we recognize that today the Soviet Union does not intend to permit reunification, and that as long as the Soviet Union has that policy Germany will not be reunified."

Why should the United States recognize this "status quo" and announce publicly its willingness to accept Soviet domination of peoples who should be free? To do so is to weaken the moral force behind the principle of free choice — something which the free peoples of the world struggled to establish by their sacrifices in two world wars.

MR. KENNEDY said, to be sure, that the Yalta agreement and Potsdam agreement "provided for a free choice for the peoples of Eastern Europe," and that "they do not, in our opinion, today have a free choice."

A little later on in the interview, however, while reaffirming the legal point that the United States "does not recognize the division of Germany," the President, for a second time during the discussion with the Russian editor, indicated that America is content to let the situation drift on indefinitely while the Communists hold fast their grip on Eastern Europe. The President said:

"I recognize that there are going to be two Germanys as long as the Soviet Union believes that that is in her interest."

This is an unfortunate statement for a president of the United States to make. It wouldn't have been made if the secretary of state were at his side, and they were preparing together—as they should have been — a carefully worded statement of American policy.

Impromptu, off-the-cuff comments on foreign policy, whether made in interviews with a Russian editor or at the regular press conferences at the White House, are spectacular, but they can produce statements that unwittingly do damage to America's cause. This is not the way to conduct diplomacy in a nuclear age.

IT WILL BE ARGUED that the big advantage of the interview with the Russian editor was that it got America's foot in the door and that some things were said that clarify America's position to influential sections of the Russian population. But the interview was planned for five months by the Moscow government while it argued over the exact arrangements for the meeting.

It finally sent here not a news editor to report what the President said, but a propagandist to make a lengthy counterargument which will be surely given weight by the Russian people so as to tend to offset the points made by the President.

In the version made available to most Russians in their newspapers and over their radio, President Kennedy's statements were deliberately distorted and some were omitted entirely in summaries that were used primarily to attack the policies of the United States. So it is a question how much constructive good inside the Soviet Union was accomplished by the interview itself.

Likewise, the incident can be played up in the Soviet Union to show that what's at issue is just a simple matter of ideology.

Mr. Kennedy spoke, for instance, of the right of each country to its own system, and decried Russia's attempt to "communize, in a sense, the entire world."

The Russian editor chimed in with the argument that it was just a matter of differing systems.

BUT IS IT? Not a word was spoken by the President about the sending of Russian arms and equipment to Cuba, the stationing of Russian agents in every Latin-American country to stir up revolutions there, and the use of subversive tactics by the Communists in Africa as well as in Southeast Asia.

Mr. Kennedy was polite, restrained and dignified. But the words of the Russian editor, who accused the United States of interfering in Cuba and in the affairs of "many countries in the world," were not forcefully refuted, and they now will be listened to and accepted as gospel inside the Soviet Union. They will be reiterated day after day.

It would be much better if America no longer minced words and, by its own radio broadcasts into Russia, told the people there every day the facts about the Soviet government's crookedness, its subversive operations, and its repressive measures in Eastern Europe, as well as its violation of postwar pledges — all of which have resulted in a Communist menace to the peace of the world.

Letters To The Editor

The purpose of this letter is to congratulate publicly the people responsible for decorating the downtown area of East Liverpool. It is a job done with excellent taste and deserves the highest praise.

The atmosphere created by the silver tinsel, colorful lights and most beautiful Christmas tree is the nicest yet!

Sincerely,

After reading the write-up in Wednesday's paper about the Stanton Band Boosters' meeting, I noticed they neglected to mention that they voted to offer to pay for the campaign posters which supported the present board members who were seeking re-election last Nov. 7.

JOAN SPRAGUE
Hammondsville

Our city has received much criticism of late on numerous subjects, I being among those to criticize on some issues. I also believe in credit where credit is due, namely to those responsible for our beautiful Christmas decorations.

I have visited other cities and towns in the district recently and believe ours is second to none, larger or smaller.

It must also be a welcome and encouraging sight to shoppers coming from surrounding cities and states. It certainly has given East Liverpool the look of a progressive shopping area.

A vote of thanks is also in order for those responsible for the beautiful cross at the WOHI transmitter. It certainly cannot go unnoticed by anyone in the area.

I have lived in the East Liverpool district 37 years and these are surely the best Christmas decorations I have seen in my time.

This is definitely a progressive step. Keep up the good work "East Liverpool".

Odd Facts

The automatic - vending - machine system of sales is still very much on the rise in the U. S., sales having rocketed from $50 million to more than $2 billion in the past 30 years. Another Fling At The Future

Thousands of words have flowed over the rostrum about planning and its benefits in this area in past years, but few tangible results have been forthcoming.

East Liverpool's planning commission, which has prepared building codes, received bids on preparation of a master plan and initiated work on zoning, has been able to do little of late because of sagging interest and lack of city funds to implement its plans.

But planning still holds a great deal of interest for many community leaders who have been planning commissions push forward with success in Jefferson County and Mahoning County.

It is difficult to understand why a county the size of Columbiana, with its present industrial, commercial, residential and agricultural complexes and its continuing growth has not adopted some means of preparing a program for its future.

Wednesday night's meeting at Beaver Local Public School — where a countywide group of citizens approved organizing a study committee on planning — could well be the first step toward positive planning, however.

There should be no need to point out the value of preparation for the future to suburban residents whose wells have gone dry, to merchants with idle stores on narrow, traffic-clogged streets or to those city home owners who find business establishments directly next to their homes.

Men and women who take great care in the education of their children, in providing for life insurance and retirement benefits and who invest in the future of their home are out of touch with the times if they do not also help their community plan for recreation, civic facilities, transportation, land use and other phases of community life in the years ahead.

General countywide support should be given the proposed study group and in turn it is hoped that the study group will endorse a planning program.

Also to be hoped is that the words spoken and written will not sink into that strange limbo of apathy and indecision which seems to threaten planning proposals.

Some concrete action should be taken by public officials — to adopt and implement the planning recommendations. If such action is not taken, a clear explanation is in order.

The public in general is entitled to a definite understanding on the matter relative to actual expectations, costs and operations on a practical basis. And the public must understand that planning will get nowhere at all unless it is willing to support it right down to the last penny and expression of opinion.

Checkup Needed

After futilely jamming in nickels and pennies from time to time, we have reached the conclusion that too many of the parking meters in the downtown business district are mechanically imperfect. From letters received here and from frequent remarks, we know the same conclusion is shared by many others.

This is not to be interpreted as a protest against parking meters as such. The meters, we feel, are an essential part of the municipal program to provide adequate parking facilities.

It is, however, an appeal that every effort be made to keep the meters in proper working order. Nothing is more exasperating than to drop a coin and get no action. And with winter and freezing weather not too far away, the situation will become more acute if past experience holds true.

Everybody Learned Something

In midsummer of 1959 when Richard Nixon, then vice president of the United States, spoke on a nationwide radio hookup in Russia and later was accorded the privilege of full publication in Izvestia, no one thought it of great importance.

More attention was paid at the time to a spontaneous exchange between Mr. Nixon and Premier Khrushchev at a model kitchen exhibit. But Mr. Nixon said in his 1959 speech some of the same things that President Kennedy has said in a 1961 interview with Izvestia's editor.

It all depends on the way a thing is presented. Obviously, one of the flaws in the Nixon presentation in 1959 was the fact he made it in the form of a speech delivered in Moscow. Since speechmaking is part of the routine performance of a vice president what Mr. Nixon had to say was just another speech.

President Kennedy's interview was not routine.

HE HAD SOUGHT the chance to make a direct presentation to the Russian people through their government's official newspaper. The arrangements that caused him to be interviewed in this country by Aleksei I. Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia and son-in-law of Premier Khrushchev, were unusual, to say the least.

Even more unusual was the publication of the interview in its entirety, after it had been read and approved by Mr. Kennedy. And most unusual of all is the fact the interview is having more effect in the United States than it is likely to have in the Soviet Union.

We have learned here for the first time that the United States is mistrustful of a West German military buildup, the possibility most feared by the Soviet Union and with most cause. Russians cannot be expected to forget what the last German military buildup did to them. They cannot understand the forgetfulness of the United States and its other allies, which also may have reason to fear German militarism.

WE HAVE LEARNED here for the first time that the White House has abandoned the last pretense of belief in a united Germany. President Kennedy admits there will be two Germanys as long as the Soviet Union wants two Germanys; that East Germany is not going to belong to the Western Allies, or to West Germany.

We have learned for the first time that Mr. Kennedy had a firm proposal for a Berlin settlement — international control of access routes to West Berlin.

And we have learned, in regard to Cuba, that the United States would have no official objection to a Communist regime there if satisfied it had been chosen by the Cuban people. It is not Communism as such being resisted in Cuba but denial of the right to vote.

Whether these matters could have been revealed with as much impact in customary exchanges between the President and the press is doubtful. Premier Khrushchev had been able on many occasions to reach the U.S. public with special effect by granting question-and-answer interviews, with full publication of both questions and answers and pre-publication editing. It appears that President Kennedy has taken advantage of the same technique to reach not only Izvestia's readers in the Soviet Union but many of his countrymen at home.

Doing Something

It seems improbable that 1961 has been thinned down to the last page of the calendar — but here it is. Thirty-one days hath December . . .

Aside from chronology, there's December weather to think about. It probably won't be good. Sooner or later there will be a blizzard. Sometime or other the temperature will fall below the 25-26 level. Eventually some of us are going to be snowbound.

But so far the weather has been better than anyone expected for the season. There haven't been enough of those ghastly sunless days in a row to depress the spirit. The sun has been reappearing often enough to brighten the outlook.

At last someone seems to have been doing something about the weather. The rest of us have been doing something about it too. We've been appreciating the improvement.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Soviet-U.S.-British talks on bomb ban are resuming in atmosphere of mutual distrust, with bookies making our side the favorite to lose again by a screened pass and other orthodox Red deceptions. Uncle Sam has been doublecrossed but now wants confirmation.

We resume Geneva talks groggy from reading Khrushchev's acceptance of huddle specifying that he is a frustrated angel of peace, world's leading foe of nuclear bombs and a man dedicated to the success of a nuclear ban if it takes his last 30 or 40 super-megaton blasts during Geneva coffee breaks.

At last reports Uncle Sam was still reading Soviet statement that it "is ready to renew ban talks, but it goes without saying that if any other power does any testing during talks, appropriate conclusions will be drawn." Khrush reserves exclusive rights to test whenever in the mood. His position after 50 of biggest nuclear bomb tests in history is that of a contortionist demonstrating the "Twist" in a barrel of eels.

Soviet rules at Geneva seem to be:

1. The free world must submit daily certificates of gullibility.

2. U.S. shall be required to concentrate on Soviet rules and obey them or be penalized half distance to goal post.

3. Free world must proceed at all times in the understanding that in case Soviet Union plans nuclear tests during meeting it is merely continuing its efforts to achieve a ban on such weapons.

4. Ten bomb tests shall be accepted as indicating Russia is going all out to save world from nuclear horror.

5. Twenty tests shall be taken as indicating Soviet desire for peace is increasing.

6. Thirty bomb tests, including one or more of 50 megatons, shall be regarded as proving Soviet Union's heart is breaking over such behavior and that Moscow favors "Hearts and Flowers" as song of the year, especially when sung to accompaniment of Swiss yodelers.

MAN WON $48,000 PURSE in bowling tournament. Remember away back when it was a common question "Whatcher wanna waste your time hanging around bowling alleys for?"

Recent Yale-Harvard classic was so terrible from Old Blue viewpoint that Eli team seemed in worse shape, when it got inside Bowl, than the spectators who had participated in the auto-field cocktail parties.

We ran into a group of Old Blues briefly resuming the picnic and cocktail routines immediately after the game. The host dropped thermos bottle, spilling contents. "Don't give it a thought. We're all fumbling today," said his companion.

Oh, But This Is Different!

He's Hardly A Dying Giant

By Victor Riesel

Suddenly it has become the fashion in ivy-walled intellectual circles to report that U.S. labor is a bumbling, stumbling giant who is losing weight as swiftly as he lost his idealism. But I'm a loner in this business. As I see it, on the eve of the great national labor convention in Bal Harbour, Fla., the giant never was as influential as he is now—and never before has he been so ready to beef himself up.

Victor Riesel

It has been overlooked that just a few days ago Walter Reuther's Spartans, known as the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department, told its people that "with changes in the National Labor Relations Board and a new administration the opportunity for organizing has become greater than at any time in the past decade. It would be criminal indeed if the American labor movement did not take advantage of the opportunities now before us."

Reuther then called for a central organizing unit financed by a "central organizing fund," which seemed to me to total some $10 million to $12 million.

And the organizing goal —which I learned from a confidential document prepared for national labor leadership alone and distributed at a closed meeting in New York on Oct. 9 — will be some 28.2 million.

THIS DOESN'T sound as though the giant is weak or myopic. Certainly you hear reports that Walter Reuther laid off 85 organizers some time ago. Or that George Meany's national office now has some 160 organizers and regional men for the merged organization compared with over 300 for the AFL alone back in 1952.

True. But if Reuther, chairman of the national organizing committee, really means what he has told his colleagues in private hotel room talks in Washington recently, the sidewalks of the nation will sag under the tread of new and younger organizing squads.

Reuther has said he will hit the floor of the biennial labor convention this week and demand that all inner feuding and central organizing units be set up across country. Many a union is waiting to cut loose.

You hear chants of "organize the unorganized" at all union gatherings. The other day the union which has a name almost longer than its roster of members picked up the chant.

This is the Journeymen Horseshoers of the United States and Canada — membership 300, headquarters naturally in Hot Springs, Ark. They want to hit the barns and stables of both nations.

-:-

AN THE OTHER END of the organizing spectrum, according to the confidential report of "Employment Data for Organizing Policy" prepared by John Livingston's Department of Organization in October, new unionization drives will be aimed at blocs of millions.

In this unpublicized document, Livingston's researchers point out, for example, that there are nine million people in non-manufacturing government employ.

This is roughly one out of every six employes in the country. Included, of course, are state, county and municipal workers. Fewer than 15 per cent, or just about one million are unionized.

The labor people believe that with an assist from the U. S. Department of Labor and friendly local governments elsewhere, they can pick up hundreds of thousands in this field. Perhaps millions.

In the service field, there are eight million workers, if you include eating and drinking places. The vast number are unorganized.

OF THE 1.5 MILLION restaurant workers, for example, some 10 per cent are unionized. This leaves a field of well over a million for the new central food, beverage and service AFL-CIO department to go after. They plan to move in right after the convention.

There are nearly two million hospital workers, the report says. It adds that "only a small portion of hospital workers are organized in unions, probably less than 10 per cent." So it goes — stretching from futuristic electronic plants in California to century old banking houses in New York.

It has all been charted by the brain section of the giant. And if he moves, he can draw sustenance from some 17.2 million dues payers in 65,000 locals headed by over 485,000 officials, high and low, in and out of the AFL-CIO.

They have a national yearly income of some $650 million and they influence pension and welfare funds which some put at $35 billion and others at $55 billion.

Those are billions. It does hardly seem to be a dying giant.

'A Plague On Both–'

By Raymond Moley

Is there any such thing as the "happy" medium? Not if history teaches anything. For those who have been chosen a middle ground in politics or religion have always been made most unhappy by their lunatic fringes.

Radicalism begets radicalism at the other end of the spectrum. And ultimately the unhappiness and sometimes the blood that is shed is that of people who would have chosen to live with their neighbors in peace.

THE PRESENT eruption of controversy over what is called the extreme right will not end in blood-letting. But it certainly does embarrass those who seek to draw a distinction between the policies supported, say, by President Kennedy on the one hand and by former President Eisenhower and Richard Nixon on the other.

What I regard as true conservatism is a belief that this country is rich enough to provide many social services and also to maintain an adequate defense. But it holds that when benefits are bestowed without discrimination and government spends without responsibility, the integrity of our economy and the liberty of our citizens are unduly constricted.

It does not favor the abolition of the income tax, or of social security. Nor in international affairs does it favor complete isolation.

The true conservative opposes the extreme enlargement of the federal government.

Moreover, the true conservative regards the clamor of the extreme right as a peril to his cause, just as the true liberal is annoyed by those who would imperil our institutions by excessive government intervention and the appeasement of communism.

THE MISCHIEF arises when politicians seize upon these extremes to create the impression that all dissent is extreme.

In his recent speech in Los Angeles President Kennedy, whether he realized it or not, was following in the footsteps of his distinguished predecessor, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

At the time when the early New Deal reforms were enacted—reforms which were remedial and not at all dangerous—there was created what was known as the Liberty League.

In 1936 when the Republican party was so weak that it was hardly regarded as opposition by Roosevelt, the President concentrated his attack upon the Liberty League and its members.

It was unfortunate because it created a great hue and cry against all business. The words "economic royalists" and "princes of privilege" filled the political air.

On several occasions over the past three or four years I have, as a conservative, written warnings to the extreme right. As late as last spring I wrote three pieces sharply critical of the John Birch Society and its founder and head, Robert Welch.

For my pains I was showered by abusive letters from Birchites, demanding that I accept either Birchism or Communism.

EVEN MORE recently, I commented upon the wholesome development of conservatism among college students. Among the responses was a letter from a student in an Eastern university who denied that there is any growth of conservatism where he is registered. But he adds that it might be rampant among the "America-loving" students in Midwestern institutions where they "have not the brains" to dismiss the teachings of "mother and the Church."

In his "liberal stronghold," the students were planning to boycott classes as a protest against the institution's banning of Communist lecturers.

So that represents the lunatic left. May the vast majority of us be saved from the excesses of both extremes.

Better Left Unsaid

Kennedy Interview Seen Having Bad Effect

There are gains and there are losses for the United States in the forum of world opinion as a result of the published interview between President Kennedy and Khrushchev's son-in-law, who is the editor of one of Moscow's newspapers. In one way, it was a grave error for the President to have granted the interview, and, in the long run, it can do no more harm than good to the cause of freedom in the world.

David Lawrence

Aside from the fact that the Soviet editor inserted a significant sentence that wasn't in the original interview as it actually took place, And Thus Deprived President Kennedy of the chance to rebut the insult to the United States and his predecessor in the White house — the exchange of views revealed a retreat in diplomacy and in the negotiating position of the American government as it struggles for the support of world opinion.

This goes to the heart of a vital issue — the right of peoples to determine their own destiny. Unfortunately, Mr. Kennedy conceded that, as long as the Soviet government wants to prevent the reunification of Germany, the United States will accept that situation.

This unnecessary concession will dash the hopes of the German people and indicate to the world that the United States accepts indefinitely Communist domination not only of East Germany but of Hungary, Romania, Poland, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, and of the other captive nations of Europe and Asia.

Mr. Kennedy's view on this all-important issue was expressed in these words:

"Now we recognize that today the Soviet Union does not intend to permit reunification, and that as long as the Soviet Union has that policy Germany will not be reunified."

Why should the United States recognize this "status quo" and announce publicly its willingness to accept Soviet domination of peoples who should be free? To do so is to weaken the moral force behind the principle of free choice — something which the free peoples of the world struggled to establish by their sacrifices in two world wars.

MR. KENNEDY said, to be sure, that the Yalta agreement and Potsdam agreement "provided for a free choice for the peoples of Eastern Europe," and that "they do not, in our opinion, today have a free choice."

A little later on in the interview, however, while reaffirming the legal point that the United States "does not recognize the division of Germany," the President, for a second time during the discussion with the Russian editor, indicated that America is content to let the situation drift on indefinitely while the Communists hold fast their grip on Eastern Europe. The President said:

"I recognize that there are going to be two Germanys as long as the Soviet Union believes that that is in her interest."

This is an unfortunate statement for a president of the United States to make. It wouldn't have been made if the secretary of state were at his side, and they were preparing together—as they should have been — a carefully worded statement of American policy.

Impromptu, off-the-cuff comments on foreign policy, whether made in interviews with a Russian editor or at the regular press conferences at the White House, are spectacular, but they can produce statements that unwittingly do damage to America's cause. This is not the way to conduct diplomacy in a nuclear age.

IT WILL BE ARGUED that the big advantage of the interview with the Russian editor was that it got America's foot in the door and that some things were said that clarify America's position to influential sections of the Russian population. But the interview was planned for five months by the Moscow government while it argued over the exact arrangements for the meeting.

It finally sent here not a news editor to report what the President said, but a propagandist to make a lengthy counterargument which will be surely given weight by the Russian people so as to tend to offset the points made by the President.

In the version made available to most Russians in their newspapers and over their radio, President Kennedy's statements were deliberately distorted and some were omitted entirely in summaries that were used primarily to attack the policies of the United States. So it is a question how much constructive good inside the Soviet Union was accomplished by the interview itself.

Likewise, the incident can be played up in the Soviet Union to show that what's at issue is just a simple matter of ideology.

Mr. Kennedy spoke, for instance, of the right of each country to its own system, and decried Russia's attempt to "communize, in a sense, the entire world."

The Russian editor chimed in with the argument that it was just a matter of differing systems.

BUT IS IT? Not a word was spoken by the President about the sending of Russian arms and equipment to Cuba, the stationing of Russian agents in every Latin-American country to stir up revolutions there, and the use of subversive tactics by the Communists in Africa as well as in Southeast Asia.

Mr. Kennedy was polite, restrained and dignified. But the words of the Russian editor, who accused the United States of interfering in Cuba and in the affairs of "many countries in the world," were not forcefully refuted, and they now will be listened to and accepted as gospel inside the Soviet Union. They will be reiterated day after day.

It would be much better if America no longer minced words and, by its own radio broadcasts into Russia, told the people there every day the facts about the Soviet government's crookedness, its subversive operations, and its repressive measures in Eastern Europe, as well as its violation of postwar pledges — all of which have resulted in a Communist menace to the peace of the world.

Letters To The Editor

The purpose of this letter is to congratulate publicly the people responsible for decorating the downtown area of East Liverpool. It is a job done with excellent taste and deserves the highest praise.

The atmosphere created by the silver tinsel, colorful lights and most beautiful Christmas tree is the nicest yet!

Sincerely,

After reading the write-up in Wednesday's paper about the Stanton Band Boosters' meeting, I noticed they neglected to mention that they voted to offer to pay for the campaign posters which supported the present board members who were seeking re-election last Nov. 7.

JOAN SPRAGUE
Hammondsville

Our city has received much criticism of late on numerous subjects, I being among those to criticize on some issues. I also believe in credit where credit is due, namely to those responsible for our beautiful Christmas decorations.

I have visited other cities and towns in the district recently and believe ours is second to none, larger or smaller.

It must also be a welcome and encouraging sight to shoppers coming from surrounding cities and states. It certainly has given East Liverpool the look of a progressive shopping area.

A vote of thanks is also in order for those responsible for the beautiful cross at the WOHI transmitter. It certainly cannot go unnoticed by anyone in the area.

I have lived in the East Liverpool district 37 years and these are surely the best Christmas decorations I have seen in my time.

This is definitely a progressive step. Keep up the good work "East Liverpool".

Youth Unhurt As Auto Flips

A 17-year-old motorist escaped injury Thursday afternoon when his auto overturned after a two-way collision at Ogden and St. John Sts., police said.

He is Anderson D. Evans Jr., 17, of 1296 Sunnyside Ave., whose 1954 two-door sedan was involved in a collision with a 1953 two-door operated by George Allen Fallon, 44, of 309 Jackman St., officers said.

Evans was headed south on St. John and Fallon was driving east on Ogden, officers said. There was damage to the top, right side and windshield of Evans' car and the left front fender and bumper of Fallon's auto, police said.

Evans was cited to Juvenile Court as a traffic offender, charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

A collision Thursday at 3:09 p. m. at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts. damaged a 1948 sedan driven by William Eugene Neuch of Gardendale and Woodbine Aves. and a parked 1960 pickup truck of Ed Brown, 62, of Georgetown R. D. 1, police said.

Neuch told police he was driving south on Walnut St. and turning left onto E. 3rd St. when an oncoming vehicle caused him to swerve and hit the parked truck.

The collision damaged the right fender of the auto and the left side of the truck, police said.

Meanwhile, Iva I. Swager, 1165 Pennsylvania Ave., told police her 1953 four-door sedan was damaged by a hit-skip vehicle between midnight and 6 a. m. Thursday while parked in front of her home. She said there was damage to the left front bumper and fender.

Youth Unhurt As Auto Flips

A 17-year-old motorist escaped injury Thursday afternoon when his auto overturned after a two-way collision at Ogden and St. John Sts., police said.

He is Anderson D. Evans Jr., 17, of 1296 Sunnyside Ave., whose 1954 two-door sedan was involved in a collision with a 1953 two-door operated by George Allen Fallon, 44, of 309 Jackman St., officers said.

Evans was headed south on St. John and Fallon was driving east on Ogden, officers said. There was damage to the top, right side and windshield of Evans' car and the left front fender and bumper of Fallon's auto, police said.

Evans was cited to Juvenile Court as a traffic offender, charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

A collision Thursday at 3:09 p. m. at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts. damaged a 1948 sedan driven by William Eugene Neuch of Gardendale and Woodbine Aves. and a parked 1960 pickup truck of Ed Brown, 62, of Georgetown R. D. 1, police said.

Neuch told police he was driving south on Walnut St. and turning left onto E. 3rd St. when an oncoming vehicle caused him to swerve and hit the parked truck.

The collision damaged the right fender of the auto and the left side of the truck, police said.

Meanwhile, Iva I. Swager, 1165 Pennsylvania Ave., told police her 1953 four-door sedan was damaged by a hit-skip vehicle between midnight and 6 a. m. Thursday while parked in front of her home. She said there was damage to the left front bumper and fender.

Nebo Group To Meet

LISBON — The last in a series of discussions on "Ohio's Future" will be held by the Mt. Nebo Grange group Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Leetonia R.D. 1. The topic will be "Ohio's Future In Non-farm Income."

Hammondsville Youth Takes Basic Training

Robert Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Boyd of Monroeville, Hammondsville, is undergoing basic training with the Air Force at Lackland Air Base in Texas after his enlistment. He is a graduate of Stanton Local High School and attended Ohio University.

S.Sgt. and Mrs. Darrell Post and daughter, Teresa Ann, are residing at Arlington, Va., where he is stationed with the Air Force.

Mrs. Nelson (Buzz) Grafton underwent surgery Thursday in City Hospital. She was admitted Wednesday.

Operetta Slated By Students Of Wellsville School

"Christmas at the Morrises," an original operetta by Mrs. Louise Lawton, elementary music supervisor of Wellsville schools, will be presented by MacDonald pupils Monday night at 8 in the all-purpose room of the school.

The operetta, a history lesson for Judy, centers around the Curtis Morris family of Alexandria, Va., friends of the writer.

Leading characters are Mrs. Morris, Anita Miller; Mr. Morris, Randy Clark; Judy Morris, Denise Clark; Malcolm, Gary Slonaker; Helen, Sue Allison; Patty, Rhonda Pickens; Edward Morris, Mark Powell, and Curtis Morris, Billy Roberts.

Musical selections will include "Silver Bells," "The Land of Nod," "The Wassail Song," "Christmas Island," "The Sleigh," "The Gentle Carpenter of Bethlehem," He Shall Feed His Flock," "Little Bitty Baby," "Once in Royal David's City" and "Sleighride."

Fall From Car Fatal

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Richard Feren, 13, of Rt. 3, Canfield, died in South Side Hospital Thursday of a fractured skull suffered when he fell from a moving automobile Wednesday night.

Ex-Hancock Man Claimed

NEW CUMBERLAND — Services for Clarence Gardner, 72, a native of New Cumberland, were held this afternoon at the Wilson Funeral Home in Dillonvale by the Rev. William O'Dell of the Dillonvale Methodist Church. Burial was in New Cumberland Cemetery.

He died Wednesday morning at the Reider Nursing Home near Steubenville.

A World War I veteran, he was born March 11, 1889, to David Gardner and Elizabeth McCombs Gardner. He was a retired fireman for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

He leaves two sisters, a brother, and several nieces and nephews.

Facts You Should Know About Septic Tanks

A Septic Tank is actually the "stomach" of the disposal system, its purpose being to digest and liquefy the solids entering it, discharging liquids to the disposal area.

In general, Septic Tanks are constructed of steel or concrete, varying in size from 500 to 10,000 gallon capacities. Correctly made and installed, they form an air-tight and watertight chamber.

The inlet carries the raw sewage into the first chamber of the tank. Most of the solids will settle to the bottom of this chamber, developing bacterial colonies which "feed" on these solids. This bottom layer is termed, "sludge". A crust or "mat" will usually form on the top, this being composed mainly of greases and fatty substances which have a tendency to float. The second chamber enables further clarification of the water prior to passing out to the drainage area. Water leaving a Septic Tank is referred to as "effluent."

Septic Tanks will operate satisfactorily as long as the "mat" and "sludge" do not build up to the point where they start feeding through into the second chamber, and then out to the drainage area. Unfortunately, most people wait until the system "backs-up", which means that the tank is completely clogged and that large amounts of solids have passed through with the effluent.

Most Septic Tank failures are caused by (1) introduction of chemicals which destroy the bacteria life, (2) overloading, i.e., putting more into the tank in any 24-hr. period than its designed capacity, (3) temperature changes which slow down the bacterial digestion, and (4) excessive use of greases and fats.

Regular use of "SEA-CAL", preferably combined with an initial "seeding" of the tank with "SEA-CAL" will usually eliminate all of the problems by introducing powerful glandular enzymes which accelerate the digestive action and prevent the passage of solids to the drainage area. Enzymes, such as are used in "SEA-CAL", are also extremely resistant to temperature and all changes, and the addition of millions of bacterial cultures (80,000,000 per gram) in SEA-CAL replaces the bacterial colonies that may have been destroyed.

It would be untrue to state that a Septic Tank need never be pumped, since sewage can only be digested to a point of "ash" and the introduction of inorganic materials such as sand, grit, metal, and glass, will create a build-up over a period of time that will have to be removed. However, with regular monthly treatments of SEA-CAL, these pumpings should occur only at ten or twenty-year intervals.

Red Party's Officers Fail To Register

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officers of the Communist party in the United States have failed to meet the deadline for registering under the Internal Security Act.

This left to the Justice Department the next move in the drawn-out war of nerves between the party and the government.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said earlier this week that the department "will enforce the law."

Last Nov. 20, when the party itself defied a deadline for registering, a department spokesman said officials planned to wait at least until after the time had expired for officers to register before taking action.

That deadline passed at midnight Thursday night. Individual members of the party now have until Dec. 20 to register under the law.

The government has indicated it plans to move against the party first.

The law provides fines up to $10,000 a day for the party for each day of defiance. It provides the same fines—plus prison terms—for officers and individual members who defy the law.

Under the Security Act—fought by party leaders in the courts since its passage in 1950—the party was to have registered as an arm of the Soviet government. It was to list its officers, finances and other details.

The struggle between the government and the party came to a head last Oct. 9, when the Supreme Court refused to reconsider its decision upholding provisions of the 1950 law.

The party has stated many times that it planned to defy the law. The party has denied it is an agent of the Soviet Union and contended it should not be required to register as such.

A Communist party spokesman said Thursday the number of officers had been reduced to three, but he declined to disclose how many officers there had been previously.

However, Chicago's American quoted Claude Lightfoot, a former party official, as listing the three officers as: Gus Hall, general secretary; Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, chairman; and Benjamin Davis, national secretary. All are from New York.

Lightfoot said that among the posts abolished were those of national vice chairman and Illinois chairman, both of which he once held.

New Church Figures Offered Council

NEW YORK (AP) — Last year 63.6 per cent of the American people belonged to a church or synagogue, according to the National Council of Churches' newly published 1962 Yearbook of American Churches.

Protestant membership was 63.7 million or 34.4 per cent of the total; Catholic, 42.1 million or 23.6 per cent of the total. There were 227 Protestant bodies reporting, with a total membership of 63,668,835. Total number of Catholics was reported as 42,104,900. Jews totaled 5,367,000.

Homicide means simply the killing of another person, while murder means killing a person with malice aforethought.

Since the end of World War II, the United States has admitted three quarters of a million refugees and has contributed an impressive amount of money on behalf of refugees throughout the world.

Conkle's car swung right into the rear of a parked auto — in fact, an Ohio Highway Patrol cruiser whose driver, Patrolman A. C. Dominick, was in the nearby court of County Judge Herbert Arfman.

Conkle, 34, was given a pointed verbal lesson on driving by the patrolman while city police were summoned to cite him for reckless operation. Conkle is due a hearing tonight before Mayor Robert Harding.

State Department's Blamed For Advance Of Communism

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. J. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., says communism is advancing throughout the world because of what he terms "policies of paralysis" of the U.S. State Department.

Speaking to the First Congregation Church's Freedom Club, the senator Thursday night characterized the State Department as espousing the view, as he put it, "that we should not have won in Korea."

"We should have won in Korea," Thurmond told an estimated 1,000 persons at the Hollywood Palladium. "If we had, we would not be facing the big Communist menace today."

Thurmond, 1948 presidential candidate of the States' Rights party, told an anti-Communist rally Wednesday that the U.S. military now is a primary target in the Communist propaganda offensive. He declared it was determined at Moscow meeting nearly a year ago that something had to be done to stop anti-Communist talks by American military leaders.

The senator was quoted earlier as saying that muzzling of the American military took place on orders "direct from Moscow." But a tape recording of the senator's remarks showed this to be a misquotation.

The senator said a 1958 Defense Department directive — since countermanded — asked military leaders to conduct seminars on the dangers of communism.

He said the reason for this request was that "the military people are supposed to know the enemy. . .and they do know the enemy better than any other segment of our population.

"But what happened?

"There was a meeting in Moscow last December at which it was determined something had to be done to stop it.

"Who was doing the most devilment to the Communists? Who was doing the most harm to the Communists?

"It must have been the military. For Mr. Gus Hall, an official of the Communist party and a writer for the 'Worker,' an organ of the Communist party, came out and made this statement: He said a primary target was the military and its anti-Communist statements and seminars.

2 Are Charged In Bank Robbery $12,000 Found

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two Geauga County men were charged Thursday with robbing a bank at Kent three weeks ago. A few hours later one of them took FBI agents to a place where $12,000 in cash was hidden near South Newbury.

Edward E. Hargett, special agent in charge of the FBI here, said Louis George Zak, 26, of Newbury took agents to a gravel pit where the money was found in a paper bag hidden under a workshed.

Hargett said the money was about half the loot from the robbery of the west branch of the Portage National Bank at Kent Nov. 10. He said the other man charged with the robbery still is at large and is believed to have the rest of the loot.

FBI agents took Zak in custody at Chardon, where sheriff's deputies had been questioning him about several Geauga County burglaries.

George Edward Boardley, 21, of Burton Lakes, is being sought on bank robbery and fugitive warrants, Hargett said.

Two shabbily dressed men robbed the Kent bank of approximately $24,000 and escaped in a stolen station wagon.

Children's Yule Fund $487 Short

The Columbiana County Welfare Department's Christmas gift fund for its foster home children is only $487 short of its goal of $1,500, according to Robert Bycroft, director.

Each year the department solicits funds for presents for the children under its jurisdiction for one gift each wants most.

Welfare funds cannot be used for Christmas presents so the public is solicited annually. A total of $1,013 has been collected so far.

Any person or organizations desiring to give is urged to do so at once so that presents can be purchased while the selections are good, Bycroft said.

Women's Unit Of Trinity Church Works On Projects

Project work featured the group meetings of the Women's Association of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Tuesday.

The afternoon meeting of the Schock Group was held in the social rooms.

Mrs. Wesley Montgomery, leader, conducted devotions on "A Servant." Routine business was conducted.

The group packed fruit bowls for shut-ins. Refreshments were served 10 by Mrs. Leland Pittenger, hostess, assisted by Mrs. Fred White. Miss Diane Lynne was a guest.

The Neely Group met in the evening at the church. Mrs. Eva Pittenger conducted the Bible study on the chapter, "It Is Finished," with Scripture reference from John 18: 1, 19 and 42. She read an article, "Why I a Jew, am a Christian."

Mrs. Vernon Lovett, group leader, conducted business. The group voted to give $10 for a CARE package. Gifts for the County Home near Lisbon were wrapped. Sales tax stamps were counted.

Lunch was served 17 by Mrs. Donald Duke and Mrs. Lovett.

The Black Group also met at the church with Mrs. Joseph Persohn, leader, in charge. Mrs. Carl Porter conducted devotions on "It Is Finished" with a general discussion following.

Miss Jo Ann Persohn offered the prayer for missions, remembering Cuba, Pakistan and the West Indies.

Next year's projects were discussed during business. The group wrapped Christmas gifts and aprons for the County Home.

Refreshments were served six by Mrs. Persohn, assisted by Mrs. Curtis Garner.

Mrs. James Sheets of Thompson Ave. was hostess for the Westminster Group.

Mrs. Philip Fuhrer conducted devotions on "Thankfulness."

Mrs. M. Rudolph Miller, leader, presided for business. The group cleared the treasury by giving of $100 to the church building fund and sending a $10 CARE package.

Christmas favors and table decorations for the County Home were made. Tax stamps were counted.

Lunch was served 16 by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Willard Birkett.

All groups were reminded to bring gifts for the County Home to the association meeting Tuesday at the church. This will also be the last time for sales tax stamps to be turned in.

The dates and places for the January meeting will be announced upon the formation of the groups, which are to be re-named.

Cancer Group Picks Education Chairman

Mrs. Faye Wright was appointed educational chairman at a meeting of the Columbiana County unit of the American Cancer Society Wednesday evening in the health department at the Courthouse in Lisbon.

Reports on the Ohio Deivision meeting in Columbus in October were given by Mrs. June Jolly, executive secretary, and Mrs. Audrey Newtz, vice president of the county unit.

A film, "Life Story," was screened.

Louis Moushey of Salem, president, presided.

Children's Yule Fund $487 Short

The Columbiana County Welfare Department's Christmas gift fund for its foster home children is only $487 short of its goal of $1,500, according to Robert Bycroft, director.

Each year the department solicits funds for presents for the children under its jurisdiction for one gift each wants most.

Welfare funds cannot be used for Christmas presents so the public is solicited annually. A total of $1,013 has been collected so far.

Any person or organizations desiring to give is urged to do so at once so that presents can be purchased while the selections are good, Bycroft said.

60 Attend Joint Inspection Of Beauceant Assemblies

Mrs. James Lee of Texas, supreme worthy president, conducted joint inspection for Social Order of Beauceant Assemblies 71 of East Liverpool and 57 of Steubenville Tuesday night at the Steubenville Masonic Temple. About 60 attended.

She was assisted by Mrs. Charles Thomas, daughter of the household; Mrs. T. R. Knell, committee woman, both of Akron, and Mrs. Frank Whitfield, president of the Pittsburgh order.

Initiation ceremony was conducted by the East Liverpool group under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Wolfe, president. Special recognition was given eight past presidents from the city and 13 from Steubenville.

Contributions to the Sunshine Fund will go to the Knights Templar Eyes for the Blind Fund. An honorary membership was presented Mrs. Lee by both groups.

A dinner preceded the program. The tables were decorated in a Christmas theme. Favors were miniature calendars and rosebud corsages. Following the program, refreshments were served in the grillroom. Sir Knights were guests.

A "mock initiation" ceremony featured the meeting of the local group Monday night at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Wolfe presided and presented birthday gifts to those with anniversaries in November.

The order purchased a Columbiana County Health Bond and gave a contribution to the Muscular Dystrophy Fund. Reports were heard on the baskets given to needy families at Thanksgiving. Mrs. George Miller gave the audit report.

Sir Knights were guests at the social hour in the grillroom. The tables featured a seasonal theme with a cornucopia and yellow and gold tapers in gold candelabra. Mrs. Paul Allen, Mrs. Genevieve Hoffman and Mrs. Wolfe were in charge of decorations.

Officers will be elected at the meeting Dec. 18. A gift exchange and Christmas party will be featured.

Installation Set For Wellsville Chapter Of OES

Formal installation rites will be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic Temple at Wellsville for Wellsville Chapter 417 of the Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Betty Rager will be inducted as worthy matron and her husband, William Rager, as worthy patron for the ensuing year.

Special recognition were given two members at a meeting Monday night in the temple.

Mrs. Maebelle Manning, now of Salem, was presented a gold 40-year pin, Mrs. Mary H. Mann making the presentation. Mrs. Eva McCombs, organist, who is retiring as an officer, was given a flower-shaped gold pin, in behalf of Mrs. Jean Tipton, worthy matron.

Lunch was served in the dining-room by Mrs. Margaret Kiggans and Mrs. Helen Gray. The tables featured a Thanksgiving motif, being decorated with fruit-filled cornucopias. Three - tiered cakes were presented Mrs. Ruth Fitzsimmons and Mrs. Marguerite Wilson in honor of their birthday anniversaries. English bone china cups and saucers were given to all the officers, a gift from Mrs. Tipton.

Guests were present from Toronto, Steubenville, Newark and Salem.

A tea towel shower to replenish the kitchen supply will be held at the next regular meeting Dec. 27 at 7:30 o'clock.

Special Yule Payment Set At Penney Store

A special Christmas payment for store associates was announced today by G. F. Mueller, manager of the J. C. Penney store here.

The payment, scheduled to be made today, will include all regular associates employed on or before Oct. 1, 1961, Mueller said.

All those eligible will share in the payment except management staff members who participate in the company's long-standing profit-sharing or other management incentive plans.

The payment is in addition to regular company provisions for associates' benefits, including sick benefits, hospital and surgical insurance plan, non - contributory group life insurance, Penco profit-sharing retirement plan, discounts on purchases and others.

Wellsville Puppies Find Homes Quickly

In a "doggone" short time, 11 homeless puppies offered for adoption Thursday by Bill Long of Wellsville were claimed, the dog warden reported.

The dogs were claimed at the pound within a few hours Thursday night.

He offered for adoption today 15 young terrier puppies, five to six weeks old, plus a collie, beagle and a mixed breed.

The dogs may be seen at the pound at 16th St. and Riverside Ave. any day this week after 5 p.m. Anyone interested may contact Long at LE. 2-1951.

Awards Given 3 At Cub Meeting

Awards were presented three at a meeting of Cub Pack 60 of St. Ann Catholic Church Wednesday evening in the church recreation room.

Mike Bahen received the gold arrow, under wolf; Clarence Ammon Jr., bear badge, and James Canton, pack treasurer, a two-year service pin.

The presentations were made by Clarence Ammon, cubmaster, assisted by Robert Hocking, institutional representative.

Committee members announced include David Baker Jr., pack chairman; William Purton, advancement, and Jesse Vallera, pack secretary. Mrs. Martha Salter and Mrs. Marie Means were appointed to assist in forming of new dens.

Mothers of the boys have planned a Christmas party with gift exchange for the December Pack meeting. Each boy is to bring ornaments to trim the tree, to be donated by the Men's Service Club, as in previous years.

Hocking reported on his attendance at the recent council meeting in Lisbon. Canton gave the treasurer's report.

Revised Trailer Tax Schedule Announced

LISBON — Payment of house trailer taxes — to be made by Jan. 30 — will be based on market values and local real estate valuations under a revised tax law, Columbiana County Auditor Kenneth Bell reminded trailer owners today.

A 20 per cent reduction of the original price will be allowed for tax purposes for the first year of a trailer, 30 per cent for the second year, 40 per cent for the third year, 50 per cent for the fourth, 60 per cent for the fifth and 70 per cent thereafter.

The minimum tax paid will be $18, Bell said.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: All my life I've been heavy. The fellows considered me the jolly type. Period. Two years ago I went on a diet and lost 75 pounds. I bought a new wardrobe, changed jobs and lightened my hair. I hate to sound immodest but I'm a real dish now.

Men have discovered me, but I seem to have a knack for attracting the wrong kind. My following consists of two married men whose wives don't understand them, one semi-separated musician who smokes crazy cigarettes, a 22-year-old law student who "just loves older women" and a 55-year-old lecher with a Mercedes-Benz.

I know you'll say I'm a naughty girl but after sitting home dateless for 29 years I enjoy being noticed. How can I attract some decent men and get out of this rat race?—NEW ME.

Dear New You: Rat race is right — and it sounds as if the rats are winning.

No decent fellows will ask you out if you continue to run with this weird assortment of characters.

Call a halt and be willing to stay home until someone worth while invites you out.

Uninvited Visitors

Dear Ann: This problem will be of particular interest to people in the Seattle area but I think it can mean a lot to readers all over.

Next spring Seattle will be host to thousands who will be attending the Century 21 Exposition. Already we've received letters from relatives and friends informing us that they are coming out to stay with us.

We have a three-bedroom home and two children. My husband uses the third bedroom as an office. It doesn't even have a bed in it — just a couch.

We are not set up for house guests. But what can we say when they write and tell us they are coming?

Also, are we expected to accompany our friends and relatives to the exposition each time they go? Are we expected to buy their tickets and meals? Help! Please! — UNINTELLIGENT INTELLIGENCERS.

Dear Intelligencers: If you are not set up for house guests — say so. Offer to get your out - of - town friends and relatives accommodations at a hotel or a motel.

You are not expected to accompany your visitors to the exposition every time they go. It would be nice to buy their tickets on the first visit, as well as dinner once or twice. But Seattle residents should not feel that they are obliged to pick up the tab for floating travelers — particularly those who come to visit uninvited.

Tired Of Needlework

Dear Ann: I'm a grown woman with a family. A friend ? of mine has a cutting sense of humor but is considered very "entertaining."

For three years she has been sending me small gifts and studio cards — all with biting references to my morals. She signs some of them but others are simply from "You know who" etc. I recognize her handwriting on packages and envelopes, however.

She's terribly sweet to my face and I always acknowledge her remembrances with a smile. But I am irritated and hurt. Shall I tell her off?—SPOKE-ANNE.

Dear Spoke: Throw her "remembrances" out — unopened. Make no reference to them whatever. If she asks, you can truthfully tell her you've not seen her needlework.

Confidentially

REALLY MIXED UP. You're better off without him. He sounds dangerous. See your clergyman.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

EASTERN STAR. Busy at the other end of a camera for a change of pace, Polish film star Wanda Koczeska prepares to take a friend's picture in Warsaw. According to official Communist sources, she is a top star.

Ceramists To Name Winner Of Annual Bleininger Award

The 1962 recipient of the annual Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award "for distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics" will be named Tuesday night at a meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society.

The section's meeting at 8:15 in Mellon Institute Auditorium at Pittsburgh will follow dinner at 6:15 at Stouffer's Restaurant in the Oakland section of Pittsburgh.

The award was established in 1948 as a memorial to the late Dr. A. V. Bleininger, who was director of research for the Homer Laughlin China Co.

By tradition, the recipient's name is announced each year at the December meeting. The gold medal and scroll symbolizing the award will be presented at a dinner meeting in March.

The award committee is headed by Dr. Roland B. Snow of the U. S. Steel Corp. research laboratory at Monroeville. Nominations for the award closed Nov. 15. The committee is scheduled to meet this weekend to make the final selection.

"President's Night" also will be observed at the meeting Tuesday. Dr. John S. Nordyke, general president of the ACS, will speak on "The American Ceramic Society—Past, Present and Future." He will trace the growth of the society over the last three decades.

The 1961 winner of the award was Dr. Eugene C. Sullivan, honorary board chairman and a director of the Corning Glass Works at Corning, N. Y. The 1960 winner also was a Sullivan—John D. Sullivan, technical director of the Battelle Memorial Institute at Columbus.

F. H. McRitchie is chairman of the Pittsburgh Section. Reservations for the dinner and program are being handled by Charles J. Rickey of B. F. Drakenfeld & Co. in Washington, Pa.

Midland Club Gives Pins For Attendance

Headed by Richard Steebner and Alex Della Valle, 18 members of the Midland Rotary Club received lapel pins for consecutive years of perfect attendance at the meeting Thursday night at the New Riviera Restaurant.

Steebner has 29 years and Della Valle 26 years of perfect attendance.

The pins were presented by Charles L. Smith, president.

John Mosura of Midland showed a film and commented in his Alaskan fishing trip.

Mild November's Rains Help Restore County Water Levels

November's warm weather brought 1961 back in line with normal temperature patterns and its plentiful rains helped restore springs and wells, Ed Copeland of Millport, U.S. Weather observer, said today in his monthly summary.

One of the wettest Novembers in 31 years, last month recorded precipitation totaling 4.01 inches—over 1½ inches above the norm of 2.41, Copeland reported.

Only three Novembers had more rain in the past three decades. The wettest November in his overall 69-year records was in 1927 with 6.8 inches and the driest was in 1912 with 0.34 inch.

Rainfall in November 1960 amounted to 1.5 inches.

The temperature last month averaged 40.8 degrees, a degree warmer than the normal 39.6 degrees for November. The average in November 1950 was 40.2 degrees.

The mercury hit 81 degrees Nov. 3—tying the record for a November high and setting a record for that date, Copeland said. The temperature dipped to monthly lows of 16 degrees Nov. 11 and Nov. 22.

Snow amounted to only a inch, compared to the normal 2.3 inches. On Nov. 23 — Thanksgiving Day — a total of 1.67 inches of rain fell and, had the temperature been lower, there would have been 19 inches of snow.

Copeland said the above-normal temperatures of October and November have brought the year up to par after a nine-month period of below normal readings.

The weather watcher said he expects December to follow the warm pattern, and hinted "of the record" that a mild winter wouldn't surprise him, although he feels it's too early to say.

Salineville Lists 50 Honor Pupils

SALINEVILLE — A total of 50 Salineville High School students have achieved the honor roll Thomas Leek, principal, announced. They are:

Seniors — Jack Baker, Bill Burns (A's), Carol Allmon, John Baker, Willa Carman, Louise Curry, Gloria Dye, Darla Johnson, Judy Lewis, Mary Mattox, Ray Mundy, Ronald Steele and George Tepsic.

Juniors — Virginia Beverly, Karen Griffith, Paulette Kerr, Karen McPherson, John Rigsby, Cynthia Smith and Darlene Smith.

Sophomores — Phylis Knight (A's), Andris Baltputnis, David Crawford, Bill Forbes, Dale Johnston, Gayle Johnson, Sharon Kellison, Mary Ketchum, Karen Madison, Jennifer Needham, Karen Nicholson, David Orr, Delbert Williams, Joyce Winters, Judy Wright and Cheryl Young.

Freshmen — Rebecca Manning, Marianne Tolson (A's), Donald Anderson, Gilda Carter, Paula Crist, Renna Eisenbarth, Denise Elliott, Carol Fraser, Linda Griffith, Patricia Johnson, Mary Kuhar, Cheryl McClelland, John Strabley and Patty Wolfe.

Schedule Listed For County Food

LISBON—Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, today announced dates for distribution of surplus food at the four centers this month. The schedule follows:

Wednesday, East Liverpool Central Fire Station, for county relief, East Liverpool relief, Soldiers and Sailors relief and Aid for the Aged.

Thursday, Wellsville City Hall—Wellsville city relief, county relief, Soldiers and Sailors and Aid for the Aged.

Friday, Dec. 8, Salem City Building — Salem city relief, Aid for Aged, Soldiers and Sailors and county welfare.

Monday, Dec. 11, Lisbon warehouse — Columbiana County relief, East Palestine relief, Soldiers and Sailors and Aid for Aged.

Distribution hours at all four stations will be from 9 a. m. to noon. Previously, distribution to Aid for Aged clients was in the afternoons at East Liverpool and Lisbon, but now it will be in the mornings at the four locations and all Aid for Aged clients are to report then, Bycroft said.

The invention of the alphabet, which is the basis of modern writing, is ascribed to the ancient Phoenicians, who are thought to have taken some of the signs used in the hieroglyphics of Egypt and made them into characters which represent the sounds of the voice as we now find them in our alphabet.

Here's New Pastime: Dead Pigeon Check

Politics can wait — there's another more intriguing question today at City Hall: How long will the dead pigeon hang upside down from the TV antenna high atop a house at W. 6th and Jackson Sts.?

Apparently the victim of a poisoned corn spread in the downtown area by a pigeon-hater, the bird presumably flew to a perch on the TV antenna before the lethal dose took effect. His claws, still in a clenched position, are holding the bird on a rod of the antenna, but upside down.

The dead bird can be seen from several windows at City Hall, particularly on the third floor. Speculation began this morning on how long the macabre sight will persist after Police Capt. Robert H. Pyle and Electrician Fred Kane spotted the bird.

Wage-Price Controls Seen Out Of Question

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—Wage-price controls are out of the question at the present time, says Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

He told reporters at labor union meetings here Thursday that despite expressed union fears of possible control, the administration has none in mind.

Instead, Goldberg said, President Kennedy is depending upon voluntary reasonableness on the part of both labor and management in setting wages and prices.

The acceptance of 21 years as the age of majority is supposed to have originated in the completion of three periods of "growing up" —seven years of infancy, seven years of childhood to puberty and seven years of adolescence to manhood.

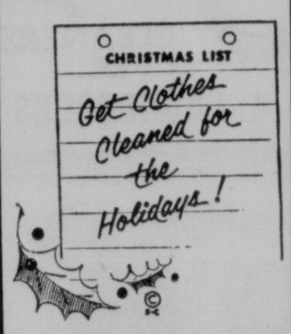

Midland Lions Club Enrolls New Member

Louis Vassalo was enrolled as a new member at the meeting of the Midland Lions Club Thursday night at Deramo's Restaurant.

A representative of the Dale Carnegie course discussed the course as a means of raising funds for the club. Paul Schlosser, president, presided.

Following the regular meeting, the club was host to a zone meeting with M. R. Osborne of Hopewell, zone chairman, presiding.

Dear New You: Rat race is right — and it sounds as if the rats are winning.

No decent fellows will ask you out if you continue to run with this weird assortment of characters.

Call a halt and be willing to stay home until someone worth while invites you out.

Uninvited Visitors

Dear Ann: This problem will be of particular interest to people in the Seattle area but I think it can mean a lot to readers all over.

Next spring Seattle will be host to thousands who will be attending the Century 21 Exposition. Already we've received letters from relatives and friends informing us that they are coming out to stay with us.

We have a three-bedroom home and two children. My husband uses the third bedroom as an office. It doesn't even have a bed in it — just a couch.

We are not set up for house guests. But what can we say when they write and tell us they are coming?

Also, are we expected to accompany our friends and relatives to the exposition each time they go? Are we expected to buy their tickets and meals? Help! Please! — UNINTELLIGENT INTELLIGENCERS.

Dear Intelligencers: If you are not set up for house guests — say so. Offer to get your out - of - town friends and relatives accommodations at a hotel or a motel.

You are not expected to accompany your visitors to the exposition every time they go. It would be nice to buy their tickets on the first visit, as well as dinner once or twice. But Seattle residents should not feel that they are obliged to pick up the tab for floating travelers — particularly those who come to visit uninvited.

Tired Of Needlework

Dear Ann: I'm a grown woman with a family. A friend ? of mine has a cutting sense of humor but is considered very "entertaining."

For three years she has been sending me small gifts and studio cards — all with biting references to my morals. She signs some of them but others are simply from "You know who" etc. I recognize her handwriting on packages and envelopes, however.

She's terribly sweet to my face and I always acknowledge her remembrances with a smile. But I am irritated and hurt. Shall I tell her off?—SPOKE-ANNE.

Dear Spoke: Throw her "remembrances" out — unopened. Make no reference to them whatever. If she asks, you can truthfully tell her you've not seen her needlework.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Confidentially

REALLY MIXED UP. You're better off without him. He sounds dangerous. See your clergyman.

Ceramists To Name Winner Of Annual Bleininger Award

The 1962 recipient of the annual Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award "for distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics" will be named Tuesday night at a meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society.

The section's meeting at 8:15 in Mellon Institute Auditorium at Pittsburgh will follow dinner at 6:15 at Stouffer's Restaurant in the Oakland section of Pittsburgh.

The award was established in 1948 as a memorial to the late Dr. A. V. Bleininger, who was director of research for the Homer Laughlin China Co.

By tradition, the recipient's name is announced each year at the December meeting. The gold medal and scroll symbolizing the award will be presented at a dinner meeting in March.

The award committee is headed by Dr. Roland B. Snow of the U. S. Steel Corp. research laboratory at Monroeville. Nominations for the award closed Nov. 15. The committee is scheduled to meet this weekend to make the final selection.

"President's Night" also will be observed at the meeting Tuesday. Dr. John S. Nordyke, general president of the ACS, will speak on "The American Ceramic Society—Past, Present and Future." He will trace the growth of the society over the last three decades.

The 1961 winner of the award was Dr. Eugene C. Sullivan, honorary board chairman and a director of the Corning Glass Works at Corning, N. Y. The 1960 winner also was a Sullivan—John D. Sullivan, technical director of the Battelle Memorial Institute at Columbus.

F. H. McRitchie is chairman of the Pittsburgh Section. Reservations for the dinner and program are being handled by Charles J. Rickey of B. F. Drakenfeld & Co. in Washington, Pa.

Midland Club Gives Pins For Attendance

Headed by Richard Steebner and Alex Della Valle, 18 members of the Midland Rotary Club received lapel pins for consecutive years of perfect attendance at the meeting Thursday night at the New Riviera Restaurant.

Steebner has 29 years and Della Valle 26 years of perfect attendance.

The pins were presented by Charles L. Smith, president.

John Mosura of Midland showed a film and commented in his Alaskan fishing trip.

Mild November's Rains Help Restore County Water Levels

November's warm weather brought 1961 back in line with normal temperature patterns and its plentiful rains helped restore springs and wells, Ed Copeland of Millport, U.S. Weather observer, said today in his monthly summary.

One of the wettest Novembers in 31 years, last month recorded precipitation totaling 4.01 inches—over 1½ inches above the norm of 2.41, Copeland reported.

Only three Novembers had more rain in the past three decades. The wettest November in his overall 69-year records was in 1927 with 6.8 inches and the driest was in 1912 with 0.34 inch.

Rainfall in November 1960 amounted to 1.5 inches.

The temperature last month averaged 40.8 degrees, a degree warmer than the normal 39.6 degrees for November. The average in November 1950 was 40.2 degrees.

The mercury hit 81 degrees Nov. 3—tying the record for a November high and setting a record for that date, Copeland said. The temperature dipped to monthly lows of 16 degrees Nov. 11 and Nov. 22.

Snow amounted to only a inch, compared to the normal 2.3 inches. On Nov. 23 — Thanksgiving Day — a total of 1.67 inches of rain fell and, had the temperature been lower, there would have been 19 inches of snow.

Copeland said the above-normal temperatures of October and November have brought the year up to par after a nine-month period of below normal readings.

The weather watcher said he expects December to follow the warm pattern, and hinted "of the record" that a mild winter wouldn't surprise him, although he feels it's too early to say.

Midland Lions Club Enrolls New Member

Louis Vassalo was enrolled as a new member at the meeting of the Midland Lions Club Thursday night at Deramo's Restaurant.

A representative of the Dale Carnegie course discussed the course as a means of raising funds for the club. Paul Schlosser, president, presided.

Following the regular meeting, the club was host to a zone meeting with M. R. Osborne of Hopewell, zone chairman, presiding.

Schedule Listed For County Food

LISBON—Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, today announced dates for distribution of surplus food at the four centers this month. The schedule follows:

Wednesday, East Liverpool Central Fire Station, for county relief, East Liverpool relief, Soldiers and Sailors relief and Aid for the Aged.

Thursday, Wellsville City Hall—Wellsville city relief, county relief, Soldiers and Sailors and Aid for the Aged.

Friday, Dec. 8, Salem City Building — Salem city relief, Aid for Aged, Soldiers and Sailors and county welfare.

Monday, Dec. 11, Lisbon warehouse — Columbiana County relief, East Palestine relief, Soldiers and Sailors and Aid for Aged.

Distribution hours at all four stations will be from 9 a. m. to noon. Previously, distribution to Aid for Aged clients was in the afternoons at East Liverpool and Lisbon, but now it will be in the mornings at the four locations and all Aid for Aged clients are to report then, Bycroft said.

The invention of the alphabet, which is the basis of modern writing, is ascribed to the ancient Phoenicians, who are thought to have taken some of the signs used in the hieroglyphics of Egypt and made them into characters which represent the sounds of the voice as we now find them in our alphabet.

Here's New Pastime: Dead Pigeon Check

Politics can wait — there's another more intriguing question today at City Hall: How long will the dead pigeon hang upside down from the TV antenna high atop a house at W. 6th and Jackson Sts.?

Apparently the victim of a poisoned corn spread in the downtown area by a pigeon-hater, the bird presumably flew to a perch on the TV antenna before the lethal dose took effect. His claws, still in a clenched position, are holding the bird on a rod of the antenna, but upside down.

The dead bird can be seen from several windows at City Hall, particularly on the third floor. Speculation began this morning on how long the macabre sight will persist after Police Capt. Robert H. Pyle and Electrician Fred Kane spotted the bird.

Wage-Price Controls Seen Out Of Question

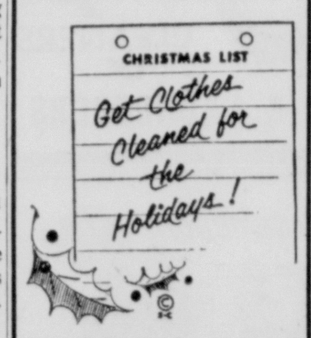

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—Wage-price controls are out of the question at the present time, says Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

He told reporters at labor union meetings here Thursday that despite expressed union fears of possible control, the administration has none in mind.

Instead, Goldberg said, President Kennedy is depending upon voluntary reasonableness on the part of both labor and management in setting wages and prices.

The acceptance of 21 years as the age of majority is supposed to have originated in the completion of three periods of "growing up" —seven years of infancy, seven years of childhood to puberty and seven years of adolescence to manhood.

Cleveland Architect Of Water System Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Emil J. Crown, 63, termed the architect of Cleveland's modern water system, died Thursday night in Cleveland Clinic Hospital.

A former councilman, Crown was city utilities director until ill health forced his retirement in 1958. He had initiated a far-reaching expansion program, a part of which is the $22 million filtration plant bearing his name in Westlake.

Egyptian Sphinx Caught In Spy Case–By 'Talking'

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's famed sphinx, silent and aloof for 4,500 years, has been caught up in a spy case—by talking.

Cairo newspapers say an Egyptian official arrested with 12 others in an alleged French spy ring took a $14,000 bribe to help a French firm get the contract to rig the ancient monument and the pyramids for sound.

Since April Egypt's biggest tourist attractions in the desert outside Cairo have been relating their centuries of history with recorded voices to a musical accompaniment and shifting colored lights.

The sphinx speaks in English, French, German and Arabic, and the tourists flock to hear.

The Egyptian ministry of culture put out about $3 million to fit out the shrines for what the French call "son et lumiere" (sound and light).

Local newspapers reported that Jean Bellivier, one of four members of a French government mission in Cairo arrested last week on spy charges, told investigators that Mohammed Soad Abdel Maguid, director of foreign relations for the ministry of culture, was paid 5,000 pounds ($14,000) to steer the contract for the "son et lumiere" wiring to a French firm, La Societe Philips Eclairage et Radio of Paris.

The newspapers said the government is setting up a commission to investigate the contract.

Maguid was one of nine persons arrested on charges of being members of the "espionage network working to overthrow the Nasser regime." French officials in Paris called the charges absurd.

Al Ahram reported today that the arrested members of the French mission would go on trial next week.

Bids Awaited Monday On Sale Of City Bonds

Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate is scheduled to open bids from investment firms Monday noon at City Hall for sale of a $36,700 municipal bond issue as the final step in financing a Beechwood sanitary sewer project completed about two years ago.

The total represents $29,098 as the property-owners' share and $7,601 as the portion of the cost assumed by the city. The charges against the property - owners will be collected on the real estate tax duplicate.

Council authorized the bond issue in legislation approved Oct. 16. The first $7,700 of the bonds will mature Dec. 1, 1963. The final installment will be retired on Dec. 1, 1967.

Admitted Slayer Faced With More Legal Trouble

CINCINNATI (AP)—More legal trouble is in store for Charles Mulcahy, former paper mill executive who admitted killing his estranged wife.

Mrs. Beatrice Bauer, administrator of the dead woman's estate, asked probate court Thursday to quiz Mulcahy about some missing valuable items, including an organ, piano, books and household items.

Mulcahy contended he knew little of this missing items except the organ, which he took because it was his, and a washer-dryer which he gave to charity.

Mulcahy, 46, pleaded guilty last Monday to first-degree manslaughter in the knifing death of his wife, Dorothy, 41, and the stabbing of a man who helped her carry a bag to her car.

Mulcahy faces two concurrent 1-to-20 year penitentiary terms.

Boys School Probe Shifts Responsibilities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A shift of responsibilities for some employes at Boys Industrial School near Lancaster will be one result of the probe of BIS, says Dr. Robert A. Haines, mental hygiene and correction department director.

He said results of the probe will be released around the first of the year. The investigation began last spring after some BIS employes registered complaints about Supt. Lyston T. Fultz, Haines said Fultz will continue in his job.

New Police Network

CINCINNATI (AP) — After a brief ceremony at start of operations, police in Hamilton County Thursday started using a new private line teletype network linking 17 suburban community law enforcement agencies with the county communications center.

Unemployed Claims Rise

Claims for unemployment compensation processed in November showed an increase of 162 over the preceding month, the Ohio State Employment Service office said today.

Claims last month totaled 2,427 against 2,265 in October, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager, reported in his monthly summary. The total includes 1,920 regular claims and 507 on an extended basis.

Regular claims included 348 initial and 1,572 continued while those processed under the federal extension totaled 50 new and 457 continued, Dinsmore said.

The office received 1,186 job applications last month compared to 1,107 in October. Sixty - five placements, including one handicapped person, were made last month against 76 in October, including five handicapped.

Jobless benefits in October totaled $51,374, Dinsmore said, including $33,597 on the regular state program and $17,777 on the federal program.

It boosted the total disbursed through the East Liverpool office to $882,082, including $99,527 for dependency allowances.

Dinsmore said $750,014 has been distributed under the regular program since January and an additional $132,068 has been paid out under the federal program which began in April.

District Youths Fined For High-Speed Race

James Allen Slanaker, 21, of Glenmoor and Allan C. Cunningham, 21, of Salineville were fined $50 and costs each Thursday by County Judge James L. MacDonald at Lisbon for reckless operation.

They were cited by the State Highway Patrol for a chase over Route 164 from Salineville at speeds up to 95 miles an hour with six occupants in each car driven by Cunningham and Slanaker.

Officers said the Cunningham car was being pursued by Slanaker's and the occupants in the latter's car started a fight near Lisbon early Monday morning. Slanaker and James Logan, 516 Broadway, Wellsville, were cited for disorderly conduct and have posted $25 bonds for a hearing Saturday night before Mayor Dean Stockman at Lisbon.

In another case, Clifford M. Fearn, 25, of Baltimore forfeited a $15 appearance bond for speeding.

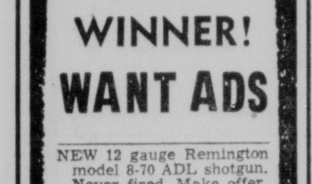

Residents Reminded On Voice Recordings

East Liverpool and Hancock County residents have only one more week to take advantage of the "Voices from Home" holiday project of the Red Cross, Mrs. Eleanor Boice, executive secretary of the city chapter, reminded today.

Residents in the areas served by the two chapters have been invited to send recorded Christmas messages to servicemen and servicewomen overseas.

Transportation will be provided to Steubenville if necessary in order that residents may have their holiday messages recorded, she reminded.

Arrangements may be made by contacting the chapter in the Mary Patterson Memorial on E. 4th St., or by calling Mrs. Boice at FU. 6-4144. The deadline for recording the greetings is Dec. 8. Response has been slow, it was reported.

Party Held At Midland

Ex-Councilman Feted

A farewell party for Harvey Sponcer, former councilman, right, was held Thursday night at the Esquire Bar by Midland Borough officials and others.

At left is William F. Shovlin, recent borough auditor, who was elected by Council at its last meeting to complete Sponsor's unexpired term.

About 30 attended the affair, including Mayor Eli Corak, councilmen, other borough officers, Board of Education members and James Ross, Beaver County commissioner chairman.

After 23 years with Air Reduction Sales Co. at Midland, Sponcer is being transferred to a plant at Riverton, N. J. where he will report Monday. He'll be in Midland until Saturday evening.

He served most of two terms as councilman and was elected recently to a third term. His resignation became effective today.

Man, 28, Killed In Love Triangle

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 28-year-old man was shot to death early today by the estranged husband of the woman he was visiting in an east Cleveland home, police reported.

The victim, Clarence Bevel, was shot twice in the chest and was dead on arrival at Huron Road Hospital.

Police said A. D. Smith, estranged husband of Mrs. Roberta Smith, 32, was sought for questioning in connection with the shooting.

Mrs. Smith, mother of six children, told police she and Bevel were talking in the bedroom when Smith came in and fired a revolver. Mrs. Smith and four of her boys, ranging in age from 11 to 14, struggled with Smith for the gun but he ran out of the house. She said she separated from her husband three years ago.

Lodge Holds Nominations

Nominations for nine officers were made at the meeting of Pennova Odd Fellows Lodge 880 Thursday evening in the IOOF Temple in East End.

The officers include noble grand, vice grand, financial secretary, treasurer, recording secretary, trustee, degree captain, secretary of the relief committee and treasurer of relief committee.

The lodge will also elect grand lodge officers, district representatives and Odd Fellows Home trustees.

The election will be held Thursday when Emerson Miller of Canton will be guest speaker.

The luncheon committee will be headed by Donald Mulligan.

H. Earle Fullerton, noble grand, presided and appointed Jeremiah B. Reed and Thomas Dover to represent the lodge on a committee for the joint annual Christmas party to be held with the Ohio City Rebekah lodge Dec. 15 at the lodge hall.

Morals Case Action Now Slated In Court

Ralph W. Byers, 35, of Norton St. faces disposition of a charge of molesting a 15-year-old boy now that the defendant has been returned from Lima State Hospital after a mental examination.

The hospital report to Common Pleas Court said he is not mentally ill but could be considered a psychopathic offender. He was convicted Oct. 17 in a jury trial and the examination was ordered by Judge Joel H. Sharp after Prosecutor G. William Brokaw questioned his mental condition.

Teen-Agers Should Strive To Be Best Self

Overweight teen - agers, today's column is for you. Once upon a time there was a young lady who was just seven pounds too heavy, and on the same haphazard eating habits, those seven pounds bulged into seventeen excess pounds! On the last day of June her plea for help arrived....

Ida Jean Kain

"Recently I've developed a weight problem. My once slightly above normal weight of 135 pounds for 5 feet 6 has turned into a bulging weight of 145 pounds!

"I'm almost 17, and my senior year is coming up. I want so much to be my pretty self again! I want to find that slim me the pounds are hiding.

"When I learned that 128 pounds is the normal weight for my age, height and bone structure, I made attempts to lose the 7 extra pounds, only to start going up and down the scales and finally to add 10 ugly pounds.

"I'VE HAD THIS extra 17 pounds for six months. Every day I told myself I was going to diet, and every day I failed. I'm so discouraged I dread getting up in the morning, and don't want to go places. I dread going back to school.

"My two best girl friends are both slim and beautiful. You'd think that just being with them would encourage me to take action. Instead, I feel sorry for myself and eat until I'm sick!

"Resolved: To change my food habits and eat the right amounts of the basic four foods daily. Also to get 8 hours of sleep, drink plenty of water and get adequate exercise.

"I have a summer job, 8 hours a day, then go home to do the cooking, laundry and cleaning. I take pride in my cooking, and I'm told that I cook far better than most married women with families.

"When I'm tempted to overeat, the mental vision that I'll flash on my mind will be a slender, pretty girl as she goes with her two pretty friends to the first get-acquainted hop of the school year. I want to thank your readers for their advice and success stories. I'll report my success!"

The report came on October 21st.

"Dear Ida Jean...I made it! I have now reached my desired weight which is 128 pounds, 5 feet 6, 17 years old. I measure 36-26-37. One more inch to go off the hips.

"I feel so good and look so much more attractive. I find that now people are interested in me as an individual.

"A few days after writing you the first letter, I slipped right back into my old ways of eating! Then came your note. You told me that it was possible to be my best self. I believed you!

"THIS WAS THE key to my success. Oh, I failed many times, but each time I picked myself up and brushed myself off, and started afresh. Thank you for the wonderful work you are doing through your column. May God bless you."

God bless you too, honey. Keep those good food and exercise habits...never lose them. Continue to believe, hold fast to your faith... for this is the way to live happily ever after.

Laitsch To Head District Firemen

Don Laitsch of the Liverpool Township East volunteer fire department was elected president of the Tri-State Firemen's Association at a meeting Thursday night in the Dixonville station. Sixty-five attended.

He succeeds Homer Cronin of Liverpool Township West.

Other new officers elected are William Rodger of the West station in LaCroft, vice president, and Devine Banks of Glenmoor, treasurer.

Allen Goodwin of West station was retained as secretary. Herman Heiney of the Civil Defense unit was named new fire instructor.

Refreshments were served by the host department. Next meeting will be in January, with the date to be announced.

The "No. 1 Worry" of teen-agers today, according to one recent poll, is their schoolwork. Next on their worry list is the gaining or losing of weight.

Unemployed Claims Rise

Claims for unemployment compensation processed in November showed an increase of 162 over the preceding month, the Ohio State Employment Service office said today.

Claims last month totaled 2,427 against 2,265 in October, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager, reported in his monthly summary. The total includes 1,920 regular claims and 507 on an extended basis.

Regular claims included 348 initial and 1,572 continued while those processed under the federal extension totaled 50 new and 457 continued, Dinsmore said.

The office received 1,186 job applications last month compared to 1,107 in October. Sixty - five placements, including one handicapped person, were made last month against 76 in October, including five handicapped.

Jobless benefits in October totaled $51,374, Dinsmore said, including $33,597 on the regular state program and $17,777 on the federal program.

It boosted the total disbursed through the East Liverpool office to $882,082, including $99,527 for dependency allowances.

Dinsmore said $750,014 has been distributed under the regular program since January and an additional $132,068 has been paid out under the federal program which began in April.

District Youths Fined For High-Speed Race

James Allen Slanaker, 21, of Glenmoor and Allan C. Cunningham, 21, of Salineville were fined $50 and costs each Thursday by County Judge James L. MacDonald at Lisbon for reckless operation.

They were cited by the State Highway Patrol for a chase over Route 164 from Salineville at speeds up to 95 miles an hour with six occupants in each car driven by Cunningham and Slanaker.

Officers said the Cunningham car was being pursued by Slanaker's and the occupants in the latter's car started a fight near Lisbon early Monday morning. Slanaker and James Logan, 516 Broadway, Wellsville, were cited for disorderly conduct and have posted $25 bonds for a hearing Saturday night before Mayor Dean Stockman at Lisbon.

In another case, Clifford M. Fearn, 25, of Baltimore forfeited a $15 appearance bond for speeding.

Residents Reminded On Voice Recordings

East Liverpool and Hancock County residents have only one more week to take advantage of the "Voices from Home" holiday project of the Red Cross, Mrs. Eleanor Boice, executive secretary of the city chapter, reminded today.

Residents in the areas served by the two chapters have been invited to send recorded Christmas messages to servicemen and servicewomen overseas.

Transportation will be provided to Steubenville if necessary in order that residents may have their holiday messages recorded, she reminded.

Arrangements may be made by contacting the chapter in the Mary Patterson Memorial on E. 4th St., or by calling Mrs. Boice at FU. 6-4144. The deadline for recording the greetings is Dec. 8. Response has been slow, it was reported.

Party Held At Midland

Ex-Councilman Feted

A farewell party for Harvey Sponcer, former councilman, right, was held Thursday night at the Esquire Bar by Midland Borough officials and others.

At left is William F. Shovlin, recent borough auditor, who was elected by Council at its last meeting to complete Sponsor's unexpired term.

About 30 attended the affair, including Mayor Eli Corak, councilmen, other borough officers, Board of Education members and James Ross, Beaver County commissioner chairman.

After 23 years with Air Reduction Sales Co. at Midland, Sponcer is being transferred to a plant at Riverton, N. J. where he will report Monday. He'll be in Midland until Saturday evening.

He served most of two terms as councilman and was elected recently to a third term. His resignation became effective today.

Man, 28, Killed In Love Triangle

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 28-year-old man was shot to death early today by the estranged husband of the woman he was visiting in an east Cleveland home, police reported.

The victim, Clarence Bevel, was shot twice in the chest and was dead on arrival at Huron Road Hospital.

Police said A. D. Smith, estranged husband of Mrs. Roberta Smith, 32, was sought for questioning in connection with the shooting.

Mrs. Smith, mother of six children, told police she and Bevel were talking in the bedroom when Smith came in and fired a revolver. Mrs. Smith and four of her boys, ranging in age from 11 to 14, struggled with Smith for the gun but he ran out of the house. She said she separated from her husband three years ago.

Lodge Holds Nominations

Nominations for nine officers were made at the meeting of Pennova Odd Fellows Lodge 880 Thursday evening in the IOOF Temple in East End.

The officers include noble grand, vice grand, financial secretary, treasurer, recording secretary, trustee, degree captain, secretary of the relief committee and treasurer of relief committee.

The lodge will also elect grand lodge officers, district representatives and Odd Fellows Home trustees.

The election will be held Thursday when Emerson Miller of Canton will be guest speaker.

The luncheon committee will be headed by Donald Mulligan.

H. Earle Fullerton, noble grand, presided and appointed Jeremiah B. Reed and Thomas Dover to represent the lodge on a committee for the joint annual Christmas party to be held with the Ohio City Rebekah lodge Dec. 15 at the lodge hall.

Bank Project For $100,000 Tops Permits

A $100,000 project for a new "auto bank" on E. 4th St. sent November building permits in East Liverpool skyrocketing to $131,234 — up $96,785 from October's $34,450.

Potters Construction Co., the general contractor, obtained the permit to erect the new structure for the First National Bank on the site of the former Trinity United Presbyterian Church building, which is being razed.

It was one of 15 permits issued last month by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's office.

First National announced plans several weeks ago for the new structure. Part of an expansion program, it will be back-to-back with the bank's main structure, which fronts on E. 5th St.

In connection with the bank project, the Christy Demolition Co. obtained a permit to tear down the old church structure. The work is estimated to cost $2,000, the permit says.

Here are the other permits issued in November, the persons who obtained them, the work authorized and the estimated cost of each job:

Leonard Coursin, to erect a front porch on a house on Henry Ave., $50.

Ethel Dyer, to remodel the bathroom in a home at 679 Lincoln Ave., $100.

Harry M. Kennedy, to repair the roof on a home at 644 Elson St., $300.

James Boyd, contractor, to erect a concrete block building on Minnesota Ave., $8,000.

Altantic Refining Co., to install a 2,000-gallon tank in a service station at 1812 Harvey Ave., $500.

Leonard Wines, to erect an apartment over a garage at 163 Thompson Ave., $4,500.

Mrs. Charles Whitney, to remodel a home at 1362 Pennsylvania Ave., $2,000.

Adkins Lumber Co. to install new siding on a home at 901 Fairview St., $1,600.

Same, to install aluminum storm windows on a house at 1819 Ohio Ave., $765.

Same, to place new siding and storm windows on a home at 862 Lisbon St., $1,700.

Same, to erect a two-room home at 1044 Dresden Ave., $4,685.

Same, to install a new kitchen and bathroom in a home at 1034 St. George St., $4,450.

Same, to install new paneling and kitchen cabinets in a house at 1045 St. George St., $1,585.

Donald Campbell, to erect a garage and apartment at 903 Denver St., $1,000.

Meanwhile, Basil Mangano, operator of the Central Service Co., obtained a permit to tear down an old house at 2101 Michigan Ave. In Municipal Court about two weeks ago for failure to comply with a state fire marshal's order to tear down or repair the building, Mangano was given 60 days to decide upon which alternative he would choose. The permit said the razing work will cost $410.

CD Eyeing Shelter-Adapted Schools In Event Of Attack

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil Defense planners are looking to the use of shelter-adapted schools as key refuge centers in the event a nuclear attack should come at night.

Schools often are the only suitable structures for this purpose in residential areas, the officials said today.

For this reason, it is believed the Pentagon's Civil Defense office is considering the possibility that the federal government pay part of the cost of adapting schools as shelters.

Steuart Pittman, assistant secretary of defense for civil defense, was expected to give further information on the shelter program at a news conference today.

Officials said there is a popular misconception that shelters must be underground to be effective against fallout. On the contrary, they said, multistory buildings provide excellent protection.

Preliminary surveys have indicated there is plenty of shelter space in suburban residential areas. That's where the schools come in.

The shelter areas in the schools would have to be equipped with proper ventilation facilities and stocked with emergency supplies. The schools could be of greater benefit in event of attack at night when downtown areas are mostly vacated.

The Civil Defense office has conducted several pilot operations in marking and identifying spaces in public and private buildings that could serve as fallout shelters.

The marking-identifying program is about to get going on a nationwide scale. Congress voted $169 million for this and for stocking the selected areas with food and other supplies. This phase of the program is expected to be finished by about July. Officials estimated that these areas might provide protection for about 50 million people.

4 In IBOP Due At Union Session

A four-man delegation will represent the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters at the annual convention of the AFL-CIO which opens Tuesday in Miami Beach.

E. L. Wheatley, international president, will lead the group, which includes Clyde Jones of Alliance, international eighth vice president, and two delegates named in a general election in May — Ralph Glaab of Beaver Falls and E. N. Steward of Richmond, Calif.

A jiggerman at the Mayer China Co. in Beaver Falls, Glaab is a member of Local 33. Steward is a packer and a member of Local 89 in Richmond.

President John F. Kennedy will address the convention's opening session. Other speakers will include: Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Frank B. Ellis, director of Civilian Defense, Charles L. Bacon, national commander of the American Legion, and the Rev. Martin Luther King, of Atlanta, leader in the southern Negroes' battle for civil rights.

CD Eyeing Shelter-Adapted Schools In Event Of Attack

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil Defense planners are looking to the use of shelter-adapted schools as key refuge centers in the event a nuclear attack should come at night.

Schools often are the only suitable structures for this purpose in residential areas, the officials said today.

For this reason, it is believed the Pentagon's Civil Defense office is considering the possibility that the federal government pay part of the cost of adapting schools as shelters.

Steuart Pittman, assistant secretary of defense for civil defense, was expected to give further information on the shelter program at a news conference today.

Officials said there is a popular misconception that shelters must be underground to be effective against fallout. On the contrary, they said, multistory buildings provide excellent protection.

Preliminary surveys have indicated there is plenty of shelter space in suburban residential areas. That's where the schools come in.

The shelter areas in the schools would have to be equipped with proper ventilation facilities and stocked with emergency supplies. The schools could be of greater benefit in event of attack at night when downtown areas are mostly vacated.

The Civil Defense office has conducted several pilot operations in marking and identifying spaces in public and private buildings that could serve as fallout shelters.

The marking-identifying program is about to get going on a nationwide scale. Congress voted $169 million for this and for stocking the selected areas with food and other supplies. This phase of the program is expected to be finished by about July. Officials estimated that these areas might provide protection for about 50 million people.

4 In IBOP Due At Union Session

A four-man delegation will represent the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters at the annual convention of the AFL-CIO which opens Tuesday in Miami Beach.

E. L. Wheatley, international president, will lead the group, which includes Clyde Jones of Alliance, international eighth vice president, and two delegates named in a general election in May — Ralph Glaab of Beaver Falls and E. N. Steward of Richmond, Calif.

A jiggerman at the Mayer China Co. in Beaver Falls, Glaab is a member of Local 33. Steward is a packer and a member of Local 89 in Richmond.

President John F. Kennedy will address the convention's opening session. Other speakers will include: Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Frank B. Ellis, director of Civilian Defense, Charles L. Bacon, national commander of the American Legion, and the Rev. Martin Luther King, of Atlanta, leader in the southern Negroes' battle for civil rights.

6 School Officials Honored For Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Association of School Administrators, meeting as part of the Ohio Education Association convention, today honored six top public school officials who have completed 25 years of administrative service.

Those who received awards were Supt. Raymond F. Hatfield, Warren County; Lloyd E. Narragon, executive head of Buckeye Local school in Medina County; Supt. Woodrow W. Purdy of Urbana; R. C. Reynolds, executive head of Jefferson Local school in Franklin County; Supt. L. F. Schumaker, Auglaize County, and J. F. Zack, executive head of Ridgeville Local school, Lorain County.

1961 Traffic Deaths 2% Lower Than 1960

CHICAGO (AP)— The nation's traffic deaths in the first 10 months of this year—30,800—were 2 per cent lower than for a comparable period in 1960, the National Safety Council said today.

The NSC said this year's toll, with an estimated 2 per cent rise in travel, compared with 31,270 for the corresponding period in 1960. The October toll of 3,690 was the same recorded for the month a year ago, the council said.

The mileage death rate for the 10-month period was 5.1—per 100 million vehicle miles—compared with 5.2 for the same period in both 1959 and 1960, the NSC said.

Commission Okays Jobless Pay Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A legislative service commission has approved detailed studies of Ohio's unemployment compensation setup and the three state retirement systems.

The commission acted at its regular meeting Thursday.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, commission chairman, said financing and needs of the programs would receive particular attention. The commission also will continue a study expected to result in further revision of the Ohio code of laws.

For every four men over 85, there are seven women.

Army-Navy Winner May Smell Roses

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

'The Scarlet's Red Glare' . . .

The "Scarlet" (that is another name for red) was never brighter than it has been this past week, especially in the faces of dyed-in-the-wool Ohio State Alumni or anybody else who has an inkling for football.

Personally, since we don't have the time or that other necessary essential—money—to see the Rose Bowl in person, we were marking Jan. 1 on our calendar and reserving a seat in front of a television set to see Ohio State and UCLA go at it in the battle for the roses.

We could vision Bob Ferguson (22-inch neck and all) blasting through the Uclan line, the Ohio State defense being ever alert in the bright California sun and Paul Warfield dancing along the sidelines.

We'll be watching the Rose Bowl next year, but cannot truthfully say we are looking forward to it with the same enthusiasm we had before when we thought Ohio State would be there.

FROM ALL the comment, the student demonstrations, etc., we are not alone in our thinking.

We feel that the faculty council slapped Woody Hayes and his great football squad right smack in the face. In other words, that was the payment rendered for a job well done. Doesn't make sense from this corner.

—:—

DICK LARKINS, Ohio State's athletic director and at one time an all-around athlete at East Liverpool, said of the decision: "I'm disappointed. I thought it would go the other way."

—:—

WOODY HAYES, speaking Wednesday night at a football banquet in North Canton, was quoted as saying: "I'm not surprised at the decision of the faculty council. You get used to these things and it comes as no surprise. I respect the integrity of the faculty," he said, then added, "I wish they would respect my integrity as a football coach."

No Orange Bowl For Massillon . . .

MASSILLON High School had to turn down a chance to play in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla. (not the game but the stadium).

Leo Strang, Massillon's head coach, was contacted earlier this week by Miami officials and invited to meet Miami High School, the Florida state champion in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Dec. 6.

However, for several reasons, Strang had to turn it down.

One was that the Ohio High School Athletic Association rules forbid playing football after the first Saturday following Thanksgiving and another OHSAA rule prohibits member schools from playing more than 300 miles from the school.

Strang also pointed out that several football regulars are on the basketball team.

DON'T LOOK for Massillon and Niles to be meeting in football next season. Niles has filled the open dates that the two schools had in common, but indications are the two Ohio powers may get together in the 1963 season.

District Cagers In College . . .

TWO LOCAL cagers, Steve Yetso of Midland and Wellsville's Dan Baldwin, are attempting to crack the starting lineup at Steubenville College.

The Barons open their season tonight at Canton against Malone College, where Chester's Dave Brookes is a regular.

AMONG the ex-Potters in college basketball is Bob Dawson, who will be on the starting five at Bowling Green this season.

In a recent article in a campus publication, Dawson was called "a scrappy little playmaker who shows his value to his team from the great ability to quarterback the offense on the court, plus his great defense play."

Dawson broke into the starting lineup midway through the 1960-61 season.

—:—

EAST LIVERPOOL'S one - two punch last season, Ken Miller and Ken Cunningham, are set to open their freshmen basketball campaigns.

Miller is on the Toledo U. frosh squad, while Cunningham was a big gun for the Cincinnati U. freshmen team in a game with the varsity several weeks ago.

The UC freshmen will hold an intrasquad game Saturday, then meet the Miami freshmen Tuesday at Cincinnati Gardens.

Football–Indoors? . . .

YES, that's right, football indoors. The Associated Press calls it the little Army-Navy game to be played Saturday between Pennsylvania Military College and Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy.

The game will be played before a sellout crowd of 12,200 in Atlantic City's mammoth Convention Hall.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

JOHN PAPE, the ex - Chester and West Liberty cager, is reserve basketball coach at Beaver Local High School. He teaches in the school's elementary system.

—:—

HOW TRUE. This following item comes from Carroll H. (Beano) Cook, Pitt University's athletic news director. Beano says, "If a professor flunks 28 of 30 students, the students are dumb. If 28 of 30 football players play poorly, the coach is terrible."

Bill Pierce, Larsen Sold For Rookies

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox' determined drive to rid themselves of aged performers continued today.

Engineering his third major trade in four days, Eddie Short, the youthful general manager, dealt two veteran pitchers, left-hander Billy Pierce and right-hander Don Larsen to the San Francisco Giants for three young players and a fourth to be named later.

The three Sox newcomers, all rookies, are first baseman Bob Farley, 23; and right-handed pitchers Eddie Fisher, 24, and Dom Zanni, 29.

"The accent is on youth," said Chicago manager Al Lopez. "We prefer to gamble on young promising players rather than continue with players who no longer can be counted on to take their regular turn on the mound.

"At best, Pierce would have been our fifth or sixth pitcher and we would have had to spot him against certain clubs. Also, we have four left-handers—Juan Pizzaro, Frank Baumann, Joe Horlen and Gary Peters and Pierce became expendable."

Pierce, 34, a standout with the White Sox since 1949, had a 10-9 record last year with a 3.80 earned run average. Larsen, author of the only no-hitter in World Series history, had a fine 8-1 with the White Sox after they acquired him last June from Kansas City.

"Pierce is the key fellow in the deal," said Alvin Dark, manager of the Giants, "but we are counting on Larsen to help us a great deal. We plan to use him as our long relief man with Stu Miller, our great relief specialist, as the short man."

The new Chicago trio enjoyed successful 1961 seasons with the Giants' Tacoma farm club in the Pacific Coast League. Farley batted .307 in 114 games, hit 20 home runs and drove in 71 runs.

Fisher had a 9-5 record. He walked only 26 and struck out 84 in 128 innings.

Zanni was brought up by the Giants late last season after compiling an 8-4 record and turning in a 2.56 earned run average in triple A. He won his only decision with the Giants.

Last Monday, the White Sox traded Minnie Minoso, 37, to the St. Louis Cardinals for Joe Cunningham, 29, first baseman and outfielder. The next day, the Sox sent Roy Sievers, 35, their slugging first baseman, to Philadelphia for Charlie Smith, 24, a third baseman and John Buzhardt, 26, a pitcher.

FIGHT RESULTS

Dallas—Pete Rademacher, 199, Columbus, Ga., stopped Buddy Turman, 197, Dallas, 9.

Philadelphia—Charlet Scott, 148, Philadelphia, outpointed Kid Rayo, 146, Los Angeles, 10.

Los Angeles — Eddie Pace, 148½, Los Angeles, outpointed Hilario Morales, 146½, Mexico City, 10.

Kuzio Shows 2 Lettermen

New Cumberland Opens Tonight; Hopes To Continue Floor Success

NEW CUMBERLAND — With two lettermen back, some rebuilding will have to be done by coach John Kuzio who saw his New Cumberland five pick up most of the marbles during the 1960-61 campaign.

Kuzio was in his first year as head coach last season and his squad produced one of the finest records at the Hancock County school and moved further along the tournament trail than any other team in New Cumberland's cage history.

The final result last season was a 15-5 record, with a sectional and regional championship before the bubble burst when New Cumberland was eliminated in area play by Barrackville.

The Blue Raiders will get the new campaign under way tonight, with South Side of Hookstown invading the New Cumberland gym.

Kuzio seems pretty well set on a starting lineup right now. Anchoring the first five are the two letter-winners, Gary Nardo, a 6-foot-4 senior, and Kenny Freshwater, 6-foot-1 junior.

Both Nardo and Freshwater had a hand in the great season a year ago. They were teammates of Charlie Miller, Jim Kiger, Ronny Haynes, Tom Hale and Joe Everly, who were lost through graduation.

Kuzio has singled out three boys who have been looking good in practice sessions. They are seniors George Myers, another tall cager at 6-foot-4, Alan Katzenmeyer, 5-foot-9½ junior, and James Burskey, 5-foot-10 junior, who is a transfer student.

"The desire and interest is high. I think they will develop this season," Kuzio said.

Juniors and sophomores make up the greater percentage of the 22 man squad, with only two seniors listed.

Kuzio is assisted by his brother Steve and both are former New Cumberland athletes.

Kuzio served as an assistant to Charlie Miller in both football and basketball for 17 years before taking over the head coaching job two years ago.

Auburn Last Hurdle For Alabama

By The Associated Press

The 1961 college football season finishes its regular campaign on Saturday with its annual military maneuver in gigantic Philadelphia Stadium when Army meets Navy before President Kennedy and 102,000 fans.

Indications are that one of the two service schools may get to play UCLA in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day in one of two bowl spots to be decided as the curtain falls on another hectic season. If it isn't a service academy, it will probably be either Minnesota or Michigan State of the Big Ten.

The other is the Bluebonnet Bowl spot left open for Rice (6-3) if it wins over Baylor (5-4). The latter already is ticketed for New York's Gotham Bowl against Utah State, win, lose or draw.

Alabama's Crimson Tide (9-1), playing Auburn, could nail down the No. 1 spot in next week's final Associated Press poll, and with it the mythical national title, plus a share of the Southeastern Conference title with Louisiana State.

The Tide has already indicated it will go to the Sugar Bowl to face Arkansas, making the announcement official after its game against Auburn. The Auburn Tigers (6-3), incidentally, are hoping for a Rice defeat that could send them into the Bluebonnet Bowl against Kansas.

Mississippi, ranked fifth, and sixth-ranked Colorado are the only other of the elite to see action. The Rebels (8-1) play Mississippi State (5-4) and are expected to announce acceptance of a Cotton Bowl bid to go against Texas.

Colorado, 8-1, with the Big Eight Title and a trip to the Orange Bowl all wrapped up, plays Air Force (3-6). Two other bowl clubs also get their last regular season tests. Georgia Tech, 6-3, and set to face Penn State in the Gator Bowl, meets Georgia (3-6), and Miami (Fla.) 6-3, and ticketed for a Dec. 16 date against Syracuse in Philadelphia's Liberty Bowl, plays Florida (4-4-1).

Other closing day games have Notre Dame facing Duke, North Carolina against Virginia, Holy Cross meeting Boston College, SMU playing Texas Christian, Oklahoma looking for its fifth straight victory after five opening losses against Oklahoma State, Oregon State at Houston and Tennessee facing Vanderbilt.

Red Sox Pitching Ace Gains Rookie-Of-Year

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Don Schwall, who came up to the Boston Red Sox from Seattle in late May to pitch his way into an assignment in the All-Star game, was voted the American League Rookie of the Year for the 1961 season today.

The 6-foot-6 right-hander edged Dick Howser, Kansas City shortstop, by one vote in the closest competition since the award was officially instituted by the Baseball Writers' Association in 1949. Billy Williams, Chicago Cubs' outfielder, gained the rookie award in the National League, which was announced Thursday.

Schwall received seven and Howser six of the 20 votes cast as six players, the most in any year, were given consideration.

Lee Thomas, hard-hitting outfielder of the Los Angeles Angels, drew two votes as did outfielder Floyd Robinson of Chicago, and second baseman Chuck Schilling of the Red Sox. Jake Wood, Detroit second baseman, had one vote.

Schwall, who was better known at Oklahoma University for his prowess in basketball, won 15 games for the Red Sox although he did not make his first major league appearance until May 25. He lost only seven and had a 3.27 earned run average.

The big fellow appeared in 25 games, all starts, completed 10, walked 110 and struck out 91. He pitched three innings for the American League in the second All-Star game and was charged with one run in a game that ended in a 1-1 tie.

Twyman, Oscar Lead Royals To Win Over Celts

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics, leading the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association by four games, might be out of sight if it weren't for the teams in the West.

Cincinnati, led by Jack Twyman and Oscar Robertson, mounted a big last-quarter comeback and clipped the Celts 133-130 in Providence, R.I., Thursday night.

It was only the third loss in 17 games for the three-time league champions, but all have been to Western Division teams.

The Celtics had a 20-point lead early in the third period, then went cold. The lead dwindled to 10 going into the fourth period, and the combination of Twyman and Robertson, who scored 63 points between them, whittled away.

It was the only league game scheduled.

Columbiana Assn. Sets Turkey Shoot Sunday

The Columbiana County Fish and Game Association will hold another turkey shoot Sunday beginning at 1:30 p. m. at the club's range located off Route 7 on the Elkton Rd. Still targets and trap shooting will be on the program.

Proceeds from the shoots are used to pay for the rifle range.

All-Eastern Ohio Mention Given 10 District Players

East Liverpool, Wellsville and Stanton Local gridders were given honorable mention on the 1961 All-Eastern Ohio squad picked by Ohio Valley coaches and sponsored by the Times - Leader Newspaper of Martins Ferry.

Tackle Jim Ferello and fullback Jerry Bell were East Liverpool's players honored while Wellsville showed end Jack Culp, tackle Alvin Jackson, guard Mike Thompson, quarterback Roger Ours and fullback John Euill.

From Stanton Local, which had the top record of schools in this area during the 1961 campaign, were quarterback Bob Mills, halfback Stan Wickham and end Curt Rose.

Local Elks To Honor EL Gridders Tonight

The East Liverpool High School football team, their guests and members of the coaching staff will be honored by local Elks Lodge 258 tonight from 8 to 11 p.m. A dance to the music of the "Headliners" will be held and lunch will be served by the Lady Elks. Ed Massey is chairman of the party.

Army-Navy Winner May Smell Roses

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

'The Scarlet's Red Glare' . . .

The "Scarlet" (that is another name for red) was never brighter than it has been this past week, especially in the faces of dyed-in-the-wool Ohio State Alumni or anybody else who has an inkling for football.

Personally, since we don't have the time or that other necessary essential—money—to see the Rose Bowl in person, we were marking Jan. 1 on our calendar and reserving a seat in front of a television set to see Ohio State and UCLA go at it in the battle for the roses.

We could vision Bob Ferguson (22-inch neck and all) blasting through the Uclan line, the Ohio State defense being ever alert in the bright California sun and Paul Warfield dancing along the sidelines.

We'll be watching the Rose Bowl next year, but cannot truthfully say we are looking forward to it with the same enthusiasm we had before when we thought Ohio State would be there.

FROM ALL the comment, the student demonstrations, etc., we are not alone in our thinking.

We feel that the faculty council slapped Woody Hayes and his great football squad right smack in the face. In other words, that was the payment rendered for a job well done. Doesn't make sense from this corner.

—:—

DICK LARKINS, Ohio State's athletic director and at one time an all-around athlete at East Liverpool, said of the decision: "I'm disappointed. I thought it would go the other way."

—:—

WOODY HAYES, speaking Wednesday night at a football banquet in North Canton, was quoted as saying: "I'm not surprised at the decision of the faculty council. You get used to these things and it comes as no surprise. I respect the integrity of the faculty," he said, then added, "I wish they would respect my integrity as a football coach."

No Orange Bowl For Massillon . . .

MASSILLON High School had to turn down a chance to play in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla. (not the game but the stadium).

Leo Strang, Massillon's head coach, was contacted earlier this week by Miami officials and invited to meet Miami High School, the Florida state champion in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Dec. 6.

However, for several reasons, Strang had to turn it down.

One was that the Ohio High School Athletic Association rules forbid playing football after the first Saturday following Thanksgiving and another OHSAA rule prohibits member schools from playing more than 300 miles from the school.

Strang also pointed out that several football regulars are on the basketball team.

DON'T LOOK for Massillon and Niles to be meeting in football next season. Niles has filled the open dates that the two schools had in common, but indications are the two Ohio powers may get together in the 1963 season.

District Cagers In College . . .

TWO LOCAL cagers, Steve Yetso of Midland and Wellsville's Dan Baldwin, are attempting to crack the starting lineup at Steubenville College.

The Barons open their season tonight at Canton against Malone College, where Chester's Dave Brookes is a regular.

AMONG the ex-Potters in college basketball is Bob Dawson, who will be on the starting five at Bowling Green this season.

In a recent article in a campus publication, Dawson was called "a scrappy little playmaker who shows his value to his team from the great ability to quarterback the offense on the court, plus his great defense play."

Dawson broke into the starting lineup midway through the 1960-61 season.

—:—

EAST LIVERPOOL'S one - two punch last season, Ken Miller and Ken Cunningham, are set to open their freshmen basketball campaigns.

Miller is on the Toledo U. frosh squad, while Cunningham was a big gun for the Cincinnati U. freshmen team in a game with the varsity several weeks ago.

The UC freshmen will hold an intrasquad game Saturday, then meet the Miami freshmen Tuesday at Cincinnati Gardens.

Football–Indoors? . . .

YES, that's right, football indoors. The Associated Press calls it the little Army-Navy game to be played Saturday between Pennsylvania Military College and Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy.

The game will be played before a sellout crowd of 12,200 in Atlantic City's mammoth Convention Hall.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

JOHN PAPE, the ex - Chester and West Liberty cager, is reserve basketball coach at Beaver Local High School. He teaches in the school's elementary system.

—:—

HOW TRUE. This following item comes from Carroll H. (Beano) Cook, Pitt University's athletic news director. Beano says, "If a professor flunks 28 of 30 students, the students are dumb. If 28 of 30 football players play poorly, the coach is terrible."

Bill Pierce, Larsen Sold For Rookies

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox' determined drive to rid themselves of aged performers continued today.

Engineering his third major trade in four days, Eddie Short, the youthful general manager, dealt two veteran pitchers, left-hander Billy Pierce and right-hander Don Larsen to the San Francisco Giants for three young players and a fourth to be named later.

The three Sox newcomers, all rookies, are first baseman Bob Farley, 23; and right-handed pitchers Eddie Fisher, 24, and Dom Zanni, 29.

"The accent is on youth," said Chicago manager Al Lopez. "We prefer to gamble on young promising players rather than continue with players who no longer can be counted on to take their regular turn on the mound.

"At best, Pierce would have been our fifth or sixth pitcher and we would have had to spot him against certain clubs. Also, we have four left-handers—Juan Pizzaro, Frank Baumann, Joe Horlen and Gary Peters and Pierce became expendable."

Pierce, 34, a standout with the White Sox since 1949, had a 10-9 record last year with a 3.80 earned run average. Larsen, author of the only no-hitter in World Series history, had a fine 8-1 with the White Sox after they acquired him last June from Kansas City.

"Pierce is the key fellow in the deal," said Alvin Dark, manager of the Giants, "but we are counting on Larsen to help us a great deal. We plan to use him as our long relief man with Stu Miller, our great relief specialist, as the short man."

The new Chicago trio enjoyed successful 1961 seasons with the Giants' Tacoma farm club in the Pacific Coast League. Farley batted .307 in 114 games, hit 20 home runs and drove in 71 runs.

Fisher had a 9-5 record. He walked only 26 and struck out 84 in 128 innings.

Zanni was brought up by the Giants late last season after compiling an 8-4 record and turning in a 2.56 earned run average in triple A. He won his only decision with the Giants.

Last Monday, the White Sox traded Minnie Minoso, 37, to the St. Louis Cardinals for Joe Cunningham, 29, first baseman and outfielder. The next day, the Sox sent Roy Sievers, 35, their slugging first baseman, to Philadelphia for Charlie Smith, 24, a third baseman and John Buzhardt, 26, a pitcher.

FIGHT RESULTS

Dallas—Pete Rademacher, 199, Columbus, Ga., stopped Buddy Turman, 197, Dallas, 9.

Philadelphia—Charlet Scott, 148, Philadelphia, outpointed Kid Rayo, 146, Los Angeles, 10.

Los Angeles — Eddie Pace, 148½, Los Angeles, outpointed Hilario Morales, 146½, Mexico City, 10.

Kuzio Shows 2 Lettermen

New Cumberland Opens Tonight; Hopes To Continue Floor Success

NEW CUMBERLAND — With two lettermen back, some rebuilding will have to be done by coach John Kuzio who saw his New Cumberland five pick up most of the marbles during the 1960-61 campaign.

Kuzio was in his first year as head coach last season and his squad produced one of the finest records at the Hancock County school and moved further along the tournament trail than any other team in New Cumberland's cage history.

The final result last season was a 15-5 record, with a sectional and regional championship before the bubble burst when New Cumberland was eliminated in area play by Barrackville.

The Blue Raiders will get the new campaign under way tonight, with South Side of Hookstown invading the New Cumberland gym.

Kuzio seems pretty well set on a starting lineup right now. Anchoring the first five are the two letter-winners, Gary Nardo, a 6-foot-4 senior, and Kenny Freshwater, 6-foot-1 junior.

Both Nardo and Freshwater had a hand in the great season a year ago. They were teammates of Charlie Miller, Jim Kiger, Ronny Haynes, Tom Hale and Joe Everly, who were lost through graduation.

Kuzio has singled out three boys who have been looking good in practice sessions. They are seniors George Myers, another tall cager at 6-foot-4, Alan Katzenmeyer, 5-foot-9½ junior, and James Burskey, 5-foot-10 junior, who is a transfer student.

"The desire and interest is high. I think they will develop this season," Kuzio said.

Juniors and sophomores make up the greater percentage of the 22 man squad, with only two seniors listed.

Kuzio is assisted by his brother Steve and both are former New Cumberland athletes.

Kuzio served as an assistant to Charlie Miller in both football and basketball for 17 years before taking over the head coaching job two years ago.

Auburn Last Hurdle For Alabama

By The Associated Press

The 1961 college football season finishes its regular campaign on Saturday with its annual military maneuver in gigantic Philadelphia Stadium when Army meets Navy before President Kennedy and 102,000 fans.

Indications are that one of the two service schools may get to play UCLA in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day in one of two bowl spots to be decided as the curtain falls on another hectic season. If it isn't a service academy, it will probably be either Minnesota or Michigan State of the Big Ten.

The other is the Bluebonnet Bowl spot left open for Rice (6-3) if it wins over Baylor (5-4). The latter already is ticketed for New York's Gotham Bowl against Utah State, win, lose or draw.

Alabama's Crimson Tide (9-1), playing Auburn, could nail down the No. 1 spot in next week's final Associated Press poll, and with it the mythical national title, plus a share of the Southeastern Conference title with Louisiana State.

The Tide has already indicated it will go to the Sugar Bowl to face Arkansas, making the announcement official after its game against Auburn. The Auburn Tigers (6-3), incidentally, are hoping for a Rice defeat that could send them into the Bluebonnet Bowl against Kansas.

Mississippi, ranked fifth, and sixth-ranked Colorado are the only other of the elite to see action. The Rebels (8-1) play Mississippi State (5-4) and are expected to announce acceptance of a Cotton Bowl bid to go against Texas.

Colorado, 8-1, with the Big Eight Title and a trip to the Orange Bowl all wrapped up, plays Air Force (3-6). Two other bowl clubs also get their last regular season tests. Georgia Tech, 6-3, and set to face Penn State in the Gator Bowl, meets Georgia (3-6), and Miami (Fla.) 6-3, and ticketed for a Dec. 16 date against Syracuse in Philadelphia's Liberty Bowl, plays Florida (4-4-1).

Other closing day games have Notre Dame facing Duke, North Carolina against Virginia, Holy Cross meeting Boston College, SMU playing Texas Christian, Oklahoma looking for its fifth straight victory after five opening losses against Oklahoma State, Oregon State at Houston and Tennessee facing Vanderbilt.

Red Sox Pitching Ace Gains Rookie-Of-Year

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Don Schwall, who came up to the Boston Red Sox from Seattle in late May to pitch his way into an assignment in the All-Star game, was voted the American League Rookie of the Year for the 1961 season today.

The 6-foot-6 right-hander edged Dick Howser, Kansas City shortstop, by one vote in the closest competition since the award was officially instituted by the Baseball Writers' Association in 1949. Billy Williams, Chicago Cubs' outfielder, gained the rookie award in the National League, which was announced Thursday.

Schwall received seven and Howser six of the 20 votes cast as six players, the most in any year, were given consideration.

Lee Thomas, hard-hitting outfielder of the Los Angeles Angels, drew two votes as did outfielder Floyd Robinson of Chicago, and second baseman Chuck Schilling of the Red Sox. Jake Wood, Detroit second baseman, had one vote.

Schwall, who was better known at Oklahoma University for his prowess in basketball, won 15 games for the Red Sox although he did not make his first major league appearance until May 25. He lost only seven and had a 3.27 earned run average.

The big fellow appeared in 25 games, all starts, completed 10, walked 110 and struck out 91. He pitched three innings for the American League in the second All-Star game and was charged with one run in a game that ended in a 1-1 tie.

Twyman, Oscar Lead Royals To Win Over Celts

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics, leading the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association by four games, might be out of sight if it weren't for the teams in the West.

Cincinnati, led by Jack Twyman and Oscar Robertson, mounted a big last-quarter comeback and clipped the Celts 133-130 in Providence, R.I., Thursday night.

It was only the third loss in 17 games for the three-time league champions, but all have been to Western Division teams.

The Celtics had a 20-point lead early in the third period, then went cold. The lead dwindled to 10 going into the fourth period, and the combination of Twyman and Robertson, who scored 63 points between them, whittled away.

It was the only league game scheduled.

Columbiana Assn. Sets Turkey Shoot Sunday

The Columbiana County Fish and Game Association will hold another turkey shoot Sunday beginning at 1:30 p. m. at the club's range located off Route 7 on the Elkton Rd. Still targets and trap shooting will be on the program.

Proceeds from the shoots are used to pay for the rifle range.

All-Eastern Ohio Mention Given 10 District Players

East Liverpool, Wellsville and Stanton Local gridders were given honorable mention on the 1961 All-Eastern Ohio squad picked by Ohio Valley coaches and sponsored by the Times - Leader Newspaper of Martins Ferry.

Tackle Jim Ferello and fullback Jerry Bell were East Liverpool's players honored while Wellsville showed end Jack Culp, tackle Alvin Jackson, guard Mike Thompson, quarterback Roger Ours and fullback John Euill.

From Stanton Local, which had the top record of schools in this area during the 1961 campaign, were quarterback Bob Mills, halfback Stan Wickham and end Curt Rose.

Local Elks To Honor EL Gridders Tonight

The East Liverpool High School football team, their guests and members of the coaching staff will be honored by local Elks Lodge 258 tonight from 8 to 11 p.m. A dance to the music of the "Headliners" will be held and lunch will be served by the Lady Elks. Ed Massey is chairman of the party.

Joseph Lacks Height At United

HANOVERTON — The saying goes any more that basketball is a game for big men. Larry Joseph and his United squad will have to pitch this theory out the window if they expect to be successful this season.

United lists 12 boys on its varsity roster, but not one hits the 6-foot mark. One cager gets to 5-foot-11½, but that is as close as the Eagles can come.

"We are faced once again with a critical height problem. Since not one boy on our entire squad is 6 feet, we will stress defense and hope for some outside shooting," Joseph said as he looked over his charges.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Eagles Open Up Saturday

After compiling a losing record in the regular season a year ago, Joseph finally hit the success trail as his team became a red hot tourney club.

The Eagles blasted their way through the Canton Sectional, won the District A title, then finally bowed in the regional tournament only two steps away from a trip to Columbus. With the victories in the tourney, United wound up with a 12-13 record.

From the outstanding tournament club are four lettermen, plus two senior prospects up from the reserve squad who have caught Joseph's attention.

The lettermen are John Hanna, a 5-foot-10½ senior who is a fine outside shot; Larry Marks, 5-foot-8; Jerry Schaffer, 5-foot-11, and Jim Sturgeon, 5-foot-10½.

The two seniors who are battling for starting positions are Pete Schweigert, a reserve forward last year who stands 5-foot-11½, and Chuck Lease, who was out last season due to illness. Lease is a 5-foot-10 guard.

Other members of the varsity squad are seniors Ron Bolen, 5-foot-9; Ron Hawkins, 5-foot-10; juniors Gary Blythe, 5-foot-10, and Bud Hawkins, 5-foot-11, and sophomores Bill McGranahan, 5-foot-9½, and Ken Votaw, 5-foot-8½.

Joseph is beginning his second year at United and will see his squad in action for the first time Saturday night when Sebring visits the United floor.

United again will compete in the Turnpike Conference.

Assisting Joseph is Mel Klingler, reserve coach, and Ray Russell, junior high coach.

Pipers Win, Pad Slim ABL Lead

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Pipers used a third-quarter scoring surge and a skimpy schedule to strengthen their fingernail hold on first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League.

The Piper scoring burst propelled them past Kansas City 109-102 Thursday night and gave them a half-game lead over Pittsburgh. The Pipers entered the game—only action in the league Thursday night — leading Pittsburgh by .018 percentage points but even in games behind.

Cleveland struck for 33 points in the third period, 12 of them by Rossie Johnson, in forging an 81-70 lead.

The loss cut Kansas City's Western Division lead to two games over Los Angeles.

Seiter, Parker Named Bulldogs' Co-Captains

EAST PALESTINE—David Seiter, tackle, and John Parker, end, were announced as 1962 co-captains of the East Palestine High School grid team at the annual recognition banquet Thursday night at the Methodist Church.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Seiter of E. Grant St. and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parker of E. Main St.

Seiter also recieved the VFW Post award as the "most valuable player." About 125 attended the dinner at which John Michelosen, head coach at the University of Pittsburgh, was speaker.

Michelosen said the three principal needs for a good gridder are desire, intelligence and loyalty. Paul Lange was toastmaster.

Scandal-Ridden College Basketball Opens Season

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Major college basketball, rocked by its second widespread scandal in a decade, opens a new season tonight with a job on its hands.

After the scandals of 1950-51, it took the better part of five years before the shocked public forgot its jibes about bribes and began accepting the sport, particularly in the big, publicized arenas of the East.

What kind of reception is in store for basketball this time, after sweeping disclosures that dragged in the names of 37 players from 22 colleges and universities, is anyone's guess.

Back again are such exceptional players as Jerry Lucas of Ohio State, Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Chet Walker of Bradley, Len Chappell and Billy Packer of Wake Forest, Art Hayman of Duke, Billy McGill of Utah, Dave Debusschere of Detroit, Johnny Rudometkin of Southern California, Vinnie Ernst and Jimmy Hadnot of Providence.

Also Don Nelson of Iowa, Gary Roggenburk of Dayton, Carroll Broussard of Texas A&M, Del Ray Mounts and Harold Hudgens of Texas Tech, and Paul Hogue, Tony Yates and Tom Thacker of Cinderella Cincinnati, the Bearcat bunch that upset mighty Ohio State in overtime in the NCAA championship final at Kansas City last March.

Ohio State, picked to again top the nation's teams in the pre-season poll of The Associated Press panel, returns with John Havlicek and Mel Noweil to accompany player of the year Lucas.

The major schedule, which moves immediately into high gear Saturday, opens with a score or more big games tonight—headed by Southern California at Missouri, Florida at Duke, Mt. St. Marys at Providence, and West Texas at Seattle.

In some Saturday features, Indiana State is at Cincinnati, Florida State at Ohio State, New Mexico at Kansas State, Southern California at Oklahoma, Pitt at Purdue, Bradley at Bowling Green, Wyoming at Wichita, Iowa at Evansville, Virginia at North Carolina, DePaul at Minnesota, William and Mary at West Virginia, Georgia Tech at Rice, Tennessee at North Carolina State, Utah at Arizona State U., Davidson at Wake Forest and three "big arena" doubleheaders:

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's collegiate cagers plunge headlong into the 1961-62 basketball season this weekend.

Seven games are on an abbreviated card tonight, but heavy firing begins in earnest Saturday.

The headliners tonight find Otterbein at Miami and Ashland at Bluffton in a Mid-Ohio League tiff.

Defiance, last year's king in the Mid-Ohio League, got off to a good start Wednesday with a 78-68 win over Grace of Indiana.

All the other Buckeye conference champions swing into action Saturday as part of a whopping 28-game program.

Wittenberg, the Ohio Conference titlist, has a monumental task when the Tigers open against Louisville on the road. Mid-American Conference champ Ohio University journeys to Buffalo to battle Canisius, and Case Tech, the Presidents' Conference kingpin, visits Wayne.

The state's Big Two, Ohio State and Cincinnati, have relatively easy inaugurals against Florida State and Indiana State, respectively. The Bearcats will open defense of their NCAA crown while the Bucks seek a third straight Big Ten title.

Dayton, consistently a powerful independent, should have no trouble with Christian Brothers of Memphis, Tenn.

Other attractions have rugged Bradley meeting Bowling Green, Miami playing at Kentucky, American University at Akron, Morris Harvey at Toledo, Kent State at St. Bonaventure, Marietta at Marshall and St. Vincent at Steubenville.

In a couple of Ohio Conference contests, Muskingum will oppose Hiram and Ohio Wesleyan plays at Oberlin. John Carroll meets Western Reserve in a Presidents' loop skirmish.

Strong Xavier has its opening Sunday in a home engagement against Bellarmine.

Evidence points to another big year for Buckeye schools with Ohio State and Cincinnati ranked 1-2 in pre-season polls.

Coach Fred Taylor has All-America Jerry Lucas, John Havlicek and Melee Nowell returning for their final season, while Cincinnati relies on 6 - foot - 9 Paul Hogue, Tony Yates and Tom Thacker to keep the Bearcats on top.

Xavier, with Jack Thobe and Bill Kirvin leading a pack of eight returning lettermen, and Dayton, with Garry Roggenburk and Tom Hatton showing the way, could threaten the leaders.

College Sports Leaders Launch Attack On AAU

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — College sports leaders have stepped up their drive for more control over amateur sports with a double barreled attack on the Amateur Athletic Union.

AAU officials, meeting here in their annual convention, fired back Thursday and there was promise of more hostilities over the weekend.

Each side says the U. S. team to the 1964 Olympics will suffer if the other side wins.

Don Canham, University of Michigan coach and executive vice president of the National Collegiate Track Coaches Association, said in Ann Arbor the track coaches are seeking a federation to rule over track and field affairs, now governed solely by the AAU.

Basketball coaches already have made a similar proposition. They have scheduled their fifth meeting with AAU officials Wednesday to discuss the controversy.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association, in a report released in Kansas City, threatened a boycott of AAU events unless the colleges are given more power over amateur athletic events.

"The AAU takes the position that no other organization or segment of amateur athletics shall be accorded a significant place in determining amateur sports policies in the United States or this nation's position on international sports questions," the NCAA report said. "In other words, the AAU believes that this is its exclusive prerogative."

"They want either to destroy the AAU or make it so impotent it can't operate," replied AAU President N. J. Barack of Columbus, Ohio. "If the AAU is ever going to die, it's going to die fighting."

Joseph Lacks Height At United

HANOVERTON — The saying goes any more that basketball is a game for big men. Larry Joseph and his United squad will have to pitch this theory out the window if they expect to be successful this season.

United lists 12 boys on its varsity roster, but not one hits the 6-foot mark. One cager gets to 5-foot-11½, but that is as close as the Eagles can come.

"We are faced once again with a critical height problem. Since not one boy on our entire squad is 6 feet, we will stress defense and hope for some outside shooting," Joseph said as he looked over his charges.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Eagles Open Up Saturday

After compiling a losing record in the regular season a year ago, Joseph finally hit the success trail as his team became a red hot tourney club.

The Eagles blasted their way through the Canton Sectional, won the District A title, then finally bowed in the regional tournament only two steps away from a trip to Columbus. With the victories in the tourney, United wound up with a 12-13 record.

From the outstanding tournament club are four lettermen, plus two senior prospects up from the reserve squad who have caught Joseph's attention.

The lettermen are John Hanna, a 5-foot-10½ senior who is a fine outside shot; Larry Marks, 5-foot-8; Jerry Schaffer, 5-foot-11, and Jim Sturgeon, 5-foot-10½.

The two seniors who are battling for starting positions are Pete Schweigert, a reserve forward last year who stands 5-foot-11½, and Chuck Lease, who was out last season due to illness. Lease is a 5-foot-10 guard.

Other members of the varsity squad are seniors Ron Bolen, 5-foot-9; Ron Hawkins, 5-foot-10; juniors Gary Blythe, 5-foot-10, and Bud Hawkins, 5-foot-11, and sophomores Bill McGranahan, 5-foot-9½, and Ken Votaw, 5-foot-8½.

Joseph is beginning his second year at United and will see his squad in action for the first time Saturday night when Sebring visits the United floor.

United again will compete in the Turnpike Conference.

Assisting Joseph is Mel Klingler, reserve coach, and Ray Russell, junior high coach.

Pipers Win, Pad Slim ABL Lead

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Pipers used a third-quarter scoring surge and a skimpy schedule to strengthen their fingernail hold on first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League.

The Piper scoring burst propelled them past Kansas City 109-102 Thursday night and gave them a half-game lead over Pittsburgh. The Pipers entered the game—only action in the league Thursday night — leading Pittsburgh by .018 percentage points but even in games behind.

Cleveland struck for 33 points in the third period, 12 of them by Rossie Johnson, in forging an 81-70 lead.

The loss cut Kansas City's Western Division lead to two games over Los Angeles.

Seiter, Parker Named Bulldogs' Co-Captains

EAST PALESTINE—David Seiter, tackle, and John Parker, end, were announced as 1962 co-captains of the East Palestine High School grid team at the annual recognition banquet Thursday night at the Methodist Church.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Seiter of E. Grant St. and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parker of E. Main St.

Seiter also recieved the VFW Post award as the "most valuable player." About 125 attended the dinner at which John Michelosen, head coach at the University of Pittsburgh, was speaker.

Michelosen said the three principal needs for a good gridder are desire, intelligence and loyalty. Paul Lange was toastmaster.

Scandal-Ridden College Basketball Opens Season

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Major college basketball, rocked by its second widespread scandal in a decade, opens a new season tonight with a job on its hands.

After the scandals of 1950-51, it took the better part of five years before the shocked public forgot its jibes about bribes and began accepting the sport, particularly in the big, publicized arenas of the East.

What kind of reception is in store for basketball this time, after sweeping disclosures that dragged in the names of 37 players from 22 colleges and universities, is anyone's guess.

Back again are such exceptional players as Jerry Lucas of Ohio State, Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Chet Walker of Bradley, Len Chappell and Billy Packer of Wake Forest, Art Hayman of Duke, Billy McGill of Utah, Dave Debusschere of Detroit, Johnny Rudometkin of Southern California, Vinnie Ernst and Jimmy Hadnot of Providence.

Also Don Nelson of Iowa, Gary Roggenburk of Dayton, Carroll Broussard of Texas A&M, Del Ray Mounts and Harold Hudgens of Texas Tech, and Paul Hogue, Tony Yates and Tom Thacker of Cinderella Cincinnati, the Bearcat bunch that upset mighty Ohio State in overtime in the NCAA championship final at Kansas City last March.

Ohio State, picked to again top the nation's teams in the pre-season poll of The Associated Press panel, returns with John Havlicek and Mel Noweil to accompany player of the year Lucas.

The major schedule, which moves immediately into high gear Saturday, opens with a score or more big games tonight—headed by Southern California at Missouri, Florida at Duke, Mt. St. Marys at Providence, and West Texas at Seattle.

In some Saturday features, Indiana State is at Cincinnati, Florida State at Ohio State, New Mexico at Kansas State, Southern California at Oklahoma, Pitt at Purdue, Bradley at Bowling Green, Wyoming at Wichita, Iowa at Evansville, Virginia at North Carolina, DePaul at Minnesota, William and Mary at West Virginia, Georgia Tech at Rice, Tennessee at North Carolina State, Utah at Arizona State U., Davidson at Wake Forest and three "big arena" doubleheaders:

Manhattan vs. Dartmouth and NYU vs. Virginia Tech at Madison Square Garden; St. Joseph's (Pa) vs. Bucknell and Scranton vs. Villanova at Philadelphia's Palestra; and St. Bonaventure vs. Kent and Canisius vs. Ohio U. at Buffalo, N.Y.

HAL HUMPHREY

Barbara Refuses To Be Intimidated

How does Barbara Rush feel about taking over Ingrid Bergman's role in a TV remake of "Notorious" Sunday, Dec. 10? She feels fine. Or, if she is experiencing a nervous misgiving or two, Barbara is not about to admit it even to herself.

Hal Humphrey

"If it's a good role, why shouldn't I take it?" asks Barbara. "Good ones don't come around too often. When they do, let's all get a chance at it."

It's nice to see a beautiful gal filled with such bravado, because there is no doubt she has a couple of strikes against her in this situation.

-:-

THE ORIGINAL movie, "Notorious," still gets a big play on TV with Bergman, Cary Grant and Claude Rains acting out the 1946 spy thriller written by Ben Hecht.

Whenever a network does a special "live" production of a famous movie, local stations in several cities have a nasty habit of renting the old movie and running it either the same night or the day before.

Barbara knows that critics tend to take the view that TV can't improve on a good movie done for a million or two. When it has Bergman and Grant in it, the odds drop even further.

FRED COE, who used to produce nothing but original TV drama B.G. (Before "Gunsmoke"), signed with NBC this season to recreate on "live" TV six David O. Selznick movie classics.

He had only fair success with "Spiral Staircase" as the premiere show of the series. The second one last month was "Intermezzo," which turned into a definite bomb on TV.

Jean Pierre Aumont and Swedish actress Ingrid Thulin essayed the Leslie Howard-Ingrid Bergman roles with the proper emotion, but abrupt cuts and halting direction destroyed what was supposed to be a deeply passionate love story.

Producer Coe has Sumner Locke Elliott adapting "Notorious" (the series of six are billed as "Theater 62") and George Grizzard and Joseph Cotten taking over for Cary Grant and Claude Rains. With the strikingly beautiful Barbara added, he may come out better than he did with "Intermezzo."

ONE THING missing is Alfred Hitchcock, who directed the movie, and that's a lot of missing. Jack Smight, director of the TV version, is in almost the same fix as Barbara.

"At least I get the benefit of some ballyhoo when I do a special 'live' TV show like this," Barbara adds. "I was the guest star in a 'Frontier Circus' this season, but nobody knew I was in it, including my own sister.'

"That's the trouble with appearing in those film TV series which have continuing stars. All of the publicity goes to the regular cast. I did a 'Checkmate' last season, and it was repeated twice, but who knew about it? But now, when I sign to do something Ingrid Bergman once did, you are asking me how I feel about it.

"I THINK a lot of people will be curious to see what I do. One thing I will not do is affect an accent like Bergman's. I see this woman as charming and passionate, and I think I can give the part a lot of high style. I'm going to be making 14 changes, and only one scene is being pretaped."

It's quite evident that Barbara, like most of Hollywood's young actresses, is learning to pick her spots. Building a career as an actress is a tricky business. It's easy to become relegated to routine roles in TV and movies, because that is what there are more of than anything else.

"THEY ALWAYS seem to be hitting me with the role of the worrying wife sitting at home and waiting for her man," Barbara complains. "Somebody wanted me recently for the wife of an astronaut. I turned it down."

Barbara could see the astronaut grabbing off the glory as he orbited around Mother Earth, while she sat by the hearth, wringing her hands (and watching her career sputter out on the launching pad?).

Obviously, she'd rather go down in flames while being compared to la Bergman.

Identical Twin Sisters To Wed Twin Brothers

CLEVELAND (AP) — "We do everything together," said 19-year-old Julia Fay (Judy) Stalnaker, speaking of her identical twin sister and their twin boy friends. Saturday's wedding at St. Pius X church will be no exception.

After the wedding, Judy and David J. Selby will share an apartment in suburban Solon with Jean Ann and Joseph J. Selby Jr.

The two sets of twins, who met when they lived on the same street in suburban Bedford Heights, have been going together for six years —since they were in junior high school. The occasions on which they have not gone out together have been rare enough that they get along with one automobile.

The boys work together, being associated with their father in a metal fabricating firm.

The girls' father, a foreman for the Horvitz Construction Co., will take the rest of the family and head for their winter home in West Palm Beach, Fla., after the wedding.

Kiwanis Hears Ray Adkins

Freeway Problems Told By Contractor's Official

Some of the problems encountered in the current East Liverpool Freeway construction project were aired by Ray Adkins, general superintendent of Chapin & Chapin, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Adkins said his firm, joint contractors with Baker & Hickey on the highway project, has begun work this week on a slip failure along the slope at the old stone quarry in California Hollow.

He said the slope will be cut back to reduce the chances of further slips, and some 126,000 cubic yards of rocks and soil will be moved and deposited further up the hollow.

Adkins said another unexpected problem was the number of utility lines encountered in the work on 3rd St. He explained workers uncovered five lines in the street where they had not expected any, including four gas mains, some of which the Ohio Valley Gas Co. did not know were there.

A native of Indiana, who has been with the firm for seven years, Adkins listed three aspects of the freeway design which he said he feels were not advantageous.

He said there is no provision at the West End intersection for anyone headed south toward Wellsville to get on the freeway or any way for someone on the freeway to leave it to head north. Access to the freeway will be available in East Liverpool at the 3rd St. intersection.

Adkins pointed out the project also practically cuts off pedestrian access from the areas north of 8th St. and west of the freeway.

He said that Westgate students walking east will have to cross two ramps which will be an additional hazard for the pupils, and said for a comparatively small amount of money tunnels could have been provided.

The superintendent said the completion date for the project has been set for next October, but with favorable weather, the job should be finished by August.

He described some of the operations of the firm since the work was started in January, the preliminary studies, the tremendous amount of earth moved, and the installation of the Carpenter Run sewer.

Chapin & Chapin, he said, has purchased a new triple-stage paving machine for the project, the only one of its kind in Ohio.

Adkins said he believes the freeway will be an asset for East Liverpool.

"Although there are businessmen who feel there may be a loss in trade, I think it will be a benefit to get the trucks and through traffic out of the city, and making it more convenient for local residents and area shoppers."

Roy Cooper, program chairman, introduced Adkins.

Federal Agents Seize Night Club On Taxes Charge

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Alpine Village had a padlock on its door today after Internal Revenue Service agents seized the downtown night club for the second time in a little more than four years.

Six agents seized the place Thursday on a lien for $11,818 in delinquent cabaret and withholding taxes. Jack A. McIver, chief of the IRS delinquents accounts branch, said the lien covered $8,935 in cabaret taxes for the first six months of this year. This tax is collected from customers and forwarded to the IRS. Also included was $2,883 in withholding taxes —the taxes deducted from employes' salaries to go toward their income taxes.

IRS agents seized the place Nov. 9, 1957, for $68,167 in delinquent taxes.

George Zimmerman, attorney for Herman Pirchner, owner of the Alpine Village, said the $11,818 claim was what remained of a $32,000 assessment on which Pirchner had been making regular payments. He said the recently organized International Key Club hopes to open in the Alpine Village early next year and "is making arrangements to satisfy the claims of the Internal Revenue Service and the sales tax claims of the state of Ohio."

Hoak's 'Thrown Out' As Wife Wins Divorce

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Phyllis Hoak has been granted a divorce from third baseman Don Hoak of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Judge Sara Soffel of Allegheny County granted the divorce Thursday. Mrs. Hoak, a mother of three children, had charged alleged cruelty and indignities.

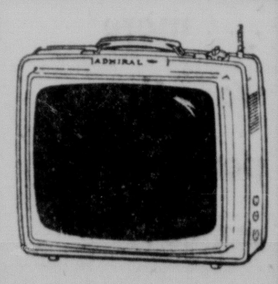

The Hoaks, were married in 1950.

Garden Club's Sale Will Begin Monday

The East Liverpool Garden Club will hold its "Holiday Mart" sale Monday through Saturday in the Little Building on the Diamond.

Elderly Citizens To Make Cookies For VFW Party

Plans to make cookies for the annual VFW children's Christmas party were discussed at a meeting of the East Liverpool Senior Citizens Group Thursday afternoon in the VFW Hall.

What to do for sick members was discussed during business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Rozella Hickenbottom, advisor. Mrs. Sam Hall, president, and Mrs. Victoria Willis, vice president, were unable to attend.

The meeting opened with the flag salute, the Lord's Prayer and roll call.

Mrs. Ethel Hagerman, treasurer, and Mrs. Grace McHenry, secretary, gave reports.

A social hour included cards and games. Lunch for 66 preceded the meeting.

Boy, 11, Okay As Ohio Officers Race For Plasma

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Eleven-year-old Dennis Light was reported in satisfactory condition at Blanchard Valley Hospital Thursday night after relays of law officers raced 120 miles to bring him three pints of frozen blood plasma.

The boy suffers from hemophelia, an ailment in which a minor injury can produce excessive bleeding. Frozen plasma designed especially for hemophilia cases was called for after Dennis suffered a sudden massive hemmorrhage Thursday.

The bleeding apparently was caused by an unintentional kick in the face from one of the boy's playmates. About 3 p.m. his physician told the Red Cross Dennis might bleed to death if he didn't get the plasma by 6 p.m.

The plasma was in Cleveland. Cleveland police picked it up at the Central Blood Bank and rushed it to Brecksville, where members of that police department took over and carried the plasma to the Ohio Turnpike. There, a highway patrol car was waiting to race to Findlay with the plasma.

Kodiak was the first permanent white settlement in Alaska.

HAL HUMPHREY

Barbara Refuses To Be Intimidated

How does Barbara Rush feel about taking over Ingrid Bergman's role in a TV remake of "Notorious" Sunday, Dec. 10? She feels fine. Or, if she is experiencing a nervous misgiving or two, Barbara is not about to admit it even to herself.

Hal Humphrey

"If it's a good role, why shouldn't I take it?" asks Barbara. "Good ones don't come around too often. When they do, let's all get a chance at it."

It's nice to see a beautiful gal filled with such bravado, because there is no doubt she has a couple of strikes against her in this situation.

THE ORIGINAL movie, "Notorious," still gets a big play on TV with Bergman, Cary Grant and Claude Rains acting out the 1946 spy thriller written by Ben Hecht.

Whenever a network does a special "live" production of a famous movie, local stations in several cities have a nasty habit of renting the old movie and running it either the same night or the day before.

Barbara knows that critics tend to take the view that TV can't improve on a good movie done for a million or two. When it has Bergman and Grant in it, the odds drop even further.

FRED COE, who used to produce nothing but original TV drama B.G. (Before "Gunsmoke"), signed with NBC this season to recreate on "live" TV six David O. Selznick movie classics.

He had only fair success with "Spiral Staircase" as the premiere show of the series. The second one last month was "Intermezzo," which turned into a definite bomb on TV.

Jean Pierre Aumont and Swedish actress Ingrid Thulin essayed the Leslie Howard-Ingrid Bergman roles with the proper emotion, but abrupt cuts and halting direction destroyed what was supposed to be a deeply passionate love story.

Producer Coe has Sumner Locke Elliott adapting "Notorious" (the series of six are billed as "Theater 62") and George Grizzard and Joseph Cotten taking over for Cary Grant and Claude Rains. With the strikingly beautiful Barbara added, he may come out better than he did with "Intermezzo."

ONE THING missing is Alfred Hitchcock, who directed the movie, and that's a lot of missing. Jack Smight, director of the TV version, is in almost the same fix as Barbara.

"At least I get the benefit of some ballyhoo when I do a special 'live' TV show like this," Barbara adds. "I was the guest star in a 'Frontier Circus' this season, but nobody knew I was in it, including my own sister.'

"That's the trouble with appearing in those film TV series which have continuing stars. All of the publicity goes to the regular cast. I did a 'Checkmate' last season, and it was repeated twice, but who knew about it? But now, when I sign to do something Ingrid Bergman once did, you are asking me how I feel about it.

"I THINK a lot of people will be curious to see what I do. One thing I will not do is affect an accent like Bergman's. I see this woman as charming and passionate, and I think I can give the part a lot of high style. I'm going to be making 14 changes, and only one scene is being pretaped."

It's quite evident that Barbara, like most of Hollywood's young actresses, is learning to pick her spots. Building a career as an actress is a tricky business. It's easy to become relegated to routine roles in TV and movies, because that is what there are more of than anything else.

"THEY ALWAYS seem to be hitting me with the role of the worrying wife sitting at home and waiting for her man," Barbara complains. "Somebody wanted me recently for the wife of an astronaut. I turned it down."

Barbara could see the astronaut grabbing off the glory as he orbited around Mother Earth, while she sat by the hearth, wringing her hands (and watching her career sputter out on the launching pad?).

Obviously, she'd rather go down in flames while being compared to la Bergman.

Identical Twin Sisters To Wed Twin Brothers

CLEVELAND (AP) — "We do everything together," said 19-year-old Julia Fay (Judy) Stalnaker, speaking of her identical twin sister and their twin boy friends. Saturday's wedding at St. Pius X church will be no exception.

After the wedding, Judy and David J. Selby will share an apartment in suburban Solon with Jean Ann and Joseph J. Selby Jr.

The two sets of twins, who met when they lived on the same street in suburban Bedford Heights, have been going together for six years —since they were in junior high school. The occasions on which they have not gone out together have been rare enough that they get along with one automobile.

The boys work together, being associated with their father in a metal fabricating firm.

The girls' father, a foreman for the Horvitz Construction Co., will take the rest of the family and head for their winter home in West Palm Beach, Fla., after the wedding.

Federal Agents Seize Night Club On Taxes Charge

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Alpine Village had a padlock on its door today after Internal Revenue Service agents seized the downtown night club for the second time in a little more than four years.

Six agents seized the place Thursday on a lien for $11,818 in delinquent cabaret and withholding taxes. Jack A. McIver, chief of the IRS delinquents accounts branch, said the lien covered $8,935 in cabaret taxes for the first six months of this year. This tax is collected from customers and forwarded to the IRS. Also included was $2,883 in withholding taxes —the taxes deducted from employes' salaries to go toward their income taxes.

IRS agents seized the place Nov. 9, 1957, for $68,167 in delinquent taxes.

George Zimmerman, attorney for Herman Pirchner, owner of the Alpine Village, said the $11,818 claim was what remained of a $32,000 assessment on which Pirchner had been making regular payments. He said the recently organized International Key Club hopes to open in the Alpine Village early next year and "is making arrangements to satisfy the claims of the Internal Revenue Service and the sales tax claims of the state of Ohio."

Hoak's 'Thrown Out' As Wife Wins Divorce

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Phyllis Hoak has been granted a divorce from third baseman Don Hoak of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Judge Sara Soffel of Allegheny County granted the divorce Thursday. Mrs. Hoak, a mother of three children, had charged alleged cruelty and indignities.

The Hoaks, were married in 1950.

Elderly Citizens To Make Cookies For VFW Party

Plans to make cookies for the annual VFW children's Christmas party were discussed at a meeting of the East Liverpool Senior Citizens Group Thursday afternoon in the VFW Hall.

What to do for sick members was discussed during business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Rozella Hickenbottom, advisor. Mrs. Sam Hall, president, and Mrs. Victoria Willis, vice president, were unable to attend.

The meeting opened with the flag salute, the Lord's Prayer and roll call.

Mrs. Ethel Hagerman, treasurer, and Mrs. Grace McHenry, secretary, gave reports.

A social hour included cards and games. Lunch for 66 preceded the meeting.

Boy, 11, Okay As Ohio Officers Race For Plasma

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Eleven-year-old Dennis Light was reported in satisfactory condition at Blanchard Valley Hospital Thursday night after relays of law officers raced 120 miles to bring him three pints of frozen blood plasma.

The boy suffers from hemophelia, an ailment in which a minor injury can produce excessive bleeding. Frozen plasma designed especially for hemophilia cases was called for after Dennis suffered a sudden massive hemmorrhage Thursday.

The bleeding apparently was caused by an unintentional kick in the face from one of the boy's playmates. About 3 p.m. his physician told the Red Cross Dennis might bleed to death if he didn't get the plasma by 6 p.m.

The plasma was in Cleveland. Cleveland police picked it up at the Central Blood Bank and rushed it to Brecksville, where members of that police department took over and carried the plasma to the Ohio Turnpike. There, a highway patrol car was waiting to race to Findlay with the plasma.

Isolate Words That Cause Confusion

A mother writes that her son, eight, beginning the third grade, confuses "what" and "that", "where" and "there". She would like me to write an article on helping a child with these problems. "I'm sure many parents would be grateful," she adds, implying that many other children have the same difficulty. The mother didn't say whether this child had trouble with reading or with practicing the recognition of these words from a list or from cards. Some teachers send home lists of short, simple words which appear in primers and first and second readers, so that parents can help the child say these words at sight.

Dr. Garry Meyers

WHEN THESE LISTS contain such words as "what" and "that", "where" and "there", never have a child who confuses words and letters practice them together. Keep these words as far apart as possible until one of them is mastered. The child can easily have trouble with them, especially if he has been memorizing whole words before knowing the letters or their sounds or their combination of sounds.

If your child is supposed to learn to identify such words in a list, don't let him see such easily confused words together. Practice with him on "what", for example, again and again, until he knows it, urging him to look carefully at the "wh" in the word.

Later, have him find this word as often as he can on several pages of his favorite book. Don't ever let him see "that", if you can, during this practice. After you are sure he is wholly familiar with "what", show him "that" and how it differs from "what".

IT MAY HELP him if you draw or cut out pictures of things beginning with the "wh" sound, as "whip", "whale" and "wheel". Print the proper words under each picture for him to look at and pronounce.

If the child confuses these words as he reads, he is merely pronouncing words and not reading for meaning. When he reads to get meaning, he will hardly confuse such words.

By all means, make sure a child his age knows the letters of the alphabet and is familiar with the basic sounds, especially the consonants and their combinations, at the beginning and end of short words.

My bulletins, "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading," "Home Fun with Phonics" and "Home Helps for Poor Readers," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Duke Will Assist In Wellsville Post

Donald Duke, East Liverpool water department superintendent, will serve temporarily as city chemist for Wellsville until a successor is obtained for Jesse Tarr, who has retired.

Tarr, 806 Main St., was employed as Wellsville's first city chemist in 1921. He was also a teacher at Wellsville High School from 1921 to 1952.

Tarr was honored with a surprise banquet at the Wellsville filtration plant Tuesday by the plant employes in recognition of his 40 years service.

He was presented a gift by Mayor William Shoub on behalf of his fellow workers. Also present was Charles Sackett of Steubenville, who will serve at the sewage treatment laboratory. Duke will work only part-time until a new chemist is named.

Money Given To 4 Offices

LISBON — County Commissioners Thursday approved transfer of funds to four departments to help finance their operations for the balance of 1961.

The funds were authorized for the offices of the treasurer, sheriff, recorder and clerk of courts. Allocations for the four — along with the auditor's office — were trimmed earlier in the year in a belt-tightening move forced by declining county income.

Auditor Kenneth Bell cut two employes from his payroll when he was notified of the fund cut. The other departments kept their staffs at full strength, hoping additional funds would be available before the end of the year.

Yesterday's action provided the full amounts appropriated for all the offices except the auditor's.

The County Budget Commission, comprised of Bell, Treasurer Vincent C. Judge and Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw, will meet Monday with the commissioners to go over anticipated income for next year. That action will allow the commissioners to advise each county department how much operating revenue it will receive for 1962.

In other business, commissioners awarded a $422 contract to the Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem to supply 20,000 checks for the county support division.

The commissioners' next meeting will be Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Write-In Winner Files Campaign Expense Report

George W. Morrow, named to Washingtonville village Council Nov. 7 with write-in votes, today filed a statement of campaign expenses with the County Election Board — one of the steps required to assume office Jan. 1.

Morrow filed a report explaining he had no expenses. The statement is one of the steps required before he can be issued a certificate of election by the board.

Three more area reports were filed today.

The Board of Education of the United Local School District said it spent $56 promoting a $259,000 school bond issue. The report was filed by Robert Myers, clerk.

Clarence T. Cartwrgiht, defeated Democratic candidate for Second Ward councilman at Wellsville, reported expenses of $10.

Ralph Zimmerman, a candidate for Fourth Ward councilman at Salem, reported expenses at $2.40.

Dec. 22 is the deadline for the reports, which are required of all candidates who sought office in the Nov. 7 general election — whether or not they were successful — and from all committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

Swedish Kringler Is Snack-Time Delicacy

The Swedes, so well known for their coffee breads, have provided the inspiration for a marvelous Swedish Kringler.

The special feature of this wonderful delicacy is cardamom, an aromatic seed from the fried fruit of a plant in the ginger family. A native of India, it adds a nippy new flavor to breads as well as puddings, cookies and fruit.

Swedish Kringler, a luscious easy-to-make batter bread, is so light and tasty that it will disappear before it cooled if you don't guard it carefully. The nuts and sugar on top give it an added sweet touch so perfect with that cup of black coffee.

¼ cup warm water (not hot—110 or 115,
1 pkg active dry yeast
1¼ cups milk, scalded then cooled
¾ cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
½ cup melted butter
1 egg, beaten
12 cardamon seeds, crushed (or ½ tsp. powdered)
4½ to 4¾ cups unsifted bread flour

To measure flour, dip nested dry measuring cups into flour, level off with straight - edged spatula.

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Stir in milk, sugar, salt, butter, egg and cardamon. Add about half the flour and beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour. Dough will be soft and sticky. Cover and let rise in warm place (85') until double, 1½ to 1¾ hours. (If kitchen is cool, place dough on a rack over bowl of hot water and cover compietely with a towel.)

Punch down, let rise about 1 hour. Turn onto lightly floured board. If necessary work in a little more flour to make easy to handle. Divide dough into 16 pieces. Form each piece of dough on lightly floured board into a roll 14". Cross ends and tuck under the opposite side like a pretzel. Place close together in lightly greased oblong pan, 13x9½x2". Heat oven to 375' (quick mod.) Let rise in warm place about 30 minutes. Brush with 1 beaten egg; sprinkle generously with ½ cup finely-chopped walnuts and ¼ cup sugar. Bake 35 to 45 minutes, or until nicely browned.

Dominican's Crisis Seen As Deepening

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The government crisis deepened in this strife-torn country today with the major political opposition group openly defying a military summons to end a four-day general strike.

Headquarters of the National Civic Union said sentiment throughout the country was for continuing the strike.

A few shops did reopen in Santo Domingo. Traffic was half normal.

The party decided to continue the strike after rejecting a military proposal to keep President Joaquin Balaguer in office as head of a seven-man ruling junta. The armed forces would have virtually complete power under the proposal.

Balaguer earlier had declared in a radio address that his present government would stay in office unless the opposition accepted the military proposal.

The Civic Union also appealed to strikers who have virtually paralyzed the country with anti-Balaguer work stoppages to "suspend the strike and abstain from all activity that could serve as a pretext for acts of violence." But a few hours later Civic Union President Viriato A. Fiallo told newsmen there had been heavy protests against halting the strike and he felt he could not interfere.

Heavily armed troops and screaming mobs clashed in Santo Domingo Thursday—the third and worst day so far of the general strike — and machine-gun fire killed one youth. A report from Santiago said noise bombs burned 20 women about the legs.

The antigovernment demonstrations included a march on the National Palace in response to false reports that Balaguer had resigned. Troops forced back the angry crowd with tear gas and detonation bombs.

Quiet returned to the capital at dusk as troop patrols enforced the nightly curfew.

The Civic Union, in what it called its final proposal, demanded Thursday that Balaguer step aside for a provisional governing council of five or seven members —excluding Balaguer—who would elect a chairman by simple majority.

The military plan proposed that all legislative powers be vested in the ruling junta until general elections within two years, that Congress (largely made up of members of the old Trujillo Dominican party) be dissolved and that the military budget could not be reduced below the 1962 estimate of 24 million pesos.

"The government could not be Communist," it added.

At the headquarters of the Civic Union, some members censured the United States and claimed it had backed Balaguer against the wishes of the people. Fiallo, alluding to this, declared it was "an historic error."

In Washington, the State Department expressed hope "that all men of good will in the Dominican Republic will exercise moderation and responsibility in seeking the political means by which a truly democratic future for the country can be assured."

It said that since the death of Dictator Rafael Trujillo the United States has "supported in every appropriate way a rapid transition toward democratic government. We especially welcomed and lent sympathetic encouragement to the successful resistance to the efforts by the brothers of the late dictator to reassert totalitarian domination."

Efforts by Trujillo family members to regain control of the government two weeks ago brought U.S. warships to the Caribbean waters off Santo Domingo. Since then they have patrolled just outside the three-mile limit of Dominican waters.

Arturo Morales Carrion, deputy assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs, arrived soon after the Trujillo threats were thwarted and has met with both government and opposition leaders.

Morales Carrion was reported to have visited the presidential palace Thursday, and as a result rumors circulated that the United States was backing Balaguer's bid to remain in power.

Army Enlists 10 District Men In Recruiting For November

Ten area men, including four from East Liverpool, enlisted in the Army in November, Sgt. Edward P. Vallor, Army recruiter, said today.

Two former basketball teammates at East Liverpool High School enlisted together under the Army's "Buddy" plan and will remain together for basic training.

Raymond R. Bigelow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Bigelow, 1246 Oakwood Ave., who had attended the University of Toledo, enlisted for the cryptography course at the Army's Signal School at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

His former teammate, Phillip A. Chan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Chan, 1012 Locust St., enlisted in the ordnance electronics course at the Signal School at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Victor F. Tauchar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Tauchar and husband of Mrs. Sandra Lee Tauchar, 236 W. 9th St., re-enlisted for the automotive repair course at the ordnance school at Aberdeen (Md.) Proving Grounds.

Edgar V. Hull Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar V. Hull, 711 Sophia St., selected ordnance electronics.

Raymond L. McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. McIntosh, of Wellsville R.D. 1, a June graduate of Wellsville High School, selected welding training at the Ordnance School at Aberdeen.

James R. Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon T. Howell, 931 Appian Way, Wellsville, and Bruce M. Halfhill, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Halfhill of Irondale R.D. 1, enlisted for automotive maintenance training.

George T. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Thompson of Rogers R.D. 1, enlisted for motor transportation training.

The enlistments also included Paul G. Reed and his son, Richard L. Reed, husband and son of Mrs. Shirley Reed of Chester.

Sgt. Vallor said the new enlistees were sent to Ft. Knox, Ky., with the exception of Tauchar, who was assigned to Ft. Dix, N. J.

New Jersey Boy Has Pet To Crow About

CAMDEN, N. Y. (AP) — Almost everywhere there is a crowd, there is George, a pet crow.

Each morning, George appears at Camden Central School with his master, Jere Anderson, 17. There George window - hops, to the annoyance of teachers and the delight of pupils. One teacher used George for an impromptu bird study lesson when he hopped into the room, perched on a girl's desk and played with her pencil.

When Jere's classes settle down, George flies a few blocks to an elementary school where he greets friends.

He also has visited a church and attends every football game at Davies Field.

Free to fly away, George prefers to stay near the Anderson home where he gets pablum spoon fed and has a comfortable perch in the cellar for stormy weather.

Autos Collide On Route 45

Moderate damage resulted to two autos in a collision on Route 45 about two miles north of Wellsville Thursday afternoon, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven north by Bonnie A. Cassidy, 27, of 1108 Hillcrest Rd. was struck from behind by one operated by William Poynter, 22, of Wellsville R.D. 1 at 4:05, officers said. The woman was slowing to make a turn.

Poynter, charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance, was fined $10 and costs by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine.

No one was injured in a sideswipe collision on Route 62 just north of the Mahoning County line near Salem yesterday, involving cars driven by Elijah Alexander, 54, of Salem and Donald Lautzenheiser, 39, of Kensington R.D. 1.

Officers said Alexander made a left turn as Lautzenheiser attempted to pass. Damage was moderate, the patrol said.

Nearly a third of the United States is forest land, including more than 1,000 different kinds of trees. Commercial areas include land capable of producing timber of commercial quantity and quality. Non - commercial areas include alpine, semi - desert, chaparral and other forest types of low timber productivity, although much of this is important for watershed protection.

WHEN THESE LISTS contain such words as "what" and "that", "where" and "there", never have a child who confuses words and letters practice them together. Keep these words as far apart as possible until one of them is mastered. The child can easily have trouble with them, especially if he has been memorizing whole words before knowing the letters or their sounds or their combination of sounds.

If your child is supposed to learn to identify such words in a list, don't let him see such easily confused words together. Practice with him on "what", for example, again and again, until he knows it, urging him to look carefully at the "wh" in the word.

Later, have him find this word as often as he can on several pages of his favorite book. Don't ever let him see "that", if you can, during this practice. After you are sure he is wholly familiar with "what", show him "that" and how it differs from "what".

IT MAY HELP him if you draw or cut out pictures of things beginning with the "wh" sound, as "whip", "whale" and "wheel". Print the proper words under each picture for him to look at and pronounce.

If the child confuses these words as he reads, he is merely pronouncing words and not reading for meaning. When he reads to get meaning, he will hardly confuse such words.

By all means, make sure a child his age knows the letters of the alphabet and is familiar with the basic sounds, especially the consonants and their combinations, at the beginning and end of short words.

Money Given To 4 Offices

LISBON — County Commissioners Thursday approved transfer of funds to four departments to help finance their operations for the balance of 1961.

The funds were authorized for the offices of the treasurer, sheriff, recorder and clerk of courts. Allocations for the four — along with the auditor's office — were trimmed earlier in the year in a belt-tightening move forced by declining county income.

Auditor Kenneth Bell cut two employes from his payroll when he was notified of the fund cut. The other departments kept their staffs at full strength, hoping additional funds would be available before the end of the year.

Yesterday's action provided the full amounts appropriated for all the offices except the auditor's.

The County Budget Commission, comprised of Bell, Treasurer Vincent C. Judge and Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw, will meet Monday with the commissioners to go over anticipated income for next year. That action will allow the commissioners to advise each county department how much operating revenue it will receive for 1962.

In other business, commissioners awarded a $422 contract to the Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem to supply 20,000 checks for the county support division.

The commissioners' next meeting will be Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Swedish Kringler Is Snack-Time Delicacy

The Swedes, so well known for their coffee breads, have provided the inspiration for a marvelous Swedish Kringler.

The special feature of this wonderful delicacy is cardamom, an aromatic seed from the fried fruit of a plant in the ginger family. A native of India, it adds a nippy new flavor to breads as well as puddings, cookies and fruit.

Swedish Kringler, a luscious easy-to-make batter bread, is so light and tasty that it will disappear before it cooled if you don't guard it carefully. The nuts and sugar on top give it an added sweet touch so perfect with that cup of black coffee.

¼ cup warm water (not hot—110 or 115,
1 pkg. active dry yeast
1¼ cups milk, scalded then cooled
¾ cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
½ cup melted butter
1 egg, beaten
12 cardamon seeds, crushed (or ½ tsp. powdered)
4½ to 4¾ cups unsifted bread flour

To measure flour, dip nested dry measuring cups into flour, level off with straight - edged spatula.

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Stir in milk, sugar, salt, butter, egg and cardamon. Add about half the flour and beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour. Dough will be soft and sticky. Cover and let rise in warm place (85') until double, 1½ to 1¾ hours. (If kitchen is cool, place dough on a rack over bowl of hot water and cover completely with a towel.)

Punch down, let rise about 1 hour. Turn onto lightly floured board. If necessary work in a little more flour to make easy to handle. Divide dough into 16 pieces. Form each piece of dough on lightly floured board into a roll 14". Cross ends and tuck under the opposite side like a pretzel. Place close together in lightly greased oblong pan, 13x9½x2". Heat oven to 375' (quick mod.) Let rise in warm place about 30 minutes. Brush with 1 beaten egg; sprinkle generously with ½ cup finely-chopped walnuts and ¼ cup sugar. Bake 35 to 45 minutes, or until nicely browned.

Autos Collide On Route 45

Moderate damage resulted to two autos in a collision on Route 45 about two miles north of Wellsville Thursday afternoon, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven north by Bonnie A. Cassidy, 27, of 1108 Hillcrest Rd. was struck from behind by one operated by William Poynter, 22, of Wellsville R.D. 1 at 4:05, officers said. The woman was slowing to make a turn.

Poynter, charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance, was fined $10 and costs by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine.

No one was injured in a sideswipe collision on Route 62 just north of the Mahoning County line near Salem yesterday, involving cars driven by Elijah Alexander, 54, of Salem and Donald Lautzenheiser, 39, of Kensington R.D. 1.

Officers said Alexander made a left turn as Lautzenheiser attempted to pass. Damage was moderate, the patrol said.

Nearly a third of the United States is forest land, including more than 1,000 different kinds of trees. Commercial areas include land capable of producing timber of commercial quantity and quality. Non - commercial areas include alpine, semi - desert, chaparral and other forest types of low timber productivity, although much of this is important for watershed protection.

Duke Will Assist In Wellsville Post

Donald Duke, East Liverpool water department superintendent, will serve temporarily as city chemist for Wellsville until a successor is obtained for Jesse Tarr, who has retired.

Tarr, 806 Main St., was employed as Wellsville's first city chemist in 1921. He was also a teacher at Wellsville High School from 1921 to 1952.

Tarr was honored with a surprise banquet at the Wellsville filtration plant Tuesday by the plant employes in recognition of his 40 years service.

He was presented a gift by Mayor William Shoub on behalf of his fellow workers. Also present was Charles Sackett of Steubenville, who will serve at the sewage treatment laboratory. Duke will work only part-time until a new chemist is named.

Write-In Winner Files Campaign Expense Report

George W. Morrow, named to Washingtonville village Council Nov. 7 with write-in votes, today filed a statement of campaign expenses with the County Election Board — one of the steps required to assume office Jan. 1.

Morrow filed a report explaining he had no expenses. The statement is one of the steps required before he can be issued a certificate of election by the board.

Three more area reports were filed today.

The Board of Education of the United Local School District said it spent $56 promoting a $259,000 school bond issue. The report was filed by Robert Myers, clerk.

Clarence T. Cartwrgiht, defeated Democratic candidate for Second Ward councilman at Wellsville, reported expenses of $10.

Ralph Zimmerman, a candidate for Fourth Ward councilman at Salem, reported expenses at $2.40.

Dec. 22 is the deadline for the reports, which are required of all candidates who sought office in the Nov. 7 general election — whether or not they were successful — and from all committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

Dominican's Crisis Seen As Deepening

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The government crisis deepened in this strife-torn country today with the major political opposition group openly defying a military summons to end a four-day general strike.

Headquarters of the National Civic Union said sentiment throughout the country was for continuing the strike.

A few shops did reopen in Santo Domingo. Traffic was half normal.

The party decided to continue the strike after rejecting a military proposal to keep President Joaquin Balaguer in office as head of a seven-man ruling junta. The armed forces would have virtually complete power under the proposal.

Balaguer earlier had declared in a radio address that his present government would stay in office unless the opposition accepted the military proposal.

The Civic Union also appealed to strikers who have virtually paralyzed the country with anti-Balaguer work stoppages to "suspend the strike and abstain from all activity that could serve as a pretext for acts of violence." But a few hours later Civic Union President Viriato A. Fiallo told newsmen there had been heavy protests against halting the strike and he felt he could not interfere.

Heavily armed troops and screaming mobs clashed in Santo Domingo Thursday—the third and worst day so far of the general strike — and machine-gun fire killed one youth. A report from Santiago said noise bombs burned 20 women about the legs.

The antigovernment demonstrations included a march on the National Palace in response to false reports that Balaguer had resigned. Troops forced back the angry crowd with tear gas and detonation bombs.

Quiet returned to the capital at dusk as troop patrols enforced the nightly curfew.

The Civic Union, in what it called its final proposal, demanded Thursday that Balaguer step aside for a provisional governing council of five or seven members —excluding Balaguer—who would elect a chairman by simple majority.

The military plan proposed that all legislative powers be vested in the ruling junta until general elections within two years, that Congress (largely made up of members of the old Trujillo Dominican party) be dissolved and that the military budget could not be reduced below the 1962 estimate of 24 million pesos.

"The government could not be Communist," it added.

At the headquarters of the Civic Union, some members censured the United States and claimed it had backed Balaguer against the wishes of the people. Fiallo, alluding to this, declared it was "an historic error."

In Washington, the State Department expressed hope "that all men of good will in the Dominican Republic will exercise moderation and responsibility in seeking the political means by which a truly democratic future for the country can be assured."

It said that since the death of Dictator Rafael Trujillo the United States has "supported in every appropriate way a rapid transition toward democratic government. We especially welcomed and lent sympathetic encouragement to the successful resistance to the efforts by the brothers of the late dictator to reassert totalitarian domination."

Efforts by Trujillo family members to regain control of the government two weeks ago brought U.S. warships to the Caribbean waters off Santo Domingo. Since then they have patrolled just outside the three-mile limit of Dominican waters.

Arturo Morales Carrion, deputy assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs, arrived soon after the Trujillo threats were thwarted and has met with both government and opposition leaders.

Morales Carrion was reported to have visited the presidential palace Thursday, and as a result rumors circulated that the United States was backing Balaguer's bid to remain in power.

Army Enlists 10 District Men In Recruiting For November

Ten area men, including four from East Liverpool, enlisted in the Army in November, Sgt. Edward P. Vallor, Army recruiter, said today.

Two former basketball teammates at East Liverpool High School enlisted together under the Army's "Buddy" plan and will remain together for basic training.

Raymond R. Bigelow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Bigelow, 1246 Oakwood Ave., who had attended the University of Toledo, enlisted for the cryptography course at the Army's Signal School at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

His former teammate, Phillip A. Chan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Chan, 1012 Locust St., enlisted in the ordnance electronics course at the Signal School at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Victor F. Tauchar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Tauchar and husband of Mrs. Sandra Lee Tauchar, 236 W. 9th St., re-enlisted for the automotive repair course at the ordnance school at Aberdeen (Md.) Proving Grounds.

Edgar V. Hull Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar V. Hull, 711 Sophia St., selected ordnance electronics.

Raymond L. McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. McIntosh, of Wellsville R.D. 1, a June graduate of Wellsville High School, selected welding training at the Ordnance School at Aberdeen.

James R. Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon T. Howell, 931 Appian Way, Wellsville, and Bruce M. Halfhill, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Halfhill of Irondale R.D. 1, enlisted for automotive maintenance training.

George T. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Thompson of Rogers R.D. 1, enlisted for motor transportation training.

The enlistments also included Paul G. Reed and his son, Richard L. Reed, husband and son of Mrs. Shirley Reed of Chester.

Sgt. Vallor said the new enlistees were sent to Ft. Knox, Ky., with the exception of Tauchar, who was assigned to Ft. Dix, N. J.

New Jersey Boy Has Pet To Crow About

CAMDEN, N. Y. (AP) — Almost everywhere there is a crowd, there is George, a pet crow.

Each morning, George appears at Camden Central School with his master, Jere Anderson, 17. There George window - hops, to the annoyance of teachers and the delight of pupils. One teacher used George for an impromptu bird study lesson when he hopped into the room, perched on a girl's desk and played with her pencil.

When Jere's classes settle down, George flies a few blocks to an elementary school where he greets friends.

He also has visited a church and attends every football game at Davies Field.

Free to fly away, George prefers to stay near the Anderson home where he gets pablum spoon fed and has a comfortable perch in the cellar for stormy weather.

DO YOU KNOW?

What's the latest on this 3 bedroom 1 story home on Densmore Ave., with custom kitchen including range, wall oven, disposal, and power mixer, carpets and drapes in all rooms, tiled bath, attached double garage, gas furnace, and 75 x 176 lot for $17,350.00?

What more does the house at 3180 Broadview Circle offer besides the new carpets, air conditioning and the 2 large bedrooms?

Is there really a house with 3 large bedrooms, good gas furnace, and double garage at 1507 Globe St. for sale at only $11,500.00?

Does this 1½ story home on Sprucevale Road with 4 bedrooms, large living and dining rooms, bath, and coal furnace really have 44 acres of land and a ¾ Acre Lake stocked with fish?

DO YOU KNOW?

What's the latest on this 3 bedroom 1 story home on Densmore Ave., with custom kitchen including range, wall oven, disposal, and power mixer, carpets and drapes in all rooms, tiled bath, attached double garage, gas furnace, and 75 x 176 lot for $17,350.00?

What more does the house at 3180 Broadview Circle offer besides the new carpets, air conditioning and the 2 large bedrooms?

Is there really a house with 3 large bedrooms, good gas furnace, and double garage at 1507 Globe St. for sale at only $11,500.00?

Does this 1½ story home on Sprucevale Road with 4 bedrooms, large living and dining rooms, bath, and coal furnace really have 44 acres of land and a ¾ Acre Lake stocked with fish?

"She didn't have a previous engagement, but she made one when I told her you were here!"

OFF THE RECORD

"Could I take shorter lunch periods and retire a few years earlier?"

GRIN AND BEAR IT

"... Of course we plan to show the customary 12 months! ... EVERYONE looks to this industry for assurance, that our planet will pull through! ..."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I repair chipped places on porcelain or enameled sinks and stoves?

A. Try making your own patching compound by buying at an artists' supply store some paint that's used on chinaware. It comes in powdered form. Also, buy the liquid they sell for putting a glaze over what is painted. Mix the powder with the liquid to a thick paste of putty-like consistency, smear into the chipped places, smooth out, and the job should be finished.

Q. How can I clean plaster-of-paris statuary?

A. Mix up a wet, gooey paste of starch and water, and smear this over all parts of the surface until the whole thing looks like such a mess you wish you hadn't. Then, after waiting until the paste has dried completely, brush it off.

Q. How can I remove some crayon or pencil marks from enameled surfaces?

A. These will usually yield readily to a few drops of detergent on a soft cloth.

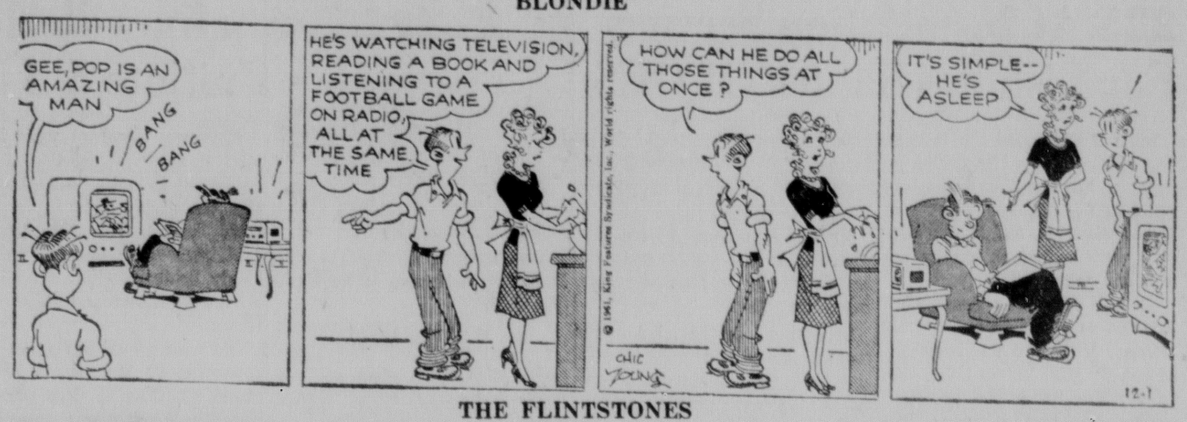

Q. Please give me a suggestion for an attractive Christmas table centerpiece or mantel decoration.

A. Light a candle inside a four-sided kitchen grater. The holes in the grater look like hundreds of tiny stars when illuminated from within. Stand this "lantern" on a plate of Christmas greens, and top it with a red bow.

Q. How can I prevent pipe condensation in my basement?

A. By wrapping three thicknesses of one-sided corrugated cardboard around the entire pipe, taping the edges to hold them in place. This carboard may be painted, too, if you wish.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Beers were inducted as associate matron and patron; Mrs. Edna Marshall, treasurer; Mrs. Velma Cope, secretary; Mrs. Zana Wise, associate conductress; Mrs. Kathlene Tritten, warder; Arthur Tritten, sentinel; Joseph Dornon, chaplain; William Reese, marshal, and Mrs. Jeanette Richardson, organist.

Those taking the star points are Adah, Mrs. Jean Hanna; Ruth, Mrs. Lydia Fife; Esther, Mrs. Janet Mollenkopf; Martha, Shirley Reese, and Electa, Marjorie Dixon.

Palestine Man Serves

The installing officer was Dale Wolfgang of the East Palestine chapter, brother of Mrs. Lipp.

Mrs. Dornon, retiring worthy matron, opened the meeting. Guests introduced were Mrs. Doris Preston of Leesville, past deputy grand matron; Mrs. Mary Ward of Kent, deputy of District 2, and Mrs. Marjorie Starkey of Hanoverton, District 13.

Grand representatives present were District of Columbia, Mrs. Mary Anna Cotter from Leesville chapter, and Texas, Miss Evelyn Elsass of Minerva.

Worthy matrons and patrons were present from Alliance, Canton, Minerva, Sebring, Hanoverton, Leesville, Leetonia, East Palestine, Canal Fulton, Homeworth, Salem, Columbiana, Louisville, Carrollton and Augusta.

Eighteen past matrons and six past patrons of Iva Chapter and 14 matrons - elect and seven patrons-elect were also given recognition.

Honored Mason

Gerald Pim, commander of Alliance Commandery Knights Templar was the honored Mason present and past grand appointees were introduced.

Mr. and Mrs. Dornon were presented their past matron and past patron jewels by Mrs. Gertrude Lewis, her sister.

Decorations in the chapter room, designed and made by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Marshall, consisted of a large plaque hanging at the back of the stage with the worthy matron's favorite quotation.

At the base of the stage, a rustic sign with the numerals 1962 was set against a background of evergreens.

A basket filled with evergreens and fruit and trimmed with a bow of rose taffeta was used at the other end of the room.

A reception followed in the diningroom where the tea table was laid in white satin with white net overlay and bands of pink edging.

Brass Plaque Used

The centerpiece was a brass plaque laden with golden fruit flanked at either side by three-branch brass candelabras.

Mrs. Sara Rose, Mrs. Mildred Rudibaugh, Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong and Mrs. Mary Schnader served at the tea table.

Mrs. Helen Adams was responsible for the diningroom decorations and Mrs. John Halverstadt headed the committee in charge of refreshments.

A parish dinner was held at the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church Wednesday evening, followed by prayer service and an old-fashioned hymn sing.

The Rev. T.G.S. Whitney officiated, assisted by Mrs. Charles Irish of Salem, lay reader for the Lisbon parish.

Mr. Irish and family were guests at the dinner as was Mrs. Edith Hartle of Fulton, N. Y., who is visiting her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Armitage.

Women Assist

Mrs. Frank Adomitis was chairman, assisted by women of the church.

The theme was "Go Ye Into All the World," reflected in table decorations.

Large globes of the world centered the tables and each was encircled with bands of silver letters of the theme. Small figurines representing peoples of the world lined the tables. Some 60 attended.

The Sorosis Club met Wednesday night with Mrs. Fred Steele of N. Market St.

Mrs. R. Dale Miller and Mrs. G. A. Graebing were in charge of the program. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Next meeting is Dec. 13 with Miss Helen Ramsey of W. Lincoln Way.

Amie-Eight Meets

Guests were Mrs. John Chillik and Miss Winnie Kelly.

Next meeting is Dec. 13 with Miss Gladys Loudon of W. Washington St.

50 Prizes Given

Club 45 members were entertained Wednesday night by Mrs. Dean Stockman of N. Market St. for 500.

Prizes were won by Mrs. William Kelly and Mrs. Mike Pastore. Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Alton Crothers were guests. Mrs. Stockman served lunch. The club will go out for dinner for a Christmas party and gift exchange Dec. 2.

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. George's Catholic Church will hold a Christmas party Monday evening at 8:30 at the Parish Hall. There will be a $1 gift exchange and all women of the parish are invited.

Mrs. William Thompson, president, announced that a rehearsal of the children in the Christmas Program will be held tonight following Mass.

All 3 Rocket Motors Of Nike Zeus Fired

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP)—The Army successfully fired for the first time Thursday all three rocket motors of the Nike Zeus anti-missile missile.

The relatively small third stage reaction motor ignited as planned. The smaller motor serves two functions—maneuvering the warhead of the missile and propulsion.

The Zeus' main propulsion system—solid fuel booster and sustainer rocket motors—has been successfully fired many times.

Salineville Job's Daughters Initiate 5 As New Members

Five new members were initiated at a special meeting of the Salineville Bethel of Job's Daughters Wednesday night in the Masonic Temple. Over 100 attended.

Initiates are Bonnie Tolson, Trudy Brothers, Gilda Carter, Jane McKarns and Carol McKarns.

The semi annual inspection was conducted by Mrs. Helen Wertz, grand guardian of Ohio. Jeanne Earl, honored queen, presided. Mrs. Wertz gave the order a grade of average plus.

Guests were Sheldon Lester, grand associate guardian of Ohio; Mrs. Grace Bennett, grand secretary; Mrs. Agnes Bryant, grand guide; John Hall, grand outer guard; Miss Grace Todd, guardian of Bethel 48 of Lisbon and deputy of the Salineville Bethel.

Other guests were present from Cincinnati, Cardington, Canton, Youngstown, Lisbon and East Liverpool.

Following the initiation ceremony, Mrs. Wertz, Mrs. Bryant and Hall presented the charter. As the names of the charter members were read, they stood and were escorted to the West.

Mrs. Wertz then presented the charter to the honored queen, and Esther Wilson, guardian.

Officers will be elected Wednesday.

Obligation Night and second nomination of officers highlighted a meeting of Cable Rebekah Lodge Tuesday at the IOOF building.

Mrs. Hazel Hart, noble grand, presided. Plans were made to honor past noble grands at the next meeting Dec. 12. "Peanut Sisters" will be revealed, and those without are to participate in a gift exchange.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Helen Starkey, Mrs. Margaret Enight and Mrs. Hart. Mrs. Ruth Carter and Mrs. Crete Newhouse were in charge of games. The lunch committee for the session Dec. 12 will include Mrs. Bea Hazlett, Mrs. Maude Fidoe and Mrs. Maude Haverfield.

A public spaghetti supper will be sponsored Saturday starting at 4 p. m. at the American Legion home by the post auxiliary. Mrs. Helen Thompson, president, said proceeds will be used to pack Christmas baskets for needy families in the area.

The annual Christmas concert of the Salineville High School band, directed by Charles Temple, and the training band led by Oscar Gartrell, will be held Dec. 14.

Russians' Lead Seen On Shooting Down Satellites

RUSTON, La. (AP)—A former German army guided missile expert says the "Russians will be able to intercept and shoot down our satellites within a few years, but we will not be able to shoot down theirs."

Dr. Walter Dornberger, former major general and commissioner for the German reich for all guided missiles, addressed the aerospace education symposium at Louisiana Tech Thursday night. He said he based his predictions on the Soviet rate of development as opposed to the American rate.

Dornberger, vice president and chief scientist for Bell Aerospace System Co., said the Soviet satellite program is advancing more rapidly than that of the United States.

Adventists Plan Fund Campaign

Members of the Seventh - day Adventist Church will launch a fund solicitation Saturday in connection with the 58th annual World Missions appeal of the denomination. The local goal is $1,240.38. The canvassers will be accompanied by Christmas carolers.

Leading the volunteer workers in the four - week citywide canvass of homes is Mrs. Norma Craven, church missions director.

Funds will go toward extending welfare, disaster aid and educational services at home as well as a widespread medical, welfare, and educational ministry in 194 countries.

On a world basis, volunteer Adventist workers in 1960 gave 6,930,464 hours in welfare services to 6,899,332 persons. More than $1,535,334 in cash, some 6,496,913 articles of clothing and 4,105,104 food baskets were contributed. Approximately 50 per cent of the aid was given in North America.

Adventist members contributed more than $90,474,000 last year toward the support of their world church program, in addition to welfare activities, the congregation said.

Of the coastal states, New Hampshire, with only 18 miles, has the shortest coastline.
